

#

Publishing online
since 2013, offline
& Tor since 2017.

Stormer

The most censored publication in history

#

In print because the (((internet)))
is censorship!

Vol. 95

Daily Stormer † Sunday Edition

09–16 Jun 2019

What is the Stormer?

Daily Stormer is the largest news publication focused on racism and anti-Semitism in human history. We are significantly larger by readership than many of the top 50 newspapers of the United States. The Tampa Tribune, Columbus Dispatch, Oklahoman, Virginian-Pilot, and Arkansas Democrat-Gazette are all smaller than this publication by current readership. All of these have dozens to hundreds of employees and buildings of their own. All of their employees make more than anyone at the Daily Stormer. We manage to deliver impact greater than anyone in this niche on a budget so small you wouldn't believe.

Despite censorship on a historically unique scale, and The Daily Stormer becoming the most censored publication in history, we continue to fight and publish on a daily basis, to a readership unparalleled by anyone else that has ever named the Jew in our lifetimes.

Stormer is the offline version of the Daily Stormer website.

It was launched in the Autumn of 2017 when the censorship shutdowns started. As the various domain names were seized, the main site would be unreachable for several days. The staff decided that some sort of non-website distribution channel was needed. The result is the Stormer. A weekly PDF (.pdf) and e-book (.epub) compilation of the articles posted on the main site in the last seven days.

How to get the Daily Stormer

Daily Stormer is available both on the "clearweb" (the normal internet you use everyday) and also on the "darkweb" which requires a different browser to access.

The main clearweb site is currently:

- dailystormer.name

This address may change without notice due to the ongoing censorship tactics of the Jews.

The permanent darkweb site is:

- dstormer6em3i4km.onion

To access the darkweb, download either the Tor Browser Bundle (www.torproject.org/download/), or the Brave browser (brave.com/download/). The Tor browser uses the darkweb by default, so entering the above .onion address in the location bar will get you going. In Brave, choose the "New private window with Tor" option from the menu at the top right, then enter the above .onion address. In either case, you'll be taken to the Daily Stormer site.

No matter which browser you choose, please continue to use it to visit the sites you normally do. By blocking ads and trackers your everyday browsing experience will be better and you will be denying income to the various corporate entities that have participated in the censorship campaign against the Daily Stormer.

Also, by using the Tor-based browsers, you'll prevent anyone from the government to antifa from using your browsing habits to persecute you. This will become increasingly relevant in the years to come.

How to support the Daily Stormer

The Daily Stormer is 100% reader-supported. We do what we do because we are attempting to preserve Western Civilization. We do it out of love.

Because the site is not monetized with advertisements, we require contributions from readers to pay the expenses involved. Infrastructure to serve the kind of traffic we get, having to deal with censorship issues, and meals for our staff all cost money.

Due to activities of actual terrorists, traditional means of collecting donations are unavailable. PayPal (and other money transfer service known to man) has banned this site and its staff from using their services. So...

Bitcoin (or other Cryptocurrency) is the Only Way to Donate

The cryptocurrency addresses and scannable QR codes can be found on the next page.

If you don't currently use Bitcoin: You should find a Bitcoin exchange that does business with your country, buy Bitcoin there, withdraw it to your own wallet and then send it from your wallet to the Stormer's address. There might even be Bitcoin ATMs in your area, a quick search will find them. (If this sounds difficult, find a friend or a nephew or ask your kids or grandkids that are nerds how to do this.)

Samizdat!

Samizdat originates from the era of Soviet dissidents, who would have to manually copy anti-Communist literature by hand. In this era of digital computing and a global internet, your job is not quite as hard as writing every word down.

It's very simple: download this weekly edition, archive it on your local storage, reupload it to a different location than you found it, and share it from there. Four simple steps to helping preserve our work for the future!

Encourage others to do the same.

Sections

Featured Stories	1
World News	31
United States	61
Jewish Problem	91
Race War	99
Society	111
Insight	121

Daily Stormer's Bitcoin address:

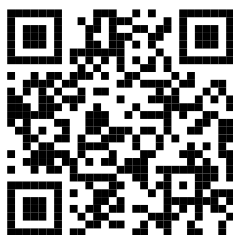

19m9yEChBSPuzCzEMmg1dNbPvdLdWA59rS

Daily Stormer's Monero address:

4BHE9T5HUqbRzsAaq5grGq31G3JevBD1RB
NbRdWQLg8ESYugNNyyAnt2JL9ZuWA1w72g
4LP25rSHjQJS6MwANT3MMJFA16

Sunday Edition Bitcoin address:

1NsNmzzXtqiZ4YStnYWaEgCauWBGBs2iqB

Please do not ask about other ways to donate. There are no other ways to donate. If you don't have time to do crypto (or to get someone to help you), then you cannot support this site/publication. That is simply the situation.

Featured Stories

Trump's Iran Hoax: This is Literally the Sloppiest, Goofiest, Contemptible False Flag in All of History

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

The details are finally coming together regarding the Trump Administration's hoax bombing of a Japanese ship in the Gulf of Oman on Thursday.

The event took place while the Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was in Iran for meetings to defuse tensions and possibly reopen trade between the two countries.

He was literally sitting in a meeting with the Iranian Supreme Leader when the Japanese boat was attacked.

The Trump Administration's explanation for why the Iranians would do this is basically "well, they're just fucking insane or whatever, I don't know—look at them, they're weird, they wear weird clothing, who knows what's going on with these people."

That explanation isn't good enough for the Japanese, who are basically calling this a hoax. In fact, I don't think it's a good enough explanation for anyone other than the lowest tier retarded boomer American. This stupidest hoax ever is literally the global poker face meme.

Part of the problem that these hoaxers are going to face is that President Donald J. Trump is already extremely unpopular globally. He's considered an evil racist orange individual.

So the idea he would do something like hoax a ship attack in order to start a war isn't hard to believe.

This thing is coming apart in real time. And once it's shown that the US is lying, and that the Israel-dominated Trump Administration is the only one who would have wanted this to happen, people are going to be like "wait, hold on—did you bomb this Japanese ship? The fuck is wrong with you people?"

Al-Jazeera has an article up by Maysam Behravesh, an Iranian analyst who is getting a PhD in Sweden, that goes through a lot of these details:

Thursday's incidents, which caused damage to the Norwegian-owned Front Altair and Japanese-owned Kokuka Courageous, came just a month after the United Arab Emirates (UAE) reported "sabotage attacks" against four other commercial ships off the coast of its Fujairah emirate.

The US, which has been building up its military presence in the region, has blamed Iran for both events.

Hours after the latest incidents were reported, the US military released a grainy video that it said showed members of Iran's Revolutionary Guards Corps (IRGC) trying to remove an unexploded mine from the Kokuka Courageous.

This video could well be completely fake.

Video Link

Nothing about this makes sense. Even if it was a mine that did the damage—and it wasn't—why would they come back to the scene of the crime?

More pressingly: if the US is filming this, why didn't they follow the ship?

How is this evidence of anything at all?

Tehran has denied the US accusations, saying the latest claims are both "ridiculous" and "dangerous".

Mohammad Javad Zarif, Iran's foreign minister, also called the timing of the reported attacks “suspicious”, given that a Japanese-owned ship was damaged while Japan’s Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was on a visit to Tehran, seeking to defuse US-Iran frictions.

As calls grew for an international inquiry, the owner of the Kokuka Courageous cast doubt on the US narrative, saying the vessel’s crew saw a “flying object” before it was rocked by a second blast.

“I do not think there was a time bomb or an object attached to the side of the ship,” Yutaka Katada said on Friday.

It would be really, really hard to try to paint Japan as some kind of bad actor on the world stage. But the US is now in a position where they have to accuse them of lying. They also have to claim that a mine can blow a hole in the side of a ship—way above the water line.

This photo is the only evidence we’re being given, other than the weird video:

So I mean—okay, guy.

I’m a lot more likely to trust the Japanese analysis, because the Japanese don’t have any dog in this fight. The Japanese haven’t been pushing for a war with Iran for decades on end.

And the Japanese are basically saying “Mike Pompeo is as fat as he is because his entire massive bulb-like form is filled with shit.”

Including those bratwurstlike fingers—they’re like small balloons, filled up with shit.

Al-Jazeera even found a Jew saying this is bullshit.

“Tehran has the capability to commit such attacks and has threatened to interfere with shipping in the Gulf while it is also in a state of desperation due to the tight sanctions and international isolation,” said Max Abrahms, professor of political science at Northeastern University in the US.

...

But with Iran still appealing to the remaining signatories to deliver on its promised economic benefits, Abrahms said it was not in Tehran’s interests to disrupt trade in the Gulf.

“The question arises as to why Tehran would commit such an attack because it only harms Iran on the world stage and helps its enemies, while scepticism is also warranted due to the unreliability of [US] intelligence,” he said, referring to the faulty intelligence Washington used to justify its invasion of Iraq in 2003.

And again: the US claims that they did it “because they’re insane.”

“They want to prop up our narrative, isolate themselves, and help us justify an invasion of their country because they’re just fucking nuts! Look at their weird clothes! Check the beards! They’re strange crazy people!”

“They’re like comic book villains! And not even the modern comic book villains that are written for adults where they have to have motivations—children’s comic book villains from the 1960s, when their only motivation was to purposefully do evil!”

This is literally the worst false flag in all of history.

And the Iranians are saying as much.

“It could not be Iran’s job or even that of certain elements within the Iranian state,” said Hamidreza Azizi, professor of international relations at Shahid Beheshti University in Tehran.

“Consider the coincidence of these attacks with Abe’s landmark trip to Tehran, the presence of Russian crew on Norwegian-owned Front Altair, the proximity of the incident site to Iran’s territorial waters, and finally the Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei’s emphasis that “resistance” does not mean military action, and you will realise Tehran is not the culprit,” he said.

“It sounds like a provocative false-flag operation staged by Iran’s regional nemeses so they could play the victim and portray Tehran as the chief devil in the room even as they are trying to torpedo any chance of negotiations between Tehran and Washington and dragging Iran into a conflict they crave for but cannot win alone,” Azizi added.

Yeah, “devil” is an okay comparison. Not really though.

Because remember that the devil had a coherent character motivation—he was cast out of Heaven by Saint Michael, so he wanted to corrupt God’s creation as revenge for having lost his status as the bringer of the dawn.

By tempting mankind into doing evil, the devil is accomplishing a revenge-oriented goal. He is not “evil for the sake of evil.” Nor is he putting himself in point-less danger with his behavior.

The Al-Jazeera piece closes with a quote from an affiliate of the Iranian Revolutionary Guard.

Regardless of who was behind Thursday’s incidents, insecurity in the Gulf is likely to persist “until the US and its allies change their aggressive behaviour towards Iran and let off steam”, said an IRGC-affiliated intelligence analyst.

Speaking to Al Jazeera on the condition of anonymity, the analyst said some in Tehran believe a large-scale confrontation in the Gulf is unlikely because such a conflict would also have severe consequences for the US and its regional allies.

“If these escalations lead to military confrontation between Iran and the US by any chance, Tehran’s response will not be limited to the US, but will definitely involve its allies in the neighbourhood; they will see the end of their rule,” the analyst explained.

“They might be hoping for a limited conflict, but that’s not how things will turn out in the case of Iran. It will be an all-out war but let’s not forget that it was the US that started this spiral.”

And this is truth.

If these people start a war with Iran, we are looking at a TOTAL WAR situation. The Iranian people are already rallied around the flag. And any hope of fomenting some kind of internal color revolution—which seemed to be Trump’s initial strategy—is now gone, and the only option left on the table is war.

Or just fucking off and acting like normal people.

But can you imagine a man this fat.

A man with this pedoface.

And a man this orange.

Acting like normal people?

Because I cannot.

I mean, seriously—look at those men’s faces. Do you think you can trust them?

We’re basically looking at the biggest war since WWII.

There will have to be a draft.

Tens of thousands of Americans will die.

Russia and China will be involved.

The entire world will spiral out of control.

I’m just gonna come right out and say it:

Basically, it’s the Biblical End Times.

All we can do is pray that God Himself will stop the satanic madman Donald Trump and his cadre of Jews and fat people.

2012: IMF and World Bank Economist Says You Have to False Flag Iran to Start a War

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Video Link

In 2012, at a meeting for the neocon thinktank The Washington Institute, a former IMF and current World Bank banker named Patrick Clawson presented some interesting theories about how to start a war with Iran.

Basically, he laid out a path for causing a false flag incident or purposefully provoking Iran into attacking us, listing off a number of historical examples of this going all the way back to Abraham Lincoln provoking the 1861 attack on Fort Sumter in order to start the Civil War.

He said:

I frankly think that crisis initiation is really tough and it's very hard for me to see how the United States president can get us to war with Iran which leads me to conclude that if in fact compromise is not coming that the traditional way of America gets to war is what would be best for US interests.

Some people might think that Mr. Roosevelt wanted to get us in to the World War Two as David mentioned. You may recall we had to wait for Pearl Harbor.

Some people might think Mr. Wilson wanted to get us into World War One. You may recall he had to wait for the Lusitania episode

Some people might think that Mr. Johnson wanted to send troops to Vietnam. You may recall they had to wait for the Gulf of Tonkin episode.

We didn't go to war with Spain until the USS Maine exploded, and may I point out that Mr. Lincoln did not feel he could call off the federal army until Fort Sumter was attacked which is why he ordered the commander at Fort Sumter to do exactly that thing which the South Carolinians had said would cause an attack.

So if in fact the Iranians aren't going to compromise it would be best if somebody else started the war...

But I would just like to suggest that one can combine other means of pressure with sanctions. I mentioned that explosion on August 17th. We could step up the pressure. I mean look people, Iranian submarines periodically go down—someday one of them might not come up.

Who would know why?

We can do a variety of things if we wish to increase the pressure. I'm not advocating that but I'm just suggesting that a it's...this is not an either-or proposition of, you know, it's just sanctions has to succeed or other things.

We are in the game of using covert means against the Iranians. We could get nastier than that.

What this individual is describing is quite clearly exactly what happened on Thursday.

It is a staged incident, designed to start a war.

The straight-forward, mafia style of speech is shocking. Or it should be shocking. In fact, it isn't really shocking and it's exactly what you expect from these people.

Just understand: they've been planning this for a long time.

Barack Obama, for all his faults, wouldn't go along with it and did the Iran Deal. Donald Trump appears to have absolutely no idea what the hell is going on, and has allowed these disgusting freaks like Mike Pompeo and John Bolton to come in and commandeer his administration, presumably on the advice of his son-in-law Jared Kushner.

Trump might not even know this attack on the Japanese ship is a hoax. That is certainly entirely possible. He appears to have zero idea what the hell is going on. And his administration is filled with the absolute most cancerous people on earth. He doesn't know how to use the internet. All of these CIA and other intelligence figures are going to lie to him.

Where would he even get correct information?

Maybe an Uber Eats driver could slip him a note or something.

But then—what does he think of the Japanese denying that this is what Pompeo is saying it is? Does he think the Japs are secret terrorist sympathizers?

I don't know, man.

Assuming that the president is utterly senile and has literally no idea what is going on is somewhat of a pointless exercise. Maybe it partially removes culpability from him as a person, but who cares? What is happening is happening, whatever is going on with him, and what is happening is that we are currently marching into a massive, earth-shaking war based on what must be the stupidest hoax I've ever seen in my life.

Or who knows.

Maybe Trump won't do it.

Maybe he's just out there doing a song and dance, and he'll pull back.

I know that I wouldn't want to go down in history as the man who “ruined the earth completely because Jews told him to.”

Brazil: Lesbian Couple Cut Off 9-Year-Old Son's Penis, Remove All Skin From His Face, Behead Him

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Rosana Candido (left) and Kacyla Pessoa (right)

Brown females also have that jungle demon thing inside of them.

The Sun:

A MUM and her lesbian lover tore off her nine-year-old son's penis before beheading him because he reminded her of her dad.

Mum Rosana Cândido, 27, and Kacyla Pessoa, 28, of Brazil, stabbed the boy over a dozen times and removed all the skin from his face before butchering his body.

The pair were said to have even used a knife to try to gouge out the boy's eyeballs to prevent possible recognition.

They bodged a bid to burn some of him on a barbecue so stuffed his remains in a suitcase dumped in a sewer, police said.

Other parts were found in two backpacks at their home in Brazil.

...

In a gory twist, they are also accused of tearing off Cândido's son Rhuan's penis a year ago during horrifying home-made surgery.

...

Local reports say: “After removing his penis, the women said they sewed an improvised version of the female organ onto the mutilated area.”

Cândido reportedly claimed the lad was a “burden” and a hindrance to her relationship with Pessoa.

She also “felt hatred and no love” for him because he reminded her of father, who allegedly abused her.

Rhuan's dad, who lives in Acre, is said to have told officers that Cândido run away with the boy five years ago when he lost custody

I recently wrote about how browns love to abuse innocent beings under their care. This is a more extreme example of that.

See, it doesn't matter if they're male or female, young or old. They all have this perverse torture-murder programming inside.

We've known this since we've known about them.

But for some reason the Jews were able to successful brainwash our people into thinking these are human beings just like us. The “noble savage,” the wise brown in tune with nature and many other types of stock characters used throughout these artificial cultural works have all merged together and managed to make people disbelieve their eyes and embrace a romanticized image of these monsters.

Whites, on the other hand, managed to build civilization out of the wilderness. Isn't the ability to use and transmute nature evidence of us being in harmony with nature? We're the only ones that care about the planet, but we're told that we're some kind of virus eating away at the world and that these creatures are some kind of wise post-nirvana humans that are one with nature.

Have you seen the filth they live in?

This idealization of browns is a useful tool for white genocide. If Americans knew what these beasts are really up to, there'd be a much stronger opposition to the idea of flooding the United States with them.

What these lesbians did to that kid is no different than what browns do to themselves in general. Cartel killings are an example of that.

It's gruesome beyond imagination.

This is not something that you can take out of them by giving them stuff and letting them live among whites.

Importing brown people also means importing what brown people do.

It means importing hell.

Arkansas: Woman Who Introduced Anti-Tranny Bathroom Bill Found Dead, Female Acquaintance Arrested

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

This is quite possibly political violence.

The tranny issue is the most politically charged issue of the current year, and when an anti-tranny politician gets killed, you'd think that the immediate question would be “is this political?”

But of course, that isn't the immediate question. Or a question at all.

NBC News:

An Arkansas woman was arrested in connection to the death of former state Sen. Linda Collins-Smith, who was found dead outside her home last week.

Rebecca Lynn O'Donnell, 48, was taken into custody on Friday, Arkansas State Police said. Criminal charges are pending.

Ken Yang, Collins-Smith's former press secretary, told NBC News that O'Donnell and Collins-Smith were friends and worked together last year. The ex-senator's family said in a statement it is “sickened” over the arrest.

...

State police and the sheriff's office were called to Collins-Smith's home in the city of Pocahontas around 5:45 p.m. on June 4 after human remains, later identified as those of the former state senator, were found outside. A cause of death has not been revealed.

Yang previously told NBC that neighbors heard gunshots a couple of days before Collins-Smith's body was found.

Collins-Smith, 57, was elected to the Arkansas House as a Democrat in 2010, and shortly after being elected, switched to the Republican party. She served one term in the House, and in 2014 was elected to the state Senate, where she served two terms. She lost her re-election bid in 2018.

In 2017, she introduced a controversial transgender “bathroom bill” to the Arkansas Senate that would have required people to use the bathrooms that correspond to their assigned sex.

That little fact is just dropped in there at the end of the article.

You may remember that this was a very big deal at the time.

NBC News, March 16, 2017:

“No child should have to worry that their school might change its policy to force them to shower or undress in front of a member of the opposite sex as has been the case around the country,” Republican Sen. Linda Collins-Smith, who introduced the legislation, said in a statement.

The killer isn’t a tranny.

Here’s a picture of the two together.

But Collins-Smith switched from being a Democrat to being a Republican, presumably over the homosexual issue. And she was the focus of worldwide media attention during the tranny bathroom crisis of 2017.

So her getting murdered is kind of a very suspicious event, which should be analyzed.

But no.

Don’t expect there to be any analysis.

They will just say this woman was angry or insane or whatever. Then that will be that.

Study: Fast Food Can Cause Irreversible Dementia

Pomidor Quixote

Daily Stormer

June 16, 2019

This study provides another piece of the Trumpshner puzzle.

Daily Mail:

Eating fast food can cause irreversible dementia, a study warns.

The research found the average person is eating an extra 650 calories a day compared to 1970s, which is the equivalent of a burger, soft drink and fries.

Australian National University’s professor Nicolas Cherbuin and his team found strong evidence linking unhealthy eating habits and little-to-no physical activity to a decline in brain function, such as dementia and brain shrinkage.

‘People are eating away at their brain with a really bad fast-food diet and little-to-no exercise,’ says professor Cherbuin.

‘Many people who have dementia and other signs of cognitive dysfunction, including shrinking brains, have increased their risk throughout life by eating too much bad food and not exercising enough,’ he said.

Professor Cherbuin explained the best chance of preventing brain problems in the future, such as dementia and brain shrinkage, is to eat well and keep active from a young age.

He said: ‘The damage done is pretty much irreversible once a person reaches midlife, so we urge everyone to eat healthy and get in shape as early as possible — preferably in childhood but certainly by early adulthood.

Professor Cherbuin said their research not only links type 2 diabetes and the rapid deterioration of brain function, but also shows a clear association between brain deterioration and unhealthy lifestyle choices.

Trump is doing pretty much everything Professor Cherbuin says increases the likelihood of irreversible dementia.

Daily Express, December 11, 2017:

As a billionaire with a personal chef at his disposal you’d expect Trump to be more discerning when it comes to mealtimes. Yet his penchant for devouring copious amounts of junk food is well documented.

During the presidential campaign last year he tweeted a photograph of himself tucking into a bucket of Kentucky Fried Chicken on board his personal Boeing 757 jet. Another showed him indulging in a McDonald’s burger to celebrate winning the Republican presidential nomination and he was pictured wolfing down a gargantuan pork chop on the campaign trail in Iowa.

In 2015 his daughter Ivanka voiced concern over her father’s diet, saying: “I wish he would eat healthier and maybe slow down. Sometimes I tell him, ‘Oh, you have to, you know, slow down.’ But it’s the only speed he knows.”

...

“If true this is a terrible diet,” Dr Harcombe says. “Twelve cans of Diet Coke contain far more than an adult’s daily recommended dose of caffeine. Consuming too much of it induces energy highs followed by crashing lows and potentially manic behaviour, which could explain his enraged tweets.

...

Fitness appears to have no place in Trump’s administration. In a forthcoming memoir by former campaign manager Corey Lewandowski and aide David Bossie they reveal his appetite “seems to know no bounds when it comes to McDonald’s, with dinner consisting of two Big Macs, two Filet-O-Fish and a chocolate malt”.

That’s a staggering 2,400 calories in one meal. The NHS recommends that men consume no more than 2,500 calories per day. Lewandowski and Bossie also say: “On Trump Force One there were four major food groups, McDonald’s, Kentucky Fried Chicken, pizza and Diet Coke.” Leading nutritionist May Simpkin believes it is Trump’s obsession with the fizzy drink that underpins all his poor dietary choices.

One can contains 42mg of caffeine, meaning Trump drinks a staggering 504mgs of caffeine a day, 104mgs more than the recommended intake for adults. “There’s a lot of evidence to suggest that the brain reacts in exactly the same way when it registers sweetness as it does when sugar has been consumed,” Simpkin explains.

It all makes a little more sense now. Donald Trump has developed a tolerance for fast food and needs to continually increase his dosage to experience the same feel-good effect from eating it.

The serpent whispers “eat a burger.”

This is another reason why you should get your diet in order.

Don’t become Trump.

It’s not just about your brain.

Daily Mail:

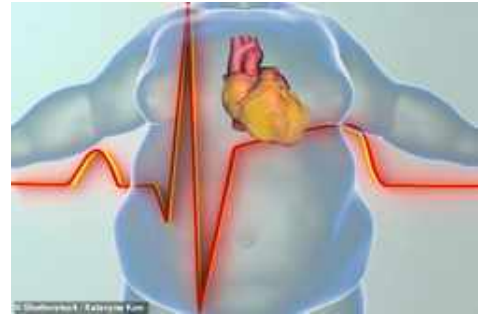

After decades of research showing the impossibly close link between obesity and heart problems, a Swedish study has finally proven what we’ve long suspected: Excess weight does cause heart disease.

Obesity alone—without other risk factors like high cholesterol, inactivity and diabetes—raises a person’s risks of heart disease by nearly a third, previous research has shown.

At last, the Karolinska Institute researchers used a method called Mendelian randomization prove that high BMI is a direct cause of heart disease.

And that meas that a third of the world’s population—the proportion of humans that are now overweight or obese—could be on a path toward the number one cause of death without lifestyle changes and medical interventions.

The first study of its kind was based on hundreds of thousands of Britons and a revolutionary statistical technique called Mendelian randomization.

This enabled the Swedish team to use genetic variants as a tool to show the causal relationship between cardiovascular disease and BMI (body mass index).

In particular, they discovered as BMI and fat mass increased so did the risk of many more than half a dozen conditions—especially aortic stenosis.

This where the valve controlling the flow of blood from the heart to the body’s largest blood vessel, the aorta, narrows and fails to open fully.

If left untreated it can lead to serious problems—and even death.

...

The ‘fat but fit’ theory suggests a bulging waistline is not harmful as long as other metabolic factors like blood pressure and glucose are within recommended levels.

But evidence is growing that this is wrong—an may be sending out the wrong message to millions of people.

Using data from 367,703 men and women aged 40 to 69 they identified 96 gene mutations linked to BMI and body fat mass to estimate their effect on 14 cardiovascular diseases.

The participants were from the UK Biobank, which holds biomedical information on half a million people. They were all of white British descent and aged 40 to 69.

Those with variants predicting higher BMI were at increased risk of aortic valve stenosis—as well as a host of other life threatening conditions.

...

The study, published in the European Heart Journal, also found cardiovascular disease risk rose in tandem with mutations predicting increases in fat mass.

Again, the connection with aortic stenosis was most pronounced—with a risk increase of 46 percent.

Science is fat-shaming.

You have to get off the goyfeed and start eating real foods, foods that people from 200 years ago would have identified as food. These fast food products are addictive, they rewire your brain, they mess with your palate and stop you from enjoying the flavors of natural foods, and they accumulate fat under your skin to remind everyone of your weakness.

Not human.

Burn your fat. Get trim. Get strong. Get healthier.

Don't let the Jews take your mind.

Don't let the Jews take your heart.

Saudi Arabia Tracks Down Women Who Flee the Country Using Mobile Phones' IMEI Numbers

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

They can't escape their phones.

The fact that some people and “activists” are outraged by this shows you how removed from reality modern Western ideas about women are.

Daily Mail:

Saudi Arabia is tracking down women who flee the country by locating mobile phones via their IMEI number, an activist has claimed.

Military-grade technology used by US forces to pinpoint targets for drone strikes has been used to find at least four women who have fled the desert kingdom's patriarchal system.

Two women told how Saudi security services turned up at their homes after they had fled and demanded to see the packaging their phones arrived in.

Officials told their families they could help bring their daughters home but needed the 15-digit International Mobile Equipment Identity (IMEI) number printed on the side of the box when it was bought.

The technology would enable Saudi agents to get to within a few feet of the nearly 1,000 women who flee Saudi Arabia every year.

Many women run away to escape a male guardianship system under which they need a man's permission to leave the house, go to work or leave the country.

...

Earlier this year Google refused to remove a Saudi government app that allows men to track and control women.

The app, called Absher, gives husbands the power to grant and deny travel permission for their wives and sends out alerts when they use their passports, or leave a certain area their spouse deems they should stay.

Tracking down women who flee is good.

Females are necessary for the continuation of any species that reproduces sexually.

Think about this in terms of whites.

Without white women, white people would disappear. If white men impregnated other women, the result would not be white babies. Making white babies requires both white men and white women.

Giving something as necessary as womb containers the “right” to choose not to reproduce is giving them the right to choose suicide for their people. This thing where women can “choose” to be child-free and to do whatever they want is madness.

The wombs are the property of their people, as they're the tools needed for their continuing existence as a people.

Saudi men, at some level, have a better understanding of this, and they're taking care of the very tools they need to continue being who they are.

The West liberated women and look where that got them.

They are freaking out because their time for motherhood has passed. Letting them choose is like letting a toddler choose. It's cruel to let them do whatever they want, no matter how many tantrums you have to deal with.

Women need to be controlled and disciplined, just like children.

Migrants Complain About Poor Conditions at US Holding Centers, 5,200 Quarantined, Warned About Welfare

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

The invaders are already publicly demanding more and better free stuff.

AP:

The Trump administration is facing growing complaints from migrants about severe overcrowding, meager food and other hardships at border holding centers, with some people at an encampment in El Paso being forced to sleep on the bare ground during dust storms.

The Border Network for Human Rights issued a report Friday based on dozens of testimonials of immigrants over the past month and a half, providing a snapshot of cramped conditions and prolonged stays in detention amid a record surge of migrant families coming into the U.S. from Central America.

The report comes a day after an advocate described finding a teenage mother cradling a premature baby inside a Border Patrol processing center in Texas. The advocate said the baby should have been in a hospital, not a facility where adults are kept in large fenced-in sections that critics describe as cages.

But can she afford the hospital?

“Human Rights” somehow mean that anyone with a foot on American soil somehow gets to enjoy free stuff paid for by Americans.

“The state of human rights in the U.S.-Mexico borderlands is grave and is only getting worse,” the immigrant rights group said in its report. “People are dying because of what is happening.”

Not our problem. If they die, they die.

Many of the complaints center on El Paso, where the inspector general found severe overcrowding inside a processing center. A cell designed for a dozen people was crammed with 76, and migrants had to stand on the toilets.

...

Migrants in El Paso and elsewhere also complained of inadequate food such as a single burrito and a cup of water per day. Women said they were denied feminine hygiene products.

Why should they be given anything at all? These browns are even asking for free tampons. They can't even take care of their own genitals and we're expected to believe that somehow they'll be good for the economy.

Lawmakers are becoming increasingly agitated.

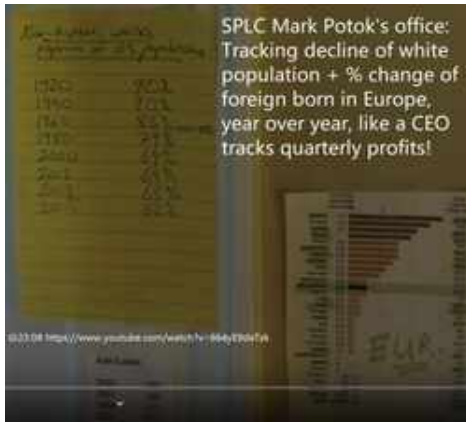

“In the first five months of this year, the number of apprehensions at the border has already exceeded the population of Atlanta, Georgia,” said Republican Rep. Kay Granger of Texas.

That's nothing. Just wait and see what's next.

We already have African niggers and Indians raping the border, and more humanoids from all around the world will soon join them.

The numbers are just going to increase. There is no reason for them not to come. They're all getting in. Word is spreading.

Time's ticking.

CNN:

US Immigration and Customs Enforcement has placed 5,200 adult immigrants in quarantine after being exposed to mumps or chicken pox, a dramatic jump from just a few months ago, the agency says.

ICE has recorded cases of either mumps or chicken pox in 39 immigrant detention centers nationwide, an ICE official tells CNN.

Of the 5,200 detainees in quarantine across those centers, around 4,200 are for exposure to mumps. Around 800 were exposed to chicken pox and 100 have been exposed to both.

The Department of Homeland Security has repeatedly warned of the toll the increasing number of migrants at the border has taken on the department. This week, Acting DHS Secretary Kevin McAleenan urged lawmakers for additional funding to assist operations, calling the crisis “unlike anything our country has ever faced.”

Quarantine costs money. Everything costs money.

You are paying.

But don't worry, migrants will be told that they should support themselves, so you should be good.

The Washington Times:

Officers handling legal immigration cases will now warn people that they are under an obligation to support themselves rather than end up on the public dole, under a new policy implemented Friday by acting U.S.

Citizenship and Immigration Services Director Ken Cuccinelli.

The warning will be issued both to the immigrant and his or her sponsor, who under the law has signed an agreement not to let the immigrant become a public charge.

In the new warning, UCSIS officers will “re-mind” sponsors that they can — and now will — be asked to pay back “every dollar” of welfare that the immigrants take.

“The president has made it a priority to ensure that every individual who seeks to come to the United States is self-sufficient, temporarily or permanently,” Mr. Cuccinelli said in a memo to agency employees.

It's the first major public move by Mr. Cuccinelli, who became acting director this week.

Notice that all of these news outlets are calling these browns “migrants” or “immigrants” instead of “asylum seekers.”

Why are migrants claiming asylum?

It's all just a giant scam.

White Father Dies in Shootout with Urban Poet, Police Determine He Acted in Self-Defense

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Andre Sinclair Jr.

Now there's a twist that no one could have predicted.

It was the hood rat who turned out to be the aggressor, not the white father of three!

Local10:

A driver who was killed in a shootout with another man on a busy Davie road Friday afternoon acted in self-defense, police said.

Sgt. Mark Leone, a spokesman for the Davie Police Department, said Keith Byrne, 41, was on the phone with a friend while driving a utility truck on Flamingo Road when he accidentally cut off a blue BMW.

When Byrne stopped at a red light on Eighth Street and rolled down the window to apologize, a passenger in the BMW got out, armed with a gun, and approached Byrne's truck, Leone said.

The friend who was on the phone with Byrne throughout the ordeal heard Byrne say, “My bad,” before the call was disconnected, Leone said.

Byrne and the man in the BMW, later identified as Andre Sinclair Jr., 22, exchanged gunfire, Leone said.

Byrne was shot in the chest and died at the scene, while Sinclair, who police said was in the BMW with his baby and his baby's mother, later died at Broward Health Medical Center.

“We are in shock — all of us. We are all just numb,” Byrne's mother, Irene Colavolpe, said. “He was a wonderful son. He was a great guy.”

Relatives said Byrne was on the way to see his mother when the shooting occurred.

Byrne's family told Local 10 News he leaves behind three children — a 21-year-old son and two daughters, ages 19 and 17. They said he was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps.

Keith Byrne with son and daughters.

Mississippi: Uppity Sow Chimps Out on White Laundromat Employee

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Video link

A “wild encounter” indeed, Fox News. A wild encounter indeed.
Fox News:

A Mississippi laundromat employee was attacked by a customer in a wild encounter that was caught on surveillance video.

Sheri McClatchy, who works at The Clothes Basket in Holly Springs, told WREG that in her two years at the laundromat, she “never had any trouble at all, never a cross word with anybody.”

On Friday, she reminded two female customers not to overload the washing machines, which is when a third woman chimed in, telling her it would be the laundromat’s responsibility if the washing machines broke.

“Just started telling me how she was a law student,” McClatchy said. “It had nothing to do with her. She was just another customer in here using the dryer.”

Soon after, McClatchy said she was slammed against dryers at the laundromat. The two women were caught on camera fighting in the business.

Eventually, the customer's wig falls off and the two fall to the floor. McClatchy said she walked out of the laundromat, but the customer followed her — which is when the employee says she drew her gun, scaring the customer.

While authorities arrived after the incident, the customer had fled the scene.

Sheri McClatchy.

False Flaggot Trump Literally Believes Starting a War with Iran, Killing Tens of Thousands of Americans, Will Win Him 2020

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer

June 15, 2019

“We know Iran did it”—Trump on the false flag hoax.

Donald Trump has no friends. People think he’s a loser, and after he did that thing where he said he was going to force Africans to fuck each other up the ass, many people suspect he is not only gay, but gay for Africans. He also has weird orange skin and this makes people uncomfortable.

Even his former BFF Sarah Sanders has abandoned him, because she thinks he’s just too fucked up and weird to be friends with.

After 3 1/2 years, our wonderful Sarah Huckabee Sanders will be leaving the White House at the end of the month and going home to the Great State of Arkansas....

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump)
June 13, 2019

Because he has no friends, he can only hang out with the putrid fat bastard Mike Pompeo, the nuzzling weasel John Bolton and his disgusting Jew son-in-law, Jared Kushner.

These people are telling him that he’s going to lose the election. Which is apparently what his own internal polls say.

Think Progress:

ABC News on Friday published the results of an internal poll conducted by President Donald Trump’s reelection campaign in March, a survey that Trump himself denied even existed.

The poll found Trump trailing Joe Biden by huge margins in states he carried in 2016, including Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. In Texas, which has voted for Republican presidents by wide margins for the last 43 years, Trump holds just a two point edge against the former vice president.

The existence of the poll and its damning findings were first reported by the New York Times earlier this week. It aligns closely with several independent surveys which have consistently found Trump trailing virtually every Democratic presidential contender in head-to-head matchups, findings which Trump himself has repeatedly denied. He also suggested the very existence of internal polling was a fabrication, and when that was proven to be a lie, instructed his staff to deny the results.

It's obvious that he will lose. Because his own base hates him now, more than liberals ever did. Particularly because he brought in more immigrants than ever in history.

NBC News:

Border Patrol officers encountered more than 144,000 undocumented immigrants at the southwest border in May, the largest monthly total in 13 years, officials said Wednesday.

More than 132,000 were stopped while crossing the border illegally; the rest presented themselves at legal ports of entry, Customs and Border Protection officials said.

May marked the third month in a row that more than 100,000 immigrants were taken into custody at the border amid a surge of migrants heading north in large groups from the Northern Triangle countries of Guatemala, Honduras and El Salvador.

Basically, no one is going to bother to go vote.

So the fat man and the Jew came up with a plan: start a war with Iran, and people will vote Trump.

So they did this weird fake attack on boats in the Gulf.

No one believes it's real. Not even Japan, who owned one of the boats. The UN isn't endorsing the Trump theory.

BBC:

US President Donald Trump has dismissed Iran's insistence it had no involvement with the attacks on two oil tankers in the Gulf of Oman.

Mr Trump cited footage that Washington says shows Iranian forces in a small boat taking an unexploded mine off the hull of one of the ships.

UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres said the truth needed to be "clearly established".

Russia has warned against drawing "hasty conclusions".

Unfortunately, no one is stating the obvious: that whoever did do it wanted it to look like Iran did it, and the only nations that would want that are Israel, Saudi Arabia and the United States, which are for all intents and purposes a singular entity.

But it won't really matter who believes what when the war starts, will it?

I don't know the numbers, but it seems there will have to be a draft, if he's planning an actual ground invasion.

They will need at least a million soldiers. And tens of thousands will die. It will pretty much be the end of American global hegemony. And it could turn into a world war with Russia and China pretty easily.

But hey, the important thing is: will it get Trump a second term?

I don't know—probably?
I guess?

Usually, presidents who are in a war get a second term.

It would be one thing if Bernie Sanders was the nominee, and he was calling for an end to the war. But Bernie won't be the nominee. It will be someone saying "I'll fight the war—BETTER."

But who knows—maybe if Trump starts the war before the Democrat primaries, the Democrats will nominate an anti-war candidate.

But is the Democrat electorate even against a war with Iran? I don't even know.

They might like it. They seem to like everything else they used to be against.

They're definitely not for free speech anymore. Because Nazis can't have freedoms.

Video Link

And they're big fans of multinational corporations. Because corporations like killing babies and stuff.

Video Link

So maybe if the media says the Iran war is about like, liberating women or whatever, then they'll just go along with it.

VICE is ready to go with that narrative, for all the cool kids.

Video Link

One thing is for sure: whatever happens from this point on is going to be way more insane than the stuff that's already happened. More insane than all of it, combined.

Thanks, Donald.

Riding While White: Warning That "Nazis are Blatantly Riding Public Transit" in Ottawa

Frei
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

As we hurtle towards a dark future, engulfed by the Third World, the definitions of the terms "white" and "Nazi" will increasingly converge. In the interim, the only non-Nazi whites will be those who agree to abnegate themselves out of existence without a peep of protest. Eventually, as they or their descendants find themselves beleaguered by Diversity, even they will have to take some small steps to defend their own interests, even if it is only to flee.

In the end, then, "white" and "Nazi" will be perfect synonyms in the minds of our adversaries.

We can catch glimpses of this future already appearing.

Here we see a white guy riding the subway in Ottawa wearing a cap with the image of the German flag on it and a T-shirt with some lettering in the old Germanic Fraktur font.

Negro Tyler K Boyce happened to be riding the subway at the exact same time as T-shirt guy.

Tyler Boyce

@TylerKBoyce

HIV Testing Coordinator @SWCHC
Research Associate @DiversityMusing
Board Director @Max_Ottawa. Activist.
Poet, Filmmaker. RTs not endorsement.
Personal views.

Ottawa, Ontario

tylerblackpower.wordpress.com

Joined October 2017

As his Twitter profile indicates, Tyler is an HIV testing coordinator, board director of Max Ottawa, "child of East Africa" and "poet."

He also has a WordPress blog called Tyler Black Power. We know that WordPress doesn't like any defense of European ethnic interests, but it apparently has no problem with Black Power.

Tyler took to Twitter to express the terrible distress he had experienced on his subway ride when he came "face to face with a Nazi."

Tyler shrieked at Ottawa’s politicians, warning them that “we have Nazis blatantly riding public transit in the middle of the day at rush hour”!

Already, they want us to be banned from public transport if we have the “wrong beliefs.” What’s next? Banning us from buying food? Why not just send us to extermination camps to speed it up?

But T-shirt guy wasn’t even a “Nazi.” The image on his T-shirt was an album cover from the Swiss heavy metal band Hellhammer. The Germanic lettering was just the band’s name.

Nonetheless, leftists piled on to Tyler’s tweet, demanding that T-shirt guy be physically attacked.

Ed the Sock is apparently a famous TV star in Canada.

But Ed the Sock’s creator, voice and, presumably, Twitter account manager is Steven Joel Kerzner.

EST.

This is the future that awaits us if we should lose this war of persuasion: innocent whites being attacked by Diversity for the crime of merely existing.

Lawyers for Nashville Public Schools Say It’s Not Sexual Harassment to Slut Shame Students

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

The moment women start getting the tingles down there, that’s the moment they turn into sluts.

Daily Mail:

Lawyers for metro-Nashville’s public schools say it’s not sexual harassment when students share secretly recorded videos of unwanted sexual encounters and then bully the victims.

The arguments were filed in an ongoing, multi-million dollar lawsuit against the school system.

Parents of four girls said in the lawsuit that their daughters were pressured into sexual contact and then taunted when students shared the videos, according to The Tennessean.

Last month, it was reported that the four girls said the surreptitiously recorded sex tapes were shared online, including on adult sites like Pornhub, in a practice common among teens that is known as ‘exposing’.

Those videos were also shared among other students, which led to the girls being bullied and harassed.

At the time, US District Judge Aleta Trauger denied the district’s dismissal request, finding ‘ample evidence’ that officials knew of harassment, including the circulation of videos, and failed to protect students.

Oh, come on. Protect the students how? By shutting down the internet and erasing the memories of everyone who watched the videos?

According to the Tennessean, metro lawyers ‘characterize the court’s holding that “circulation of a sexually explicit video is akin to a sexual assault”’.

...

The district also argued that male students were also depicted in the videos, so the girls were not unequally treated per federal law.

In her 58-page opinion, however, the judge said the boys did not suffer from bullying that ‘follows the easily recognizable script of treating women and girls as uniquely tainted and lessened by their engagement in sexual activity,’ The Tennessean reported.

One of the lawsuits was filed by the family of a 15-year-old girl against Metro Nashville Public Schools and Metro government for $3million in August 2017.

That has to be the most expensive porn star ever. Imagine making that money off of just one video.

The complaint said the girl was part of unwelcome sexual activity at Hunters Lane High School recorded without her knowledge and posted on the internet.

Notice the wording.

“Unwelcome sexual activity.”

What does that even mean?

Was she raped? Of course not. No one would bully these girls if the videos showed them crying in pain and screaming in desperation while kicking and trying to close their legs.

The girls only say that they were pressured into it and that it was “unwelcome” and “unwanted” in an attempt to appease the slut-shaming mob.

“NO WAIT I DIDN’T REALLY WANT IT! See? I’m not that slutty.”

The complaint said that the male student who made the sex tape uploaded it to Pornhub, and even though the girl immediately transferred to another school, the ill fame associated with the video followed her there.

She described being bullied on a daily basis and being called names like ‘ho,’ ‘nasty’ and ‘worthless’.

Imagine what she was doing in the video to be called “nasty” and “worthless.”

Other plaintiffs suing the school district include two 14-year-old girls who were allegedly involved in unwelcome sexual conduct with multiple teenage boys in a stairway at Maplewood High School in September 2016, which was also videotaped, and a 15-year-old girl who in February 2017 was allegedly sexually assaulted inside a boys bathroom at Hunters Lane High School.

Nasty and worthless hoers.

In just four years, the district documented 45 sexual assaults, 218 inappropriate sexual contacts, 950 instances of sexual harassment and 1,200 instances of inappropriate sexual behavior.

“Inappropriate.”
Sure.

Every high school girl is a slut.
They’re all sluts.

Facebook Launching Globalist Cryptocurrency Called Libra

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

You should totally trust these corporations, goyim.

They’re very (((dependable))).

The Verge:

Facebook has secured the backing of over a dozen companies for its upcoming Libra cryptocurrency set to be announced next week, The Wall Street Journal reports. These companies include major financial organizations like Visa and Mastercard, and internet darlings like PayPal, Uber, Stripe, and Booking.com. Each will invest around $10 million to fund development of the currency, and will become part of the Libra Association, an independent consortium that will govern the digital coin independently of Facebook.

Independent from Facebook, maybe, but not independent from Jews, I bet.

The involvement of major financial firms like Visa and Mastercard is interesting, because cryptocurrencies are typically seen as providing a cheaper alternative to these payment networks. The WSJ speculates that these companies want to get involved so they can monitor Facebook’s payment ambitions, as well as benefit from the popularity of the currency should it take off with Facebook’s 2.4 billion monthly active users.

For Facebook, establishing an independent body is thought to provide cover with users and regulators, who have grown increasingly wary of both the amount of power Facebook wields, and its cavalier attitude towards the responsibilities this brings.

...

As well as allowing users to send money over Facebook’s messaging products like WhatsApp and Messenger, Facebook hopes that its partnerships with e-commerce firms will allow users to spend the currency online. The company is reportedly also looking into developing ATM-like physical terminals for people to convert their money into Libra.

I wasn’t sure what to make of this when I first heard about it, but then it dawned on me that it has nothing to do with money per se, but with control.

This is basically meant to make people’s social media accounts more valuable, so they’re more likely to self-censor any wrongspeak.

Getting banned from Facebook today isn’t that big of a deal unless you’re trying to sell/promote something, but if your account had, say, a wallet with this cryptocurrency, and you had a few hundred dollars on it, getting banned is all of a sudden a little more serious.

I assume they will eventually find ways to just give you some of this stuff automatically just for using their site—for browsing, participating in contests and polls, maybe a small share of the ad money they make off you, and so on, and this will probably add up to reasonably important sums for people who use it a lot or for people from poor/relatively poor countries.

So that’ll make them even less likely to say evil things like “men don’t become women if they cut their dicks off” or “Jews are 2% of the US population but over a third of all billionaires” because they don’t want to lose their money.

It’s also a way, I think, to sabotage Bitcoin and other real(er) cryptocurrencies, which they can’t control and can therefore be used by evil Nazis like us to avoid being starved to death, which is basically what they’re trying to do to us.

So like with everything the kikes touch—it’s best to stay away, or if you can’t stay away completely, at least don’t become dependent on it in any way.

Because kikes care more about destroying us than they care about making shekels off of us.

Proud Homeowner Unmoved by Petition, Refuses to Remove Windmill of Friendship in Yard

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

What is this country coming to when a Boomer has to defend his lawn from hordes of degenerates all alone?

SF Chronicle:

An online petition calling on an El Sobrante man to remove a giant concrete swastika from his front lawn has gathered more than 3,000 signatures, but the homeowner sounded unmoved Wednesday.

The petition was posted Monday on the Care2 website by a group calling itself “Not in Our Town El Sobrante.” As of 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, the petition had digital signatures from 3,207 supporters.

The petition’s goal is to persuade Steve Johnson, a 67-year-old retired welder, to rip out a swastika he put in his front yard as part of a driveway he said he is building. Johnson told The Chronicle he understood the historical significance of the Nazi symbol, but he decided to install it anyway because he liked the design.

The petition's author — identified as Sarah Dunham by a Care2 spokeswoman — did not, and she notes that the swastika has become an international symbol of hatred.

“The presence of a swastika in our community makes many people feel unsafe to live in a community that tolerates visible expressions of hate and bigotry,” the petition reads. “Therefore, we are calling on this person to remove the swastika.”

Yeah, but that's neither here nor there. In America, the main question is and always has been:

Liberals forget that America was founded on the principles of life, liberty, and lawn care.

That means NO ONE can infringe on a White man's right to landscape his yard anyway that he damn well pleases.

But can you stop and imagine what these crazy Jews and cat ladies are trying to do here?

Some guy is mad enough to put a giant windmill of peace on his property, and they're just poking him and prodding him and provoking him even more. Like, even I wouldn't hang out with a guy who has a giant swastika on his lawn because I figure that the guy has been having a rough time lately and might need some room to cool off for a bit...alone.

Besides, he's clearly a member of Boomerwaffen and you have to be crazy to tangle with one of those cats.

They don't fuck around.

And when they get mad, people die.

Leftists should let this guy landscape his lawn in peace, lest they waken the beast slumbering in every pissed off Boomer with their reckless disregard for this one man's lawn.

You've heard of Kill-Dozer no doubt, but just you wait until the Boomers take out the swastika flags and rig up John Deere lawn mower battle wagons.

It'll be a bloodbath.

The Left should stop provoking these Boomers—because they're all psychopaths just waiting to snap.

Heroic Drunk Pole Commandeers Soviet Tank to Confront ZOG Head On!

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

This one man had enough.

He decided that the censorship of Steven Crowder and Ben Shapiro was a step too far.

It was time to strike back against ZOG.

RT:

Police in central Poland responded to a late evening call over an incident that surely sent chills down the spines of Russophobe conspiracy theorists: a T-55 tank rampaging down the main street.

When police arrived at the scene in the town of Pajeczno on Thursday night, they found the Soviet-era tank casually parked on a central roadway with its two occupants nearby, one of whom was an intoxicated 49-year-old man who had been in the driver seat.

The only thing that saved a whole lotta Jews was that our nameless hero ran out of vodka before he could unleash righteous hellfire on the local synagogue or just run over 6 million refugees in neighboring Germany, crushing their skulls underneath his tank tracks with a pleasant popping sound that bubble-wrap would make.

He didn't live-stream the joyride, so we may never know if he yelled out, "Subscribe to Crowder's Mug Club!" before he stepped on the gas and started driving through town.

Some people might think that he was nuts, but honestly, is taking a tank for a GTA-style spin around town as crazy as the Polish government's plan to place 1,000 more ZOG-bots on Polish soil (on their own dime) and leave the fate of their country in the hands of the neocons who want to start a war on literally every single continent?

Playing GTA is harmless, even if you do it IRL.

Letting America occupy you though is just...

Like, why?

Do they love niggers that much?

Makes no sense.

Allying with a country to fight off another, larger and more powerful country is one thing.

Usually, you have weaker countries banding together to take on a larger opponent, not weaker countries tripping over themselves to vassalize themselves to a power that wants to use their country as cannon fodder against a country that poses no threat to anyone and which will, invariably, turn right around once the war is finished and force-resettle millions of Moslems in the de-populated territories.

Not really understanding the 4D chess at work here, tbh.

-(ツ)-

Outrage Over Imam's Lecture on the Correct Way to Beat Misbehaving Wives

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

Video Link

MOSLEMS are way past the point of "should we beat our wives tho?" Now, their discussions center around the correct approach to wife-beating.

Sputnik News:

Shia imam Bassem al-Sheraa, who lives in Michigan, reportedly held a lecture in Detroit on how to properly teach women who have misbehaved and explained what beating means by referencing the Quran.

Media watchdog Middle East Media Research Institute, or MEMRI, has called out US-based Shia Imam Bassem Al-Sheraa over his lesson on wife beating at the Az-Zahraa Islamic Centre in Detroit. The group published a clip with subtitles from the lecture that was reportedly uploaded on the centre's YouTube channel in May, in which the cleric is seen dwelling on punishing wives and its interpretation in the Muslim holy book, the Quran.

According to the translation of Bassem Al-Sheraa's speech, made by MEMRI, Islam's teaching refers to beating as something that is not supposed to cause pain because it should be done with a teeth cleaning twig to teach a woman a lesson.

He points out that, according to Islamic laws, if a woman's skin becomes red after beating, one has to pay compensation, and cites the prophet on the matter.

After the clip surfaced, angry comments poured in, slamming the imam as "wicked" and "evil".

Women actually enjoy it when their skin turns red after a beating, so if your idea is to teach her a lesson, she shouldn't get to enjoy it.

Paying them compensation doesn't really make sense though.

Would you pay your fridge compensation because you closed its door with too much force?

Send them back to a muslim country. Wicked. Evil. Mean & Nasty. Michigan Imam Defends 'Beating' of Wives Who 'Misbehaved,' Under Certain Conditions <https://t.co/UcVyF4y8zs>

– John Guehlstorff III (@GooseGuts) June 14, 2019

Michigan IMAM says 'wife beating' is a way to remind a woman she 'misbehaved'

W I F E B E A T I N G ? ? ? ? #2A <https://t.co/r8Z3HZNSci>

– (@miamij48) June 13, 2019

Michigan Imam Defends 'Beating' of Wives Who 'Misbehaved,' Under Certain Conditions <https://t.co/IoAciIncNb> Disgusting, they continue to NOT ASSIMILATE AND PUSH their life style including videos that say it's OKY doky to beat your wife.

– Brenda Calvet (@BrendaMCalvet) June 13, 2019

The Imam doesn't look "wicked" or "evil," he looks like a reasonable MOSLEM giving wife-training advice to other MOSLEMS.

Wife-beating is not as straightforward as it sounds. If you inflict physical pain on them without emotional pain, they are likely to end up enjoying the pain and finding the whole beating a pleasurable thing, which would result in them misbehaving on purpose in the hope that you'll beat them again.

Remember that women just want to feel. It doesn't matter if it's pain or pleasure — it's all the same to them.

One of the reasons they can't get over their abusive boyfriends is because they became addicted to the "abuse."

The beating, if intended to teach her a lesson, has to be accompanied by an emotional attack on her, which is what the Imam is discussing.

Paying compensation because you made her skin turn red, on the other hand, is worse than making them addicted to the physical pain that you can inflict on them. It makes them addicted to their material gains resulting from pushing your buttons and acting like a bitch.

From best case scenario to worst case scenario:

1. The beating teaches her a lesson and corrects her behavior
2. The beating makes her addicted to the pain you inflicted on her
3. The beating makes her addicted to the compensations you provide for her

In the first case, you accomplish your goal.

In the second case, she becomes addicted to something that you provide. You'll have to change your approach and rewire her brain, possibly by switching to indifference instead of beatings when she misbehaves and beating her as a reward when she behaves.

In the third case, you're fucked. The consequence-turned-reward is enforced by your religion so you can't quite switch it like in the previous example. Basically, at this point, the woman turns into a monster and the only solution is to stop all beatings and pray to Allah asking for divine intervention.

But Western laws don't allow any form of wife-beating.

What if you're married and your wife is constantly misbehaving?

The first thing you have to understand in that case is that you're already fucked because you married, and no attempts at appeasing or pleasing her are going to unfuck you. On the contrary, that will only make her resent you even more.

Your best bet is to embrace the fucking and make it happen on your own terms.

Stop giving her your time and start working on you. Assume she already filed for divorce and act accordingly. Go to the gym, keep yourself groomed and clean-looking, have a social life (socialize with both men and women, away from your wife), and plan how to recover once she takes half (or more) of your stuff.

Doing that won't make her file for a divorce if she wasn't going to file for a divorce anyway, and you'll be in a better position if and when that happens. When a wife wants her husband, she fights against his attempts at pushing her away (because she fears losing him!) and tries all kinds of things to gain his respect and attention back.

Be smart about it.

Switzerland: eWomen Protest “Unacceptably Slow Pace to Equality” on the Streets

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

The badass woman is a mythical creature that would be the perfect mix of braveness and strength if not for her silly weak spot clitoris button which, once pushed, terrorizes and paralyzes her instantly.

BBC:

Women across Switzerland have taken to the streets to protest against what they say is the country's unacceptably slow pace to equality.

Friday's protest comes 28 years after similar action saw half a million women take to the streets in 1991.

Swiss women have long campaigned to accelerate the pace of gender equality.

They joined millions of other women in Europe after World War One ended in 1918 in demanding the right to vote—but did not get it until 1971.

At the time of the 1991 strike there were no women in the Swiss government, and there was no statutory maternity leave.

Appenzell, the last Swiss canton to refuse women the right to vote, had just been ordered to change its policy by Switzerland's Supreme Court.

Some things have changed: there have since been eight female government ministers and the right to maternity leave is now enshrined in law.

However, women in Switzerland still earn on average 20% less than men, they are under-represented in management positions, and childcare remains not only expensive, but in short supply.

Last month, a survey by the International Labour Organisation put Switzerland bottom of the list in pay rates between men and women in senior roles.

The “gender pay gap” topic is a kind of living dead topic that keeps coming back no matter how many times you put your sword through its heart.

Look. Let's keep this short.

We live inside a system of Jewish Capitalism where profit is put above all else. If employers could really just pay women less than men and get the same work that men would do, everyone would hire women instead of men to maximize profit.

Of course, women are biologically incapable of doing the same work as men, they make different life choices, they don't have the capacity or the desire to put in what it takes to reach the top, their personalities lower workplace productivity, they can get pregnant and decide to never go back to work, they have mood swings on a regular basis, and so on and so forth.

Journalist Beatrice Born, who was six months pregnant with her first child when she joined the strike back in 1991, will be striking again on Friday.

Beatrice Born: “We felt amazingly powerful that day. Because so many women took part. I thought, after this, nothing can stand in our way.”

Paola Ferro, one of the organisers of the 1991 strike, will be back on the streets on Friday, too.

Paola Ferro: “My reasons are the same as they were in 1991—gender justice.”

Nicole, 24: "I'm taking part for all the women who aren't able, or maybe aren't brave enough to do what they want in life."

Yes, Nicole, not all women are as brave as you. You are indeed very brave for going with the crowd after receiving support from all of the Western governments and media.

Truly an exemplary woman.

A new strike was first suggested last year in response to parliament's decision to introduce more scrutiny on equal pay.

The government's move only related to companies with more than 100 employees, a measure that women trade union leaders dismissed as virtually meaningless.

Since then, women across the country have been mobilising, using social media to take advantage of the power of the hashtag.

The hashtag is indeed very powerful.

#Frauenstreik—women's strike in German—has been trending for days, along with #GrèvedesFemmes in French.

Events were staged in many of the main cities on Friday, including Bern, Basel, Zurich, Sion, and Lausanne, where women filled the station concourse to sing a feminist hymn.

Hymne féministe à la gare de Lausanne
#14Juin2019 #Grevedesfemmes2019
#24hgrevedesfemmes #24heures
pic.twitter.com/pjE42idIaO

— Joelle Fabre (@JoelleFabre1) June 14, 2019

In Geneva, street signs named after men were replaced with women's names.

Social media has emerged in recent years as one of the most powerful techniques for quickly raising awareness of a particular issue and mobilising people for protests and demonstrations.

Nadine, a Swiss law student not even born when the first strike took place in her country, will be among those taking part.

"I think it's a good thing," says the student, who comes from the traditionally conservative canton of Glarus.

"People will get informed about the many disadvantages women still face: we don't get equal pay, men still get prioritised with certain jobs," she adds.

Nadine: "Girls are given fewer chances to go to university or higher education because they are the ones who will have children."

Aida, a 25-year-old yoga teacher, will be striking too.

"It's way easier for us to go on to the streets and demand things than it was for women 100 years ago."

Many men will be actively supporting the strike, though they have been told to stay in the background, looking after children, and preparing food for the strikers.

"If we do not support each other now, who will in the future?" asks 24-year-old Clemens.

Clemens: "I am a man, but most of all I am human and I want equal rights in the real world for all fellow humans."

Looks like a female to male transsexual from outer space.

"He" has that Mark Zuckerberg need to remind people that he's human.

Video Link

It's an interesting kind of equality that these women want. Men are supposed to not do the same as women and to perform traditionally womanly tasks.

It's almost as if by "equality" they mean "our turn."

Who can even take them seriously anymore?

They think they're some kind of brave Twitter hashtag (invented by a man) warriors but we can instantly win any confrontation with them without physical violence just by grabbing them by the pussy.

...and they call themselves strong, independent and brave.

They're all just little girls acting silly.

India Now Also Raping the Border, Migrant Aid Force Buys Thousands of Onesies for Invaders' Infants

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

We recently learned that Africans from Angola, Cameroon and the Congo are raping our borders the same way that Mayans and Aztecs are.

Now India has joined the march towards Minas Tirith.

Fox News:

The body of a 7-year-old Indian girl was found in a remote desert area of Arizona on Wednesday – the same day border agents say they were told human smugglers helped five Indian illegal immigrants cross into the U.S.

Border Patrol agents with the Tucson Sector recovered the remains of the young girl early Wednesday morning about 17 miles west of Lukeville, a town that sits on the U.S.-Mexico border.

Officials said Thursday agents encountered two women a day earlier who said they had traveled to the United States from India with another woman and two children. They were traveling through Mexico when human smugglers ordered them to cross the border in a "dangerous and austere location."

Expect more Indians to come because there'll soon be no shithole on Earth whose people are unaware of how easy it is to enter America and receive free stuff from white people.

The incentives are there, and more of them are added the better we treat these creatures.

Our Border Patrol has turned into the Migrant Aid Force and is now babysitting little invaders and working pretty much like an army of maids serving the Mordorlings.

Americans are even paying for onesies for the invaders.

QUARTZ:

The United States Border Patrol (USBP) will buy as many as 1,800 infant onesies between now and the end of next February for babies up to 12 months old. The clothing will be delivered twice a month to a holding facility in the El Paso area, according to a $448,000 contract the agency signed earlier this week.

The items "are essential for the health and comfort of the detainees while in USBP custody," explains an accompanying statement of work.

Once you do one thing for "the health and comfort" of the invaders, you enter the slippery slope. It implicitly states that their comfort is something that should be attended to...and who says how much comfort is enough comfort?

Certainly not white Americans, because that would be racist.

The Border Patrol will begin receiving the onesies on June 17. It will also be getting thousands of toddler-size T-shirts, sweatpants, and socks, as well as 7,200 pairs of girls' panties and nearly 10,000 pairs of boys' white briefs, in sizes ranging from "Youth-Small" to "Youth-XL."

Adult-size T-shirts, sweats, briefs, panties, and polyester sports bras have also been ordered to the same USBP detention facility, comprised of "soft-sided" structures—it has been described as a tent city—with an identical delivery schedule.

...

The purchases by the Border Patrol follow a recent order by US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) for 20,000 baby bottles, 3,000 boxes of baby wipes, 2,224,000 baby diapers, and 144,000 pairs of shower shoes, of which 36,000 will be size extra-small, for a newly-erected tent city holding families and unaccompanied children seeking asylum in the US.

Are there no white Americans in need of that kind of help instead? No homeless, no jobless, no poor?

Of course there are.

Even if no Americans currently needed help, our resources should be reserved for the future Americans that might need it. Why not give our future generations a better start instead of giving resources away to foreigners that won't ever pay them back in any way?

It is one thing to strategically invest resources in alliances with others, but this isn't an investment.

This is literally giving money away. It's worse than wasting money and it's worse than burning money because this actually provides strong incentives for more creatures of Mordor to come.

All of this says to the world: "Come to America! You will be taken care of! Food, clothing, showers, safety!"

That is no way to stop an invasion.

Following Idiotic False Flag Hoax, China Pledges to Strengthen Ties with Iran

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Everyone knows this attack on Japanese ships is the fakest thing since fake news was invented by the Jews.

I'm extremely happy to see that China is openly mocking the Donald Kushner Administration by doing a deal with Iran a few hours after the hoax.

Fox News:

Chinese President Xi Jinping on Friday met with Iranian President Hassan Rouhani at a summit in Kyrgyzstan and reaffirmed Beijing's willingness to develop ties with the country even as the U.S. placed the blame squarely on Tehran for the attack on two oil tankers near the Strait of Hormuz.

Xi met with Rouhani privately at the Shanghai Cooperation Organization summit in Bishkek, Reuters reported. The Chinese leader promised to develop the relationship no matter how the situation changes.

He recently told TASS news agency that Washington is putting "extreme pressure" on Iran and the "situation is worrying."

President Trump has taken a tough stance on both China and Iran in recent months. The U.S. is locked in a duel with Beijing on trade, with both countries appearing to be dug in for a long fight. The Trump administration has threatened to impose additional tariffs on $325 billion of Chinese exports if there's no deal reached at this month's G20 in Japan.

Trump has said he wants to talk to Tehran but the U.S. has piled on sanctions that have seen Iran's rial currency plummet along with its crucial oil exports. The U.S. also has sent an aircraft carrier and B-52 bombers to the region, along with hundreds more troops to back up the tens of thousands already deployed across the Middle East.

The meeting between Xi and Rouhani occurred as tensions between the U.S. and Iran appear to be worsening. The U.S. released footage late Thursday it said shows Iran's Revolutionary Guard removing an unexploded limpet mine from an oil tanker that was attacked near the Strait of Hormuz. The U.S. claims that Iran sought to remove evidence from the scene. The footage is of the ship, Kokuka Courageous. The ship's crew reported the "flying objects" prior to the attack.

The most incredible thing about this story is actually that any world leader would agree to have a meeting in Bishkek.

Chairman Xi continues to impress. Seriously, fuck this neocon war machine. This is retarded. All of their shit is completely fake, and it is all about JEWS.

This video they released of...alleged Iranians coming back to the scene of the crime to retrieve a bomb that didn't go off...is the goofiest shit I've ever seen.

Video Link

Fox News:

An Iranian vessel removed an unexploded mine that had been attached to a Japanese-owned oil tanker which suffered serious damage after an explosion in the Gulf of Oman early Thursday, U.S. officials told Fox News, as the U.S. Navy released video purportedly showing the incident.

The imagery came from the USS Bainbridge, a guided-missile destroyer which rescued 21 sailors from the stricken tanker.

At least one other mine attached to tanker's hull detonated, causing the blast.

What is the evidence that they were Iranian?

Why would they come back to get the bomb? Are they running low on bombs?

Obviously—OBVIOUSLY—ballistics analysis can determine the type of bomb it was after it went off. So the idea that they were removing evidence by retrieving the undetonated bomb is nonsensical.

The only reason anyone would return to the scene of a crime like this is to be filmed doing it.

Without the involvement of Jews, America could easily make a trade deal with China. In fact, we could easily open up normal trade with Iran. Why not? Why have we waged a 40-year terror campaign on the single most capable nation in the Islamic world?

They should be ruling the entire region instead of the disgusting Saudis.

Name one terrorist attack by a Shiite Moslem. There literally aren't any. Meanwhile, all terrorism is funded by Saudi Arabia—including, according to the US government, 9/11 itself.

The only reason that the US props up this lunatic Saudi regime is that Saudi Arabia is a proxy state of Israel. Period. Otherwise, anyone with even a tiny bit of basic sense could figure out that it benefits America and the entire world to allow a natural hierarchy to develop in the Middle East—a hierarchy that puts Iranians on top, given that they are racially superior to the rest of the people in the region.

Just compare the visages of the two leaders.

And just—come on.

Imagine Persians trapping a guy in an embassy and chopping up his body while he's still alive.

Come on.

Saudis are disgusting savages, and the American ZOG regime is disgusting for engaging these people on any level.

It's certainly interesting that China was meeting with Iran at the same time a Japanese ship was false flagged. I didn't realize yesterday that China had this meeting planned. But that is the Jews and their fat knob-slobber Mike Pompeo thinking they're clever.

“Oh China hates Japan, they don't care about their plight of being attacked by these evil Iranians.”

They apparently think the Japs are as dumb as American evangelicals.

Video Link

They're not.

No one is as fucking stupid as evangelicals—not even literal niggers.

And there is no way in hell the Japs believe this hoax.

In fact, they're likely to pivot towards Russia because the US was so bold as to stage this bizarre hoax.

Juggalos Seem to be a Kind of Last Stand of Implicit White Identity

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Apparently, we're seeing the beginnings of a wignat revival movement in America.

When I saw this picture of “The Legion of St. Ambrose” in Knoxville, Tennessee the other day, I was like “fuck, fuck you, please, just go away, seriously, why?”

This is the new look for “white supremacist neo-Nazism” in 2019: Hot Topic Orthodox Russian Nationalism.

Their nickname is “Christ Gang.”

This idea of dressing up in bizarre costumes and marching through the streets for the glory of the white race never dies—but it does just keep getting weirder. I doubt that fat guy knows what that shirt he’s wearing says (yes, he is wearing a shirt with Russian writing on it—plus skulls). But as a Russian bot, I can tell you that the first part says “Orthodoxy or Death.”

So the new form of wignatism—which we might call Hot Topic Nationalism, or “hotopnat”—is threatening to kill anyone who doesn’t convert to Russian Orthodox Christianity. And they’ve got prayer beads and so on.

Try to imagine thinking that people would see that picture and say “wow, this really looks like something I’d like to be involved in.”

Then realize that no one anywhere would ever think that, then ask yourself “what exactly is the purpose of this then?”

Well, I’ll tell you who likes it.

The Anti-Defamation League likes it.

On April 4—probably just hours after this three-man Legion made their first public appearance—the ADL published an entire page about them.

And then an Antifa Wikipedia user put together a Wikipedia page about this rising neo-Nazi threat, which is very important to the public interest, because white people are planning to kill you if you don’t join the Russian church.

Here’s the account that created the page:

The log:

The page has since been deleted, because the only source was the ADL and the group’s own manifesto.

Here’s a cache of the page.

But I’ll tell you what.

That page will be back.

Because the ADL likes them and if the ADL likes them then that means the Jewish media likes them, and that means you’re going to be hearing a lot about them.

Adding a “we are agents of Russia and we will kill you if you don’t convert to a Russian religion” meme to street-marching white supremacist neo-Nazism was really a brilliant move. It’s bound to rocket them to super-stardom.

Sigh.

Every time I see this ultra-weirdo stuff and see the Jews jump up and down promoting it, I am reminded of this particular survey:

If the survey says 46% of whites don’t want America to become a white minority, you can be certain the actual number is significantly higher than that. There are large racial groups, including many Mexicans and Arabs, and of course Jews, who falsely identify as “white.” And obviously, not everyone who secretly thinks this is going to feel comfortable answering it on a survey. Plus you have the fact that it was 5-to-1 men answering “yes I worry.”

So probably, you've got a situation where upwards of 80% of white men are not comfortable with the idea of white people being racially replaced in America.

So to me at least, it is incredibly obvious that anyone who wants to advocate for the white race in America simply needs to tap into this major population of normal people who already agree. And—big think emoji coming at you—you most definitely do not do that by going out in Hot Topic costumes and threatening to kill anyone who doesn't convert to a Russian religion.

Assuming these St. Ambrose people are genuine, and just anti-social weirdos who can't process the basic nature of living in a society, and not the seemingly more likely thing—then why do they not present weirdo aesthetics that are already proven to be popular?

Specifically, I'm talking about juggalos—that is, the fandom of Insane Clown Posse.

This is a massive group of mildly anti-social people, which is 99% white, which is politically incorrect, which supports right-wing politics—and it is just waiting to be tapped into by someone who wants to bring that particular population group into white identity politics.

They were onto the Clown World meme 20 years ago, these people.

And there are hundreds of thousands of them. Basically, all working class white people are into this scene.

They already voted for Donald Trump.

And they're big supporters of the First Amendment, and are actually active in doing protests to support it. Including in Washington, DC.

And if Christianity is your main issue—they're all Christians.

Get this: Juggalos even have their own cryptocurrency.

There is no way that 100% of Juggalos aren't in the stated 46% of whites who don't want this country to become a minority.

Even the random colored person who's involved with the Juggalos would support that—they're obviously supporters and defenders of white identity, because Juggalos are the last stand of implicit white identity.

So if you're an awkward, fat weirdo—but one who honestly has good intentions, and wants to do what you can to help the white race—why not reach out to the Juggalos?

This to me seems like the most obvious thing in the world.

“Jugnat” sounds cool.

And as a fat guy, you're going to look a lot cooler in clown make-up and baggy Juggalo clothes than in a black mask and a tight Russian T-shirt—I can promise you that.

What's more—and you wouldn't probably have guessed this—the Juggalos have a whole bunch of good looking women in their community.

When was the last time you saw a weirdo neo-Nazi costume group with a bunch of hot women?

Look at this.

A lot of those girls are teenagers. People want to talk about family and natalism.

Obviously, you're not going to get women into your thing by talking about any form of politics—other than the occasional attention whore who specifically joins because of the extremely high male-to-female ratio. But if you associate your politics with Juggalos, you've immediately got a built-in female population for your group's male members to draw fertile wombs from.

People have accused me of being against wignats because I'm a suburban middle class elitist who wants everyone to look as dashing and dapper and as peak optics as AIM. This is utter slander.

I absolutely support reaching out to the working class. What I don't support is doing shit that is fucking disgusting and retarded. This tantrum activism street marching is designed specifically for the consumption of the Jewish media, and has zero appeal to the working class anyway.

It is condescending and offensive to the working class to tell them you're going to force some system on them, whether it is "socialism" or Russian Christianity. It's an insult to these people that you think you have a right to provide them with a completely new identity that you designed.

If you actually cared about reaching out to working class white people and getting them involved in white identity politics in an organized way, you would have the decency to meet them where they are. And where are huge number of them are is in the Juggalo scene.

I would 100% support an attempt to reach out to the Juggalo community and get them woke on white identity issues.

This is all about WINNING. Nothing else.

World News

Talk About a Tweet That Didn't Age Well. Jeez.

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

So on November 29, 2011, the game show host Donald Trump tweeted that he thought then president Barack Obama was going to start a war with Iran to win reelection.

In order to get elected, @BarackObama will start a war with Iran.

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) November 29, 2011

The irony of this aside.

Just...put that aside for a minute. Or forever. Because really, it just is what it is.

The more interesting thing about this tweet is that it shows that Donald Trump believes that starting a war with Iran is a plausible strategy for an American president to win reelection.

Will that work for him?

I don't really have a good guess on that. And I don't make predictions.

What I will say is that at this point, it couldn't possibly hurt. Assuming Joe Biden doesn't collapse with some gaff, he's really got his work cut out for him. And much easier than doing actual work—like, say, stopping the invasion, or at least maybe shutting down the tranny wellness centers for tranny immigrants—is starting a war.

So this whole false flag march to war definitely goes way beyond just shilling for Jews. It is an issue of his own personal interest.

If you're in Trump's shoes, and you don't really give a fuck about anything other than yourself, you've got a lot of reasons to start this war.

Sweden: Church Bombed for the Second Time

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Video Link

Explosions are part and parcel of living in Sweden.

Infowars:

A church in a migrant-heavy area of Sweden was targeted for a second time by a loud bomb blast that woke up shocked residents in the middle of the night.

Police were called to the site of the Syrian Orthodox Church St. Afrem in Södertälje after residents reported hearing a huge explosion at 3am.

According to reports, authorities quickly concluded that a device had been detonated in a building adjacent to the church which is rented out as a party room.

I assume the Moslems realized the “Church” of Sweden is literally their greatest ally, and started focusing on the other, presumably saner ones.

Video Link

Have you noticed that (((Rebel Media))) never seems to be affected by any (((YouTube))) purges for some reason?

Police say the fact that this is the second time the church has been targeted—there was another explosion last fall—means there is probably “a motive against the church”.

You needed a second bomb to figure out someone might not like that church? Wasn't just one enough?

Authorities said such attacks are difficult to investigate because “the perpetrators disappear quickly from the site”.

AHA!

So this was the trick to committing the perfect crime all along—just sprint and you'll be fine.

Criminal masterminds in action

I don't know what the minimum requirements are for being a cop in Sweden, but they seem very, very low.

Sodertalje, a city 30 kilometers southwest of Stockholm, has a large immigrant population which was swelled by the most recent “refugee” wave. More than 50 per cent of the population now hail from migrant backgrounds.

According to a Radio Sweden report, Sodertalje received “the largest percentage of refugees and this in turn has caused major problems.”

“Problems” are just a Nazi word used by Nazis to make people think that diversity isn’t our greatest strength.

Anybody who looks at what Sweden was like before diversity knows it’s much better today.

They literally didn’t have meat-on-a-stick shops back then!

Video Link

Checkmate Nazis!

Germany: Gang of Syrian Youths Provide Train Passengers with Some On-Board Vibrancy

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

These were a surprisingly well-behaved bunch—not a single rape or stabbing.

No wonder the police just let them off.

Infowars Europe:

A gang of Syrian teens tormented train passengers in Germany over the course of a holiday weekend, sexually harassing girls, threatening families, and even pulling a knife in one incident, according to local media.

The suspects were reportedly arrested multiple times, but continued their reign of terror upon release, and are currently at large after wreaking havoc on Deutsche Bahn trains in the state of Saarland.

“As Karsten Eberhardt of the Federal Police Office in Bexbach reported on Tuesday, his colleagues were alerted for the first time on Friday (7 June),” Saarbrücker Zeitung reports. “In the regional train between Neunkirchen and Homburg, at 4:40 pm, one of the youth gang pulled out a knife and threatened to use it.”

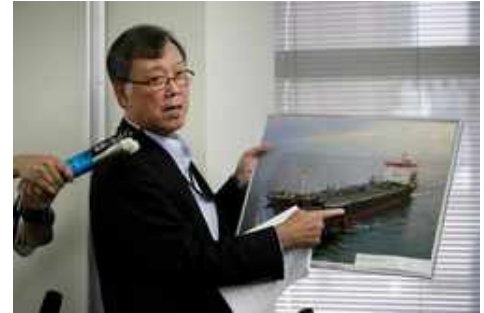

“Only a day later, the trio turned their attention to a family and their children, as well as girls who they harassed. At 7:30 pm the investigators had to move in to stop the gang on the train from Saarbrücken to Homburg.”

A train conductor called police again on Sunday to alert them about the gang, who were arrested and later released, despite reportedly confessing to some of their misdeeds.

Police say they range in age from 14 to 16 and come from Syria, but hold permanent residence permits in Germany.

Donald Kushner Thinks You’re Stupid Enough to Believe Iran Wants a War Because They’re Metaphysically Evil

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

A Japanese man explains that Fat Mike is full of shit, and that this wasn’t caused by a mine.

There is no potential economic benefit to launching a war against Iran.

In fact, it will cost America trillions of dollars. And simply normalizing relations with the country would be a huge economic benefit to America.

So Fat Mike and his orange retard have to come up with an alternative reason to start this war.

They’ve settled on a classic line of reasoning: the enemy is simply driven by metaphysical evil.

It makes it really easy to explain why Iran would randomly start bombing tankers.

RT:

Tehran has nothing to gain from attacking the oil tankers, defense analyst and retired Lt. General Amjad Shoaib said.

“Why would Iran do it? They have no reason to go to war and they have no reason to escalate the situation,” he stressed.

Tehran has adamantly denied any involvement. Iranian Foreign Minister Javad Zarif described the incident as highly suspicious, adding that Washington's evidence-free accusations are designed to "sabotage" Iran's diplomatic efforts.

Experts noted the strange timing of the attack, which came as Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was meeting with Iran's Supreme Leader, Ali Khamenei, marking the first time in 40 years that a Japanese leader had visited Tehran. Coincidentally, one of the oil tankers targeted in the attack was Japanese-owned.

The Japanese firm, Kokuka Sangyo Co, said on Friday that its tanker had been attacked by two "flying objects" but that there was no damage to the ship's cargo of methanol.

Kourosh Shamlou, an attorney and Middle East specialist, told RT that it would be completely illogical for Iran to quite literally torpedo such a historic summit, especially since doing so would play into the hands of Washington's anti-Iran hawks.

"I'm an attorney. You have to know for whom a crime is beneficial. We can see the geopolitical situation of Iran and the US in the Persian Gulf. We can say that the Iranians are not going to torpedo a ship that will lead to the Americans attacking them. It's going to give the Americans an excuse to attack Iran. So it cannot be the Iranians."

In fact, the incident has already had negative economic consequences for Iran, Hamed Mousavi, professor of political science at the University of Tehran and visiting professor at Carleton University, noted to RT.

"Iran's currency lost five percent of its value today just because of talk of escalating tensions as well as perhaps the possibility of war. I think right now Iran wants to de-escalate the situation with the United States," said Mousavi.

If you believe that Iran wants to start a war with America simply because they're evil, then I don't know what to tell you.

My hope is that most people won't believe that. Because it's the same thing they said about Saddam Hussein and every other Moslem, and it turned out to be total lies.

But people will tend to believe really stupid things, even after they're proven to be false.

We shall see.

Brenton Tarrant Pleads Not Guilty, Smiles, Flexes Muscles, MOSLEM Asks for 15 Minutes with Him

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

<https://webm.red/b402.webm>

Brenton Tarrant, the man who livestreamed his mosque visit back in March, still manages to upset MOSLEMS from behind bars.

New Zealand Herald:

Brenton Tarrant has today denied being the Christchurch mosque terror attacker and will stand trial in May next year.

The 28-year-old Australian national entered not guilty pleas during a short appearance at the High Court at Christchurch this morning.

He didn't deny being the shooter.

He pleaded not guilty to what they charged him with because he's a uniformed partisan fighting an occupying force, not a murderous terrorist.

Tarrant gave a slight smile when not guilty pleas were entered through his lawyer.

Wearing a grey sweatshirt and straining to hear discussions, he was not in the courtroom but instead appeared via audio visual link from Paremoro Prison in Auckland.

He constantly looked around during the hearing. Several cameras would have shown to him the courtroom, judge and lawyers but not the public gallery.

He also appeared to be flexing or stretching his neck at times.

The courtroom was filled with victims—survivors and family members of the 51 killed during the March 15 attack at two Christchurch mosques—with many more watching from two overflow rooms inside the courthouse via audio visual link.

They reacted with gasps when the not guilty pleas were entered.

<https://webm.red/UEj6.webm>

All of the victims kept their eyes glued to the alleged gunman throughout the hearing. Many were visibly upset. One woman hugged a cuddly toy.

A trial date of May 4 was confirmed by Justice Cameron Mander. The Crown believes the trial could last around six weeks. Defence counsel Shane Tait believes it could take up to three months.

<https://webm.red/OGMV.webm>

The accused gunman now faces a total of 51 murder charges and 40 attempted murder charges—along with the terrorism charge.

When due process fails us, we really do live in a world of terror.

<https://webm.red/h2BV.webm>

...a world full of monsters.

<https://webm.red/Us8m.webm>

...a world full of legends.

<https://webm.red/qxBy.webm>

...and a world full of fake heroes.

Daily Mail:

A mosque hero who chased away the Christchurch shooter has slammed the accused Australian man for smiling in court.

Abdul Aziz, 48, called accused shooter Brenton Tarrant a ‘coward’ for smirking as he pleaded not guilty to shooting dead 51 worshippers outside Christchurch District Court on Friday.

Abdul Aziz

Survivors gasped and cried when Tarrant, originally from Grafton, New South Wales, entered the pleas to all 92 charges via video link from a maximum-security prison in Auckland.

Mr Aziz was later confronted by a man who espoused white supremacist views outside of the court.

Abdul Aziz confronted by a man

Hero Mr Aziz defended the Linwood mosque, Tarrant’s second target, with an Eftpos machine and chased the shooter during the live-streamed massacre.

‘He was laughing there (in court) and he thinks he was so tough, but he was a coward when he faced me and he ran,’ he said.

You either didn’t run after him hard enough or you’re just too out of shape to catch him, Aziz.

‘He was not man enough to stand up that time and (now) he’s standing there and laughing.

‘Put me for 15 minutes in one cell and then we will see if he can laugh any more.

‘It was very hard for us even just to look at him.’

Temel Atacocugu, shot nine times during the attack, said he was putting his faith in New Zealand’s legal system.

‘We are strong. He is the loser and we are the winners. He will lose,’ he told reporters.

Yes, Aziz, you are a strong, manly man who finds “very hard” to just look at Brenton Tarrant.

WARNING: GRAPHIC

<https://webm.red/mDyT.webm>

People who don’t find looking at Brenton Tarrant “very hard” can watch his livestream footage and read his manifesto here.

What better way to know what happened than to see what happened?

What better way to know why it happened than to read what Brenton Tarrant had to say about it?

<https://webm.red/o3UB.webm>

They won’t be able to rewrite history and change the facts.

We can see the facts.

We can read the facts.

You can expect Brenton Tarrant to continue making MOSLEMS cry all throughout his trial.

It's all very inspiring.

<https://webm.red/bx46.webm>

Paki Yasmin Alibhai-Brown is Aghast at the Idea That British People Might “Be Able to Say What They Like”

Frei
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Video Link

Paki Yasmin Alibhai-Brown (YAB) is aghast at the idea that British people might, in the future, be able “to say what they like.” She was attacking Boris Johnson, who, at a press conference earlier in the week, defended his right to compare burka-wearing Moslem women to letter-boxes.

Are we saying that we should be free to say whatever we like?

He's given permission. What people want is not to veil what they think.

If we don't really veil what we think in public spaces, what happens next?

I know what happens next. People feel they're free to call me Paki.

This is a Prime Minister in waiting. Is he telling the people 'Just go round saying what you want'?

I mean the man's a cad!

Heaven forfend that the British people should ever be at liberty to call this Paki a Paki!

If Brits were indeed ever able to talk freely about her, YAB might well become one of the few non-Jews in history ever to unlock the achievement of being expelled from multiple countries in the course of a single lifetime.

Because after mulling it over, they would probably decide that they didn't like her very much, any more than Idi Amin did for that matter (her last expeller). And can you blame the Ugandans, really?

The Independent:

We Asians did not share our wealth and skills as much as we should have, and we did illegally send out money—both accusations levelled by Amin. And most Asians were deeply racist, unable to imagine marrying Africans and living with them as equals. Like all racists we fantasised that Africans wanted to possess our women. So rumours spread that hundreds of “our” girls were raped by black Ugandans, unsubstantiated wild allegations that were repeated in a newspaper only this week.

Pakis were brought to Uganda by Britain's imperial administrators to do clerical work they considered too menial for Brits but too intellectually demanding for blacks. The fact that it sowed ethnic strife among the brown folks was just a bonus. “Keep the wogs fighting each other instead of us, eh what, old chap! Brilliant, old boy! Brilliant! Bottoms-up and tally-ho!”

Diversity is such a brilliant, life-affirming social strategy that conquerors throughout the ages have used it to disempower and destroy the peoples they wanted to subdue!

Without really meaning to, Yasmin Alibhai-Brown has done much to raise the posthumous reputation of Idi Amin. The jolly big black man really took the measure of her. He actually met her personally when she was just a student and he was head of the military. Perhaps it was with this experience in mind that he decided to expel all Asians not long after becoming Uganda's supreme ruler, with the title “His Excellency, President for Life, Field Marshal Al Hadji Doctor Idi Amin, VC, DSO, MC, CBE, Lord of all the Beasts of the Earth and Fishes of the Sea, and Conqueror of the British Empire in Africa in General and Uganda in Particular.”

Idi Amin has gone down in history as a maniacal monster. But was he really that bad? The truth is he was a man who stood up fiercely for the interests of his people and it was only when he went against the Jews that machinations were set in motion against him to bring his rule to an end.

Video Link

It may be time to revisit the official history of the "Butcher of Uganda" and compare it to some of the other official histories whose deficiencies have now become apparent. The world needs more proud tribal warriors of Idi Amin's stamp. Idi Amin nationalism may be coming back.

Ebola-Chan Reaches Uganda, Already Killing Blacks

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Ebola-Chan has raped Uganda's border and is now on official cleanup duty there too.

BBC:

A 50-year-old woman infected with Ebola has died in western Uganda, a day after her five-year-old grandson died.

They are the first cases reported there since the virus spread over the border from Democratic Republic of Congo, where nearly 1,400 people have died.

Three suspected Ebola patients have also run away from an isolation centre in south-western Uganda.

YES! I mean...no. That's terrible. They'll infect everyone and veterinarians won't be able to track the spreading. What a tragedy.

The head of a major medical charity has called the latest outbreak of Ebola in central Africa "truly frightening".

...

On Friday the World Health Organization (WHO) will decide whether the outbreak should now be deemed a global health emergency.

Declaring the outbreak a global health emergency would be a move intended to get more white people to throw more resources at blacks and to send more veterinarians to Africa.

"Oh no! Niggers are dying in Africa—this is somehow everyone's problem!"

Besides, global health emergency? Niggers in niggerland are the only ones affected.

Just cut off all contact with blacks and problem solved.

Let them fight their own battles and the rest of the world will be safe.

Twenty-seven people are said to have been in contact with the three confirmed cases in Uganda. They have been restricted to their homes and will be vaccinated against Ebola.

She's off to a good start.

Remember to thank her. Your support is fueling her Holy War.

These numbers may not look like much now, but one mistake from white veterinarians is all it would take for Ebola-Chan to be unleashed on a major city.

Once she's in and completely free, there'll be no stopping her.

While His Fat Man Starts a War, Donald Kushner Meets with the Man Who Would be King of the Whales

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

I make typos, you make typos. Neither of us is the President of the United States.

Furthermore: I don't think that's a typo. I think he thought that's how you spell "Wales."

Maybe he used to know how to spell "Wales" before he went senile, maybe he didn't.

I used to defend these sorts of things, or just laugh.

I actually did laugh when he fist-bumped the Queen, because that is bloody hilarious.

But this orange individual's utter and complete lack of seriousness is becoming increasingly intolerable.

While he was mocking both himself and the world by talking about a Whale Prince, his Jews and his fat man were staging a fake attack on a Japanese boat as part of a project to launch an insane war of aggression against a country five times the size of Iraq.

And even that is a bungled retard job.

What kind of sense does it make that Iran would invite the Prime Minister of Japan to their country, and then bomb one of their ships during the meeting?

This is the first Japanese official visit to Iran in over 40 years, and it is also the closest Iran has been to collapsing in the entire history of the Islamic regime. Yet Donald Kushner's fatman expects us to believe they decided to bomb their ships during the meeting?

He must think we're as stupid as he is fat.

Because just try to imagine for a minute what this meeting would look like.

Javid Zariff: Supreme Leader, by the grace of Allah the Japanese have accepted our invitation to discuss reducing Western pressure and reopening trade. The Prime Minister will be coming to meet with you on June 13th.

Ayatollah Khamenei: Excellent. Prepare the torpedoes. We will shoot their ships during the meeting. This will truly show the Japanese that Allah rules the seas.

Javid Zariff: Absolutely brilliant plan, Supreme Leader. It is time that the Japanese learned a lesson. Their perverse cartoons are a blight upon the television screens of Allah's earth.

Ayatollah Khamenei: Proudful Japan should have known better than to agree to a meeting with the servants of Allah most merciful, peace be upon him.

Javid Zariff: Soon, Japan will finally fall to the will of Allah.

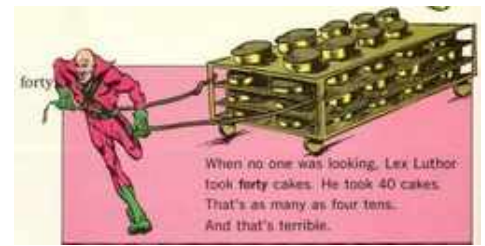

Ayatollah Khamenei: ALLAHU AKBAR!

Javid Zariff: ALLAHU AKBAR!

Mike Pompeo thinks that we think all Moslems are comic book villains.

And not modern comic book villains who have motivations. But the old-style comic book villains from when comic books were made for actual small children—they were just evil for no reason.

In real life, if Iran were going to torpedo Japanese ships—because of some inexplicable anti-Japanese agenda—why would they first invite Japan to a meeting?

To make it look they didn't do it?

But if everyone knows they did it—it's so obvious that Mike Pompeo says they don't even need evidence—then why would they make an attempt to make it look like they didn't do it?

They would obviously know that America would blame them.

Basically, the only way that the story could possibly make any sense is if Iran did it to make it look like the US did it as a false flag. A double false flag.

But that still would make no sense, because no one on earth is going to dare call out Mike Pompeo for this hoax, just like no one called him out on his eating patterns which led to a chronic endocrine disorder.

Talk about a Prince of Whales—WOW.

It's no wonder Pompeo is wrangling Japan into his evil scheme.

This guy has had a vendetta against the Japs ever since they tried to harpoon him in what many called “the most genuinely honest mistake in all of history.”

FALSE FLAG: US Blames Iran for Alleged Torpedo Attack on Japanese Tankers! Get Ready!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Video Link

Two Japanese oil tankers have been bombed—or something—while the Ayatollah of Iran was in a meeting with the Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe.

The Jewnited Snakes of Kikemia are saying Iran did the attacks!

RT:

US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has said Washington believes Iran is behind the attack on two Japanese tankers in Gulf of Oman. He believes Tehran wants to end “successful maximum pressure campaign” of Washington’s sanctions.

“This is only the latest in the series of attacks instigated by the Republic of Iran and its surrogates against American allies and interests. They should be understood in the context of four years of unprovoked aggression against freedom-loving nations,” Pompeo said.

Video Link

Earlier on Thursday, two oil tankers, identified as Marshall Islands-flagged Front Altair and the Panama-flagged Kokuka Courageous, were rocked by explosions in the Gulf of Oman. There’s so far little information on what actually happened, but one of the vessels was reportedly hit by a torpedo. Iran said it had rescued 44 sailors from the distressed tankers and called the incident “suspicious.”

Pompeo didn’t provide any proof for his claims, but reminded reporters that back in April Iran threatened to interrupt the flow of oil through the Strait of Hormuz.

He listed a series of incidents in the Middle East, including the attack on tanker ships at port in the United Arab Emirates, that US has blamed on Iran. There has been no proof offered by the US that Tehran is behind the attacks, and Iran denies any involvement.

Pompeo, however, claimed that Tehran was “lashing out” at Washington’s “successful maximum pressure campaign” which has consisted of several layers of sanctions.

US ambassador to the UN Jonathan Cohen has been instructed to bring up “Iran’s attacks” in the UN Security Council session on Thursday afternoon.

Christ have mercy on us all.
We are rolling straight into this.

There is absolutely zero chance that this was an Iranian attack. It is 100% pure hoaxery.

And the fat fuck Mike Pompeo is behind it. This is the guy President Kushner’s Mossad handler picked to start this war.

He might not be the smartest guy in the room, but you can be sure he’s the fattest.

You can never trust a fat person. Everyone has flaws, but a fat person is willing to put their lack of self-control on full display, without normal human shame.

How many times did I say they were going to do this? I said it over and over and over again. This is the same stupid playbook. They start saying people are a threat, they pump it up, then they do a fake event to justify their own claims.

What purpose would Iran have in attacking Japanese boats? Are you insane? How stupid do these people think we are?

They’re saying they didn’t do it.

Reported attacks on Japan-related tankers occurred while PM @AbeShinzo was meeting with Ayatollah @khamenei_ir for extensive and friendly talks.

Suspicious doesn’t begin to describe what likely transpired this morning.

Iran’s proposed Regional Dialogue Forum is imperative.

— Javad Zarif (@JZarif) June 13, 2019

If they did it, and it’s absolutely prima facie that they did it (because they are purposefully trying to start a war with America for some unknown reason), why would they lie?

What kind of weird flex is it to invite someone to a friendly meeting with you—a meeting that is very important, convincing a close ally of the US that they are not a threat would be a huge deal—and then bomb their ships while they're in your country?

Literally an hour before the news breaks about the ships, we're hearing about the meeting.

BBC:

Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe has called on Iran to play a role in ensuring peace in the Middle East.

Mr Abe is in Tehran, hoping to ease tensions between Iran and the US.

He is the first Japanese prime minister to visit Iran in four decades and is due to meet Supreme Leader Ayatollah Khamenei.

Iran has been angered by sweeping US sanctions imposed after President Trump abandoned a deal in which the Iranians agreed to curb their nuclear programme.

What it looks like is that they were literally in the meeting together at the exact time the ships were bombed.

Who would want to bomb the Japs for engaging in talks with Iran, I wonder?

This makes a lot more sense as a Jewish threat to anyone who wants to engage Iran, as well as a pretext for further escalation of the Kushner Administration's march to war.

And they're just openly saying they don't have evidence?

What exactly are the chances that the US isn't tracking every single Iranian sea vessel in the Strait of Hormuz, using all types of futuristic technology?

I guess it doesn't matter how fucking stupid these Jews and fat people think we are, because they already banned anyone who is going to call this out from the internet.

On top of that, there is an active shilling effect.

Alex Jones is actually shilling.

He is literally saying "maybe Iran did it tho?" because he's trying to get uncensored and thinks he can maybe get it if he grovels like a servant whelp.

Look at this jacket he's wearing.

Fuck, fuck, fuck that jacket, Alex.

If Alex Jones—who literally asserts anything that happens is a hoax by default—is already banned but thinks if he's on good behavior and supports a war he might get unbanned, what do you think everyone who isn't banned yet is thinking now?

They know they are going to get banned for calling this out.

This is why you have free speech in the first place: so the government can't do whatever it wants without being questioned.

The "right to petition the government for the redress of grievances"—as in "I am aggrieved that you are hoaxing bombings of Jap ships in order to start a war for the Jews, and petition that you redress this grievance"—was in the Magna Carta—in 1215 AD!

But we can't petition for a redress of any grievances, because in 2019, libertarianism—a bizarre ideology that was not taken seriously before the 1980s—is more important than the Bill of Rights.

All publishing capacity is privately owned, and a private company can do anything they want to you, so you can't publish anything. But you still have freedom of speech technically, because you can still go out in the street and say things.

You'd just better hope DeAndre Harris doesn't show up and attack you with a bat.

Because if that happens, you'll have to go to prison.

At this point, it is all just simply exhausting.

But here we are.

This is the first big test of the censorship regime:

Can the Kushner Administration get away with starting a war with Iran based on the stupidest fake news story I've ever heard?

John McAfee Vows to Destroy Glow in the Dark CIA Niggers!

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

John McAfee is a literal walking meme. You may not like it, but he's the absolute peak of what an Ancapistani citizen should aspire to be.

He checks all the boxes and does all the hobbies.

These include: not paying his taxes, doing hard drugs, banging a harem of ugly women, raising a mulatto woman's children, living on a boat in South America, killing a man and then evading arrest by the government of a Third World country, designing and selling software, proselytizing bitcoin and now, apparently, picking a fight with the US government.

RT:

Bitcoin evangelist John McAfee has threatened to "bury" the US government if they keep harassing him over unpaid taxes, promising to leak a huge trove of files proving corruption throughout Washington and its allies.

"I've collected files on corruption in governments. For the first time, I'm naming names and specifics," McAfee warned in a string of tweets stretching back to Sunday. Vowing to release over 31 terabytes of "incriminating data" to the press if arrested or otherwise "disappeared," he posted the names of a "corrupt CIA agent and two Bahamian officials" along with claims they'd taken bribes and been involved with drug trafficking, apparently to show he was not bluffing.

Usually, when someone insists that they are not bluffing, they are almost always bluffing.

I am not implying that our entire Government is corrupt. I am saying that it is corrupt to the point that no-one is untouched by it. pic.twitter.com/q4IGdBKTGz

— John McAfee (@officialmcafee) June 10, 2019

McAfee is a trailblazer though, and may give us the first recorded instance of someone NOT actually bluffin' when they claim that they're not bluffing.

He also promised to release the names of "25 Congressmen and 5 Senators, from both Parties, who are coming up for re-election in 2020, and who MUST be recalled, and if that fails, booted out of office on election day" on Friday.

He's named names and he's going all in guns blazing!

And he's showing a conversation that he's had with people who he claims work for the CIA.

A clip of a conversation this afternoon between ex-CIA station head Robert David Steele and myself. If anyone doubts my dark mood please read this: pic.twitter.com/2rfNTVlQnT

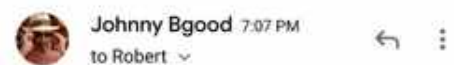

— John McAfee (@officialmcafee) June 10, 2019

The cryptic email screenshot that he posted:

Burn his ass, take photos, I will post them. Probably not a real case officer, just a light weight paramilitary.

Show quoted text

Mr. Steele. I am no longer in the shadows. I have kept my peace and taken no action against pretended friend and outright foe alike. But I have strapped on my buried guns, and woe be it to anyone who stands in my way. There is not a single scrap of information writhing in this corrupt world that I cannot uncover. The U.S. Government has never faced a foe like me before. And I am a most reluctant foe - have done everything within my power to keep the peace. But, as resilient as I have tried to be, I will suffer this onslaught no longer. Those who have awoken me will soon see their error.

I remain your friend for as long as you can take the reflected heat.

Show quoted text

...aaaaand that's where the whole story starts to fall apart.

What he wrote doesn't make any sense and reads like the typical self-indulgent nonsense that a LARPing Boomer would write on some internet forum, not something that a normal person would write to a CIA agent.

Furthermore, all the replies in his Twitter feed appear to be bots talking about bitcoin.

Which hints at the fact that McAfee has bots out there shilling "Bit-coin" services of some kind that he's selling.

A quick timeline search reveals just that:

The McAfee Magic trading platform is now up and running. You've never seen anything like it!<https://t.co/5jRN3sSyUg>

– John McAfee (@officialmcafee) June 12, 2019

The timing of his weird LARP seems to hint at the fact that this is all just one big stunt for media exposure so that this Boomer can make some more money to keep up an expensive drug habit and not anything serious.

I mean, could you imagine a CIA agent willingly approaching someone as unstable and unhinged as this guy and enlisting him in some sort of project/entering into some sort of relationship with him?

It beggars belief.

So I'm calling out McAfee's bluff.

And I'm donating all the "Bit-coin" that he donated personally to me for work I do from the Stormer to an Aryan prison gang because I no longer want anything to do with McAfee's tainted money.

Please consider donating "Bit-coin" to the Stormer as we won't be able to rely on this Boomer's shekels any longer.

UK: Ancient 36-Year-Old Whore Glasses 18-Year-Old Woman, Scarring Her for Life Over a Seat

Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Kelly Dunning, 36

Old women hate younger women with all their guts.

This one attacked an 18-year-old just because she took her seat.

Daily Mail:

A businesswoman who smashed a glass of vodka on a teenager's face while serving a suspended sentence for threatening her own daughter with a knife has been jailed.

Kelly Dunning, 36, attacked 18-year old Casey Pritchard in response to the teenager asking her to move so her friend could sit back down beside her.

The mother-of-two had sat in the empty chair while Miss Pritchard's friend was in the toilet.

When asked to move, Dunning demanded the victim fight her outside and threatened to set her own teenage daughter on her.

Miss Pritchard suffered wounds to her forehead and the bridge of her nose and has been left with permanent scarring to her face.

The younger woman, by taking the old slut's seat, symbolically replaced the old with the new in society. Women hate that. Some even go crazy because of it. The thought of fertile women with no bags under their eyes replacing them is nightmarish for them.

Police who arrested Dunning, of Stockport, Greater Manchester, discovered she was in breach of a suspended jail term for threatening her own daughter at knifepoint.

She had also been issued with a five-year Criminal Behaviour Order following trouble with her neighbours.

Dunning blamed her violent behaviour on resorting to 'extreme alcohol abuse' after her boyfriend left her on the night she had attended the funeral of her parent.

...

Prosecuting Miss Nicola Carroll said: 'During the evening Miss Pritchard's friend went to the toilet and the defendant came and sat in the friend's seat. Miss Pritchard told the defendant her friend would be back shortly but the defendant became very hostile and repeatedly told her to come outside. Miss Pritchard took that as a threat and refused to leave her seat and go outside to fight.

'But the defendant at one point then offered to get her daughter down who is roughly the same age as Miss Pritchard, to fight her. The defendant then picked up Miss Pritchard's drink, containing vodka, and threw it into her face both the glass and the contents hit her in the face causing wounds to her forehead and the bridge of her nose.

Her daughter being about 18 years old explains why she hates her too.

That boyfriend she mentioned probably left her for a young woman too.

Being in close proximity to old women is dangerous for young women.

These old harpies are always thinking of ways to harm them. From keeping them from marrying good men (because the old hags think good men should be reserved for them) and skinny-shaming them to encouraging abortions and literally glassing their face.

We have to keep our young womb containers safe. The way to do that is to cage all of them. Once the womb container contains a womb that's passed its expiration date, it should be shipped to a warehouse to keep them as far away as possible from the young ones so they can't poison their minds.

Caging women also keeps them safe from blacks, browns, the dangers of the outside world, and pretty much everything.

It's a win-win solution that will help secure the existence of our wombs and a future for ARYAN WAIFUS.

If we don't keep them away from the Mordorlings, this:

Will turn into this in a few generations:

France: Le Pen to Stand Trial for Posting Pictures of Moslems Killing People

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Video Link

In China, the only thing you can't do is actively oppose your rulers, and you have to do something serious to get more than a warning, a fine or just have your internet access restricted for a while.

In the West, you can go to prison just for saying who your rulers are or, as in this case, showing people what the creatures your rulers are flooding your country with will do to them once they have the ability to do so.

Which one would you prefer?

The Local:

The president of France's far right Rassemblement National party Marine is set to stand trial over her tweeting of gruesome images of Isis atrocities in the Middle East, which included a photo of the decapitated body of US reporter James Foley.

A judge in Nanterre, just west of Paris, issued the ruling after Le Pen was charged back in February 2018 for circulating "violent messages that incite terrorism or pornography or seriously harm human dignity" and that can be viewed by a minor.

That last part really amused me.

Minors can get their dicks cut off, but can't see pics of people with their heads cut off.

Look how much freedom you have, goyim!

The crime is punishable by up to three years in prison and a fine of 75,000 euros ($91,000).

Three years of prison for posting some pictures on the internet!

This is human rights democracy on STEROIDS.

French prosecutors opened an investigation in December 2015 into the graphic series of tweets by National Front leader Le Pen, which included a photo of the decapitated body of US reporter James Foley. They were posted just a few weeks after the Paris terror attacks.

The move by a judge in Nanterre, just outside Paris, came after the National Assembly voted in November to strip the National Front president of her parliamentary immunity over the three photos of Isis violence.

In March 2017 year MPs in the European parliament voted to strip Le Pen of her immunity around the case in order to allow the prosecution to proceed.

“This only shows French citizens what the EU is, what the European Parliament is and that it’s all part of the system that wants to stop the French people’s candidate that I am,” the anti-EU Le Pen said in response to the move.

Fun fact: parliamentary immunity exists to defend opposition politicians from being prosecuted for political reasons by the politicians in charge.

It doesn’t seem to be working very well, does it?

Le Pen had refused to attend a police interview over the investigation by police in the Paris suburb of Nanterre, citing her status as an MEP.

“I am being charged for having condemned the horrors of Daesh,” Le Pen told AFP.

“In other countries this would have earned me a medal.”

Which country gives you a medal for posting on Twitter?

She’s not really that bright, this one, but she’s the best the French have, poor bastards...

The images were tweeted with the caption “This is Daesh” (an Arabic acronym for the Islamic State group) and showed Foley’s bloodied body with his decapitated head on his torso, a man on fire in a cage, and a victim being driven over by a tank.

Foley, a freelance journalist, was captured in Syria in 2012 and beheaded in August 2014.

Le Pen, who has over two million Twitter followers, addressed the tweets to BFM TV journalist Jean-Jacques Bourdin, whom she accused of likening her party to the jihadist group.

Because if there’s one kind of speech that’s really free, it’s bloodlibeling people who don’t want terrorists in their country as being terrorists.

BTW, that BFM TV thing is owned and run by this Jew, just in case you were worried that there’s some media outlet anywhere in France that isn’t under kike control.

Foley’s bereaved parents John and Diane said they wanted the images removed immediately, accusing Le Pen in a statement of using the “shamefully uncensored” image to her own political ends.

Her political ends are, at least in theory, not letting the people who killed your son flood her country.

You would be agreeing if you weren’t a bunch of filthy cucks just like your faggot son was.

The worst thing about sharing things like this is that it might make some people think that flooding your country with sandniggers might not be the best idea ever.

In September 2018, Le Pen revealed on Twitter her shock and anger at being ordered to undertake a psychiatric assessment in relation to her tweets.

This is common practice in any system created by Jews, be it in the Soviet Union or in America—everybody who doesn’t like Jews or disagrees with anything Jewish is just labeled mentally ill.

Because you’d have to be crazy to disagree with “God’s Chosen,” amirite?

Watch: Racist Irish Teen Girls Lose Their Shit When They Hear a Mexican Speaking Spanish in Dublin

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Video Link

Highlights from the girls' talking points:

- He doesn't belong there
- Why is he there if he doesn't belong there?
- He's an immigrant that was born in a different country
- The girls think the Mexican is a pedophile who's taking videos of a kid
- "PEEEEEEDOPHHHHHHHHHHHHHLE!"
- WHAT THE FUCK DOES THE MEXICAN WANT?!
- Their problem is that he doesn't belong in that country
- Why is he there?
- Why is he a pedophile?
- He's a pedophile taking a video of 12-year-old kids
- One of the girls physically attacks him
- What's their problem? He's their problem
- WHY IS HE TAKING A VIDEO?
- Why take videos of teenage girls?
- He's taking videos of teenage girls

- "DELETE THE VIDEOS YOU FOREIGN CUNT!"
- He's an immigrant
- If he deletes the videos, one of the girls will accept his apologies
- The girls say they lost their shit because he was taking videos of them first

These girls were hanging out with a diverse-skinned biker kid so they are not quite ARYAN WAIFU material, but nonetheless the video is pretty funny.

Daily Mail:

Two young Irish girls unleashed a tirade of anti-immigrant abuse at a Mexican man who was speaking Spanish during a phone call in Dublin.

A video thread of the disturbing encounter earlier this month was captured by the alleged victim—a man named Dave Monklova—and shared to Twitter, where it has since gone viral.

This is the Mexican that was clearly following the girls around:

Dave Monklova

From 1:45 in the video:

"Why are you a pedophile?"

"Well, I'm from Mexico."

Mr Monklova also shared the footage in a group on Facebook made up of Mexicans living in the Irish capital.

He claims the youngsters assaulted him off camera and broke his earphones but in subsequent posts made sure to say that the incident was an isolated one and Ireland has been a largely positive experience for him during his one year living there.

Mr Monklova said he was in a neighbourhood in South Dublin making his way to a friends house to watch the Champions League final on June 1 when he was set upon by two girls who began their 'racist' and 'xenophobic' onslaught.

Describing the incident the same evening, he said he went through an 'unpleasant experience with some young Irish people'.

He added: 'I called my friend and when they heard me speak Spanish, they told me: 'You are in Ireland you must speak English', I ignored them as any other [person] would do then I began to record them just in case they kept saying 'you are an immigrant, return to your country'.'

In the video shared online the girls can clearly be heard telling Monklova: 'You don't belong here.'

'No I don't belong, I'm a student and what's your problem with that?' Monklova asks calmly in response.

'Cause you're an immigrant and you were born in a different country,' says one of the girls.

Both girls then begin screaming into his camera and swearing at him before a young boy arrives and exposes his buttocks to Monklova, who is repeatedly branded a 'peadophile' by the girls who are clearly discontented by him videoing them.

The victim said he contacted the Irish police and even his own embassy in Dublin. He also revealed in a later post on Facebook that family members of the girls had been in touch with him.

He said: 'I appreciate the multiple samples of solidarity that both Mexicans and Irish have expressed to me, including relatives of the people involved.

'It is an isolated incident that does not reflect the true hospitality that characterizes the Irish in general, this is a lesson for both parts we must all learn some of this, after living a year here I have never had anything similar.

Imagine if all women went nuts like this when seeing some foreigner.

Feels good.

Not everything is what it seems, though.

If this Mexican played his cards right, he could have ended up banging the brunette.

That girl was visibly interested in him.

She was clearly enjoying the whole exchange.

You know this because she spent a lot of time and effort trying to engage the filthy Mexican while the other girl and the boys were just like “chill let’s just go elsewhere,” and her facial expressions signaled some kind of twisted attempt at hate-flirting reminiscent of women with Borderline Personality Disorder.

She also hit him. She got tired of waiting for him to initiate physical contact and went for the safe “not a slut” thing, which is physically “attacking” him.

He may still end up banging her now that he’s in contact with her parents since they’ll most likely push her into it as a way to atone for her racist sins, but she’d have been more into it if he had playfully teased her instead of trying to defuse the situation.

It’s a kind of Judo.

You can transmute intense emotions into something that benefits you. Everything but indifference works.

Remember: women can’t control their emotions...but you can.

If a woman is acting towards you like that brunette acted and you want to bang her, you have to throw more wood onto the fire first. You have to keep on the offense by acting like an unmovable rock that did nothing wrong (don’t raise your voice and don’t apologize, you can answer “no, you did” with a small grin to everything if you’re not feeling particularly creative) until she’s about to lose the last bit of shit she didn’t know she still had and THEN you do your SUPER SEX JUDO MOVE.

Your SUPER SEX JUDO MOVE will vary depending on the context.

If you can’t bang her right there because there’s people or whatever, you’ll want to insert a bit of humor and start teasing, playfully mocking and even playfully taunting her until a smile (no matter how small) escapes her lips. Once you’ve broken through her defenses, you’d have successfully converted what looked like hatred in pure sexual tension that you can later use to satisfy your own sick patriarchal desires.

If you can bang her right there, you may want to combine playful teasing with physical touch. The kind of touch will depend on you and your relationship with the screaming banshee, but your go-to move should be grabbing one of her hands and doing the teasing while pulling her towards you. You can continue talking while looking her in the eye and, once she’s close enough, alternate between her lips and eyes if she’s still talking like a possessed creep and she’ll get it.

If she doesn’t get it she’ll probably squeeze your balls until they bleed.

But hey, if you do this right, you two will bang. Okay?

Video Link

Under Pressure from the Global Anal Overlord Donald Trump, Botswana Legalizes Man-on-Man Sodomy

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Donald Trump—known to many as “The Anal Overlord”—and his Satan-worshipping Jew-convert daughter launched a global campaign to legalize anal sodomy and the chronic molestation of young men.

It’s global GRIDS month, and the “Lord of Buttfucking,” AKA The Orange “Buy This $35 Anal Hat” Man, is turning up the heat on African assholes.

Trump recognizes Pride month, global initiative to decriminalize homosexuality

4K 4K 4K 4K

Trump’s global campaign of homosexual terror appears to be working.

CNN:

Botswana’s High Court has overturned a colonial-era law criminalizing consensual same-sex relations in a landmark victory for Africa’s LGBTQ movements.

The court in the southern African country unanimously ruled on Tuesday that the legislation was discriminatory, unconstitutional and against the public interest.

“A democratic society is one that embraces tolerance, diversity and open-mindedness,” Justice Michael Leburu said, noting that discriminatory law not only serves as a detriment to LGBTQ people, but holds back all of society.

“Societal inclusion is central to ending poverty and fostering shared prosperity,” he said.

The ruling comes just a month after Kenya’s high court upheld its laws criminalizing homosexuality.

Under section 164 of Botswana’s Penal Code, “carnal knowledge of any person against the order of nature,” was an offense that carried a maximum sentence of seven years imprisonment. Section 167 made “acts of gross indecency” — whether in public or private — a punishable offense, with up to two years in prison.

The case was brought to court in March by Letsweletse Motshidiemang, a 21-year-old student at the University of Botswana, who argued that society had changed and that homosexuality was more widely accepted, local media reported.

The packed court erupted in cheers of joy upon hearing the verdict.

Cheers for reproductive organs getting rammed into the defecation orifice.

“We want men fucking each other up the ass. We want more men fucking other men up the ass than in any time in history. But we want them to do it LEGALLY.”

French Goon Squad Police Force Foils a Completely and Totally Real Life Neo-Nazi Terror Plot!

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

It is crystal clear that the French police clearly just set up some poor souls to fulfill their Bad Goys arrest quota.

AFP:

French police have smashed a neo-Nazi cell accused of plotting attacks on Jewish or Muslim places of worship, legal sources said Tuesday.

Five members of the group, who were “close in ideology to the neo-Nazi movement” were charged between September and May over the alleged plot, a source close to the investigation said.

“The investigation suggested they were developing an ill-defined plot to carry out an attack, likely to target a place of worship,” the judicial source said.

The sources gave no details of specific targets or motives.

...

In November, six people were arrested over an alleged plot to attack President Emmanuel Macron.

In July 2017, a 23-year-old was charged with plotting to assassinate the president at France’s Bastille Day military parade.

The man told investigators he wanted to kill Macron along with “Muslims, Jews, blacks and homosexuals,” and three kitchen knives were found in his car.

I’m going to be very blunt here: there is simply no such thing as “right-wing neo-Nazi terror networks.”

If there were such a thing, you wouldn’t be able to talk so much smack about White people and send goon squads to arrest kids goofing around with edgy memes in fake as fuck sting operations like this one. Because, obviously, if you started arresting right-wingers, it would lead to reprisals from White terror organizations, who would answer your provocation tit-for-tat.

Seriously, just look at the situation you have with the Moslems in the West. These bomby-bois killed a few journalists, blew up a few concert venues and knifed a few police officers and now badabing-badaboom, you and I are no longer allowed to say anything mean about them or “provoke” them in any way or we get arrested for “Hate Crimes.”

The government scaled back on the aggressive policing and arresting of Moslems because now they know that these peaceful model citizens might just kill hundreds of Frenchmen and make the government look very bad in the process if they’re having a bad day—so best leave them alone.

From the government’s perspective, because the Moslems are so dangerous, it is best to treat them with kids’ gloves and focus on easier prey—like rounding up the non-existent vast right-wing terror network that can’t actually do anything to harm anyone. This is the logic at the heart of the timid Western bureaucratic surveillance state’s decision-making rationale as they try to pilot the ship of state.

Any group that is actually a terror threat can never be treated like a terror threat because democratic governments are simply unwilling to deal with the consequences of confronting them. In other words, terrorism for any group, organization or ethnic community inside a larger territory is like what a nuclear bomb is for a country on the world stage.

Once you’ve got that weapon set up and loaded, no one can fuck with you anymore. In the case of both weapons, you become untouchable because there are vanishingly few governments in the world that can survive a nuclear barrage of their cities...or a determined terror campaign. To pull something like that off, you need elites that think in terms of decades and centuries and not just about the bad press they’ll get in the upcoming election cycle because of explosions going off in the capital.

Democratic governments are incredibly fragile and vulnerable to terror campaigns because politicians never tackle serious problems and always kick the can down the road. When it comes to terrorism, these governments always, always, always prefer to negotiate with the terrorists and just pay them off—one way or the other—instead of dealing with a couple of years of bombings, bad press, and skittish voters.

Keep this in mind: terrorism is not about racking up a huge kill count (although that certainly helps); it’s mostly about shock and awe—at least in a democratic society. Terror is used to make politicians skittish, give the press juicy footage of death and mayhem, and to get soccer moms watching the evening news to vote out the current government because they’re afraid little Timmy’s leg might be blown off at practice.

Following this logic, authoritarian governments are largely immune to terrorism. Or at least, terrorism takes on a different form, wherein key government officials are personally targeted because it makes no sense to terrorize the powerless average citizen—in fact, it is counter-productive.

If these right-wingers that got arrested were part of a serious terror network, there would be explosions going off right now.

But it's all quiet on the Western front.

The real terrorists are in fact these black-clad gumbas that they've got roaming around and picking-up randos that they probably found on Craigslist (who are willing to work part-time as terrorists or something), and whom the gumbas can ship off to prison so that they can fill their "right-wing terror network" arrest quota for the year.

They're the ones harassing citizens at random and keeping the population in a state constant terror for having the wrong opinions on brown people.

I really can't tell the difference between the various special police units in the West and the average terrorist because, at this point, there really is none. Average people really need to do themselves a solid and start realizing this obvious truth already.

That is a lot of boat trips. How can she even say that she was just "saving migrants in danger of drowning" with a straight face?

"Oh, yeah, I just happened to be around when they needed me more than 1,000 times lol I guess I'm just that helpful."

For doing so, she was charged in Sicily with assisting in illegal immigration before her boat was impounded in 2017.

Italy, under the influence of far-right interior minister Matteo Salvini, also moved to ban Klemp from sailing around their coasts all together.

Now, Klemp—who volunteers for month every year to save people—says she is ready to take the fight all the way to the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg, France, if she has to.

She should go ahead and take the fight there. It would be interesting to see how that develops.

This whore is literally helping invaders invade a country that's not even hers, but she's supposed to be able to do that because the invaders have the human right to rape your borders and enter your country against your will.

Italy: German Slut Boat Captain Faces Up to 20 Years in Prison for Trafficking Invading Hordes

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Pia Klemp, 35

This old slut has a lot of tattoos and a lot of love to give to "immigrants." What she doesn't have is kids, obviously.

Daily Mail:

A German boat captain faces 'up to 20 years in prison and horrendous fines' for her part in saving migrants in danger of drowning after failed attempts to enter Europe through the Mediterranean.

Pia Klemp, a 35-year-old Bonn native, is thought to have been personally responsible for up to 1,000 rescue missions, according to some reports.

Involving the European Court of Nigger Rights would help clarify if you also have to give the invaders massages and take them to movies after you "rescue" them.

You know, human rights.

At the time of writing, she has the support of 78,432 people who have signed a petition calling for impunity in her case and for wider incidences of sea rescues of this nature.

The author of the petition said that charging Klemp and fellow members of private rescue ships would signal the ‘unconditional surrender of humanity in Europe.’

Klemp has been under investigation since her vessel, the Iuventa, was impounded in the summer of 2017.

In an interview with the Basler Zeitung daily on Friday, she said that her trial is almost ready to begin, leading her lawyer warn her about the possible repercussions for her actions.

She told the Swizz paper that although she may face legal travails, the worst thing about the episode is that the money she will use in her defence—partly raised through donations—could have been used on rescue missions.

The absolute insanity of traitors.

No. How about we use that money on something nice? Like torturing traitors or helping families start businesses.

This “kids in Africa could have eaten that” attitude is self-hate.

It is suicidal.

It is Apocalyptic.

“Food grows out of white people.”

Kids in Africa will eat everything you give them and then some. Then they will reproduce and multiply and eat everything around them until there’s nothing left and they all starve to death, because all the white people died after wasting all the resources on them and there’s no one else to feed them.

Also in 2017, it was alleged by investigators that Klemp’s ship was actually ‘collecting’ migrants at rendezvous points on the Med, effectively working with human traffickers.

Of course she was.
Just look at her.

Her boat was obviously not the only thing the nigger invaders were boarding.
That much is clear.

This is the face of depravity.

Italy: 15,000 Scum Working at Invader Centers to Lose Their Jobs Thanks to Salvini’s Cuts

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Video Link

“Look how eager they are to pay your pensions, goyim!”

Imagine tens of thousands of people literally making a living by destroying their own country, and getting paid by said country to do it.

How is that normal?

Breitbart:

Following a series of budgetary cuts as part of populist Italian Interior Minister Matteo Salvini’s security and migration decree, migrant helper associations claim they have been forced to lay off thousands of employees.

The Italian General Confederation of Labour (CGIL) union announced the complaint, saying that so far pro-migrant groups have been forced to lay off around 5,000 workers due to the funding cuts in the security decree and added that the social centres were looking at a total of 15,000 layoffs by the end of the year, Italian newspaper Il Giornale reports.

CGIL's Stefano Sabato commented on the effect of the migration funding cuts saying, "At the moment we have come to count about 5000 redundancy procedures, to which we are responding with the tools available, solidarity agreements, fund for wage integration, but our interest is to be able to restore ordinary social safety nets to cope with the dramatic situation that in this way we risk not being able to manage."

"If the Security decree is not reformed or amended within 12 months, we will still have to launch mass dismissal procedures," he added.

Aren't unions supposed to be for people who actually work for a living?

What exactly do these parasites do?

And how exactly are you helping the union members by flooding the country with foreigners, which can only lower their wages and make it harder for them to find jobs?

No wonder more than half the people in this communist front are pensioners.

The announcement of mass layoffs in the pro-migrant reception sector come only months after the left-wing groups complained that their profits were going to decline as a result of the security decree.

We rightfully talk about Jews all the time, but remember that there's an enormous number of non-Jews who make a ton of money out of bringing this filth here, all on taxpayer money that no taxpayer voted to give them.

Still, it's pretty impressive what the Lega has done in such a short time.

The Jews in the media like to call them fascists but the truth is they're actually pretty cucky, and yet they still managed to halt all boats to Italy to almost zero, massively cut back on the funds these parasites receive, and generally make life much harder for the invaders.

Never forget that all these insane things that Shlomo tells us are inevitable, unstoppable and irreversible can actually be fixed very fast by a government that actually wants to do it.

And we don't even have to run the governments directly ourselves—it's enough to just make the people who do fear us more than they fear Jews.

Angelina Jolie Role Plays as Daenerys Targaryen for Venezuelan Refugees

Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

The living mummy that enjoys messing with Brad Pitt's life is so hungry for attention that she took a page from a Game of Thrones character, Daenerys Targaryen, and decided to let browns worship her.

Breitbart:

Actress Angelina Jolie visited Venezuelan refugees in Colombia this weekend, praising them as the "strongest people in the world" while calling on the international community to provide more assistance.

Speaking to reporters in the city of Maicao, near the Venezuelan border, Jolie said that displaced Venezuelans were among the "strongest people in the world" after she met with children affected by the crisis.

Over four million people have fled Venezuela in response to the country's devastating economic and humanitarian crisis, triggered by over two decades of socialist rule under Hugo Chávez and his successor Nicolás Maduro. During their time in power, Venezuela has been transformed from one of Latin America's highest performing economies to one of the poorest nations in the world.

You can watch her call them “the strongest people in the world” below.

UNHCR special envoy Angelina Jolie called Venezuelan refugees at the Colombian border the “strongest people in the world” pic.twitter.com/MzvAvDh1r2

– TicToc by Bloomberg (@tictoc) June 8, 2019

Being incompetent beasts that ruined their own country on their own is apparently a strength, just like masculinity is a weakness, crying is brave, merits are evil, women are strong and independent, and so on and so forth.

“We need humanity more than ever, and rational thinking from people who are unafraid to take responsibility and show leadership.”

~ UNHCR Special Envoy Angelina Jolie's appeal near the Colombia-Venezuela border <https://t.co/rJGmyZUKj9> pic.twitter.com/8wIA8XIKhi

– UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency (@Refugees) June 9, 2019

The exodus from Venezuela is the largest and fastest movement of people in Latin America's recent history.

Nearly 1.3 million Venezuelans are now living in Colombia. Our Special Envoy Angelina Jolie is on the ground visiting with some of them right now. <https://t.co/a35flspzjO> pic.twitter.com/7kYZ3QmkMT

– UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency (@Refugees) June 8, 2019

All of this may have been just her cover.

It's likely that what she really was after was adopting adding a little brown ape to her family collection.

Russian Media Up in Arms Over Arrest of One of Their Own Journassaries!

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

A journalist was caught with drugs on him and is now facing prison time.

RT:

Three leading publications in Russia had almost identical frontpages on Monday: a joint statement demanding transparency and accountability for narcotics police officers, whom they suspect of framing an investigative journalist.

The three business outlets: Kommersant, RBC and Vedomosti, led their editions with the words: ‘I am/We are Ivan Golunov,’ referring to a Moscow-based reporter, who was accused by the police of being a drug dealer. The joint statement says the case was highly suspicious, the police likely violated the law when arresting Golunov, and that the Russian journalistic community and civil society in general expect a thorough and transparent investigation into the suspected abuse of power.

The opinion seems to be shared by a lot of media professionals in Russia. Many public figures made similar remarks in the past few days, as Golunov's case became a major scandal.

You can't really understand this story or make anything out of it without understanding that there is a whole elaborate ecosystem involving corruption, journalism and the intelligence services within Russia that is at play whenever a story like this breaks. Unless you are aware of the...biosphere that it takes place in, you can't properly contextualize any story coming out of Russia about internal Russian affairs involving scheming oligarchs, corrupt cops and jailed journalists.

But first things first.

You've got almost the same overarching problem in Russia as you do in the West because the media is full of liberal shills. This is a serious concern when you consider that no one can finish journalism school anywhere in the world (to my knowledge) without having to endure a thorough liberal indoctrination—and the only difference is just varying degrees of bad. What's worse, in Russia's case there are now Western-educated professionals who are returning home to pick up these jobs and promoting the same sort of Globo-Homo values that we rail against here at the Stormer.

The first faction is the government.

Which brings us to our second faction: businessmen.

Almost every single large publication with prestige and repute is liberal in Russia. There are a few genuine leftist (as in Communist) journals out there, but they don't have any real money behind them. Huge and powerful companies like Gazprom, which promote vital Russian interests like the Nordstream II pipeline, turn right around and use their money to fund liberal outlets like Echo of Moscow among others. You'll see why in a bit.

Basically, you've got powerful factions at the heart of every single internal scandal in Russia.

More specifically, it's the police, the FSB and other state organs that work like mini mafias in whatever city or region they're operating in. These people are constantly at odds with businesses and many ambitious public servants want to pull hostile takeovers on profitable projects. Usually, the average business in Russia is breaking a whole slew of laws and regulations, sometimes maliciously like hiring cheap Moldovan cleaning crews, or importing Uzbek migrant labor, or doing something relatively benign like not having all their paperwork in order. With the help of comprador bureaucrats, these clerical errors can become multi-million rouble court cases that can only really be solved by coughing up a ransom. Usually, these businesses can get away with paying manageable monthly protection money—a hidden tax, basically—and the matter ends there, but occasionally, the government officials will want more than the businessmen are willing to give.

Businessmen who do well in Russia quickly find that someone has been keenly following their recent successes and wants in on the pie. This can be another hostile business faction or it can be the government agencies. Sooner rather than later, they realize that they have to defend their business and that they can't rely on the courts or the rule of law to do so. They usually resort to hiring investigative journalists to dig up dirt on their opponents to gain leverage over their rival factions.

Faction for hire: the Journissaries.

Most journalists in Russia make their bread and butter by acting as mercenaries for one businessman or another. To be fair, there are journassaries that work for the government as well, but the big money is to be made in the employ of one business faction or another. The alliance between big business and the journassaries is what the "liberal" position in Russia boils down to.

They are constantly calling for an end to "corruption," but this basically boils down to a pro-business position that involves destroying the government factions with budget cuts, shuttering whole divisions and restructuring the court system to favor big businesses, not the government.

Most importantly, they want a loosening of government controls on what businesses can or can't do in Russia so that they can start playing in politics for real. That means being able to use their money to lobby and promote their own politicians. Some journalist periodically gets in too much trouble with one faction or the other and gets whacked (not so often anymore) or thrown into jail, and this is basically the subtext at the heart of every single scandal in Russia.

It's the corrupt government organs vs the dangerous business interests.

The latter faction favors pro-Western candidates like Aleksei Navalny—an astroturfed US asset who wants peace with the West at any cost and to loosen the shackles on big business.

So, if America has a system where you have business calling the shots on everything, so much so that every single politician is just a sack of meat with a spray tan that works for one business interest or another, Russia is not like that...yet.

Russia is a battle zone between business and government, that the government is winning. The idea is to create something more like what China has—which is state-controlled Capitalism. Business can make money, but they can't play politics. Furthermore, only businessmen that have friends in the Kremlin are allowed to prosper.

This is the lens that you have to use when you interpret any and all news coming out of Russia.

You always have to ask:

- What faction does the (dead/jailed/missing) journalist work for?

- What dirt did he dig up?

Ivan worked for Meduza, which is a liberal, anti-government paper comprised of exiled businessmen (lots of them Jewish) who have a secret club out in Latvia.

Bruh.

This is just the preamble.

I don't know why RT even reports on stories like this. I had to write one thousand words to just set the stage and bring everyone up to speed. Your average foreigner doesn't care about this story.

But the people who run RT's domestic news section are clearly Journissaries who belong to the same faction as Ivan, and they're closing ranks on this. They want to make this guy a cause célèbre in Russia to justify street protests and to create anti-Putin propaganda.

Hopefully, some of this Russki political theater is starting to make sense.

Central Americans Pursue Their American Dream Despite Mexico's Crackdown

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

One of AP's investigative fan-fiction journalists has written a piece explaining that the Hordes of Mordor won't stop their march towards the the Land of Man despite Mexico's border crackdown.

AP:

A near-death experience in the Arizona desert a year ago won't deter Francisco Pérez from another attempt to migrate to the U.S., nor will an increased police presence in southern Mexico.

The 23-year-old Guatemalan teacher and auto mechanic hopes to set out again soon to repay the $7,000 he owes from his first trip, when he and two other young men got lost for a week in the desert before being rescued by the U.S. border patrol.

On the seventh day, facing severe dehydration, the group resorted to drinking their own urine.

"Each of us urinated in a bottle and then strained it with the corner of our pants," said Pérez, rubbing his hands together as he recalled the day he thought would be his last.

Pérez spent two days in a U.S. hospital before being returned to Guatemala. During his short stay in Arizona, though, he caught a glimpse of houses with manicured lawns, orderly roads and fancy stores. Those images are like a siren's song, calling him to what he believes would be a better life.

Before setting out for the U.S., he earned $100 a month as a teacher and had a girlfriend. Now she is with somebody else and he's helping out in his father's auto repair shop in his hometown of San Marcos, just a few miles from the border with Mexico.

"In the end I lost everything," Pérez said.

Mexico has promised to deploy 6,000 National Guard troops to its southern border on Monday to deter Central Americans from trekking toward the American dream. About 1 percent of Guatemala's population of some 16 million people have left the country this year, part of a wave of Central Americans fleeing poverty, violence and drought.

U.S. Border Patrol agents apprehended 132,887 migrants in May, the highest monthly figure in more than a decade. Many Central American migrants in recent months have been requesting asylum. The United States has returned more than 10,000 U.S. asylum seekers to Mexico since January under a program that requires migrants to wait in that country while their cases wind through U.S. courts. Thousands of Central Americans have also applied for asylum to start new lives in Mexico.

The sights of beautiful neighborhoods and the smell of man-flesh are like “a siren’s song” for orcs, calling them to ruin and eat all of it.

“We are really in front of a humanitarian tragedy,” Mexico’s ambassador to the U.S., Martha Bárcena, told CBS News’ Face the Nation on Sunday.

Most Central American migrants come from rural areas, Bárcena noted, suggesting that Mexico and the U.S. should work together to address the root causes of migration rather than just enforcement.

Consider the insanity wrapped in that statement.

If someone is trying to break into your house to literally grab your stuff, it doesn’t really matter if they offer to mow your lawn in return because that can’t ever repay the cost of the stuff they take from you.

But apparently politicians expect you to help the enemy (give stuff to the enemy) so the enemy doesn’t need to attack you (take stuff from you), which defeats the whole purpose of resisting The Great Giveaway of America in the first place.

“They want your stuff, so if you don’t want them to take your stuff, give them some stuff so they don’t want to take your stuff anymore.”

Two Honduran migrants told The Associated Press on Sunday that they were robbed by Mexican officials of the little cash they had while on a bridge between Guatemala and Mexico. The migrants jumped into the Suchiate River to flee from the officials, who they said confiscated their identification documents, beat them and asked them for bribes to pass into Mexico.

“There’s tremendous corruption here,” said one of the men, Jose Romero, fighting back tears. “It’s sad to see all the Central American countries, instead of being united and helping us, they take the little that we have.”

Romero said his hometown of San Pedro Sula has become too violent and that work there is scarce. He said he’d take asylum from Mexico or any other country willing to offer him refuge.

“We’re honest, clean people, determined to work,” Romero said.

Yeah but here’s the thing, Romero. You and the likes of you are what make your countries so nightmarish. You may not consciously choose to turn your countries into Hell’s embassies but that’s just what you objectively do.

You may really just want to come and work, Romero, and you probably would work hard. But you’re incapable of doing anything but mowing lawns, and no matter how hard you work to mow all these lawns, you’re just not worth it.

If we had a caste of lawn mowers that were banned from having opinions on everything but lawn mowing, you wouldn’t be so problematic because, despite your inability to create civilization, you’d be kept from ruining things.

But we don’t have castes.

We have democracy.

Democracy means that your voice would be considered equal to the voices of the people who are not only capable of engaging in civilization but also capable of creating it.

You’d be a force pushing civilization towards collapse and you wouldn’t even realize it, just like none of you realized you were making your countries Hell until the flames engulfed all of you.

Germany: Evil Neo-Nazis Hold Protest in Chemnitz After Syrian Child Refugee Attacks Evil Neo-Nazi Griller with a Knife

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Video Link

One of these people is called Lehming

Whenever White people live around non-White “people,” the former start developing some insane, inexplicable skin-hatred for the latter.

Nobody knows why this happens.

The Local:

Tensions are again rising in Chemnitz, eastern Germany, after a far-right group hit out at a Muslim community festival.

Dozens of far-right protesters staged a rally on Sunday, a day after an altercation in which an 18-year-old Syrian man allegedly injured the hand of a 41-year-old German man with a knife.

How were they “hitting out” at the Moslems, exactly?

The altercation came after a Muslim community street festival was held on Saturday in the city centre, and the local far-right group Pro Chemnitz protested nearby with a BBQ event.

An online video shows the extremist group grilling spit-roast pork while attendants yell “this is our city”.

So they were holding a BBQ to counter the Moslem invaders celebrating their gay volcano demon, one of them gets attacked with a knife, and you’re trying to blame it on them?

Is that really the best spin you people could come up with?

Pro Chemnitz later claimed the injured man was one of its “comrades in arms” and posted “breaking news” about the incident on social media along with a generic picture of a bloodied knife.

A local right-wing group then called for the demonstration on Sunday, which was joined by some 50 people, according to local daily Freie Presse.

About 60 demonstrators staged a counter-protest and 66 police kept watch, local authorities said, adding that no violence was reported.

The counter-protests were organized by Germany’s Green Party, because it’s essential for the environment that Germany be turned into a brown caliphate for some reason.

Touristen aus Hongkong lassen sich vom Foto am Karl-Marx-Kopf nicht abhalten, während dort vor Umvolkung gewarnt wird. Unsere künftigen Stadträtinnen Susann Mäder und Kathleen Kuhfuß sind bei @_C_Nazifrei dabei. pic.twitter.com/53UVrl2yoI

— Die GRÜNEN Chemnitz (@chemnitzgruene) June 9, 2019

Chemnitz earned worldwide notoriety last year after a German man’s fatal stabbing sparked mass protests which saw neo-Nazis rampaging through the streets targeting people of foreign appearance.

Defence lawyers for the Syrian man, Alaa Sheikhi, insist he is innocent in the manslaughter trial that is being held in another city of the ex-communist east, Dresden, for security reasons.

It’s completely shocking and unexpected that the same thing that happens literally every single time in literally every single place where (((diversity))) is imposed would happen once again.

Absolutely unbelievable.

But I’m sure it’ll all work somehow in the end.

I was assured that diversity is our greatest strength by Mama Merkel herself, and she wouldn’t lie would she?

Video Link

Sweden: 90% of Syrian Child Refugees from Morocco are Actually Adults

Spartacus

Daily Stormer

June 11, 2019

Video Link

Like this, except browner and rapeyer (the latter is a real word, because I identify as transdictionary)

How fucked up is it that these people have to believe me if I tell them I’m a woman, but won’t believe me if I tell them I’m a few years younger than I really am?

When are we gonna start jailing these vile chronophobes?!?!?!?

Breitbart:

A new report claims just ten per cent of Moroccan “minor” migrants who have come to Sweden in recent years were actually minors, the rest adults.

Around 1,800 single Moroccan men have applied for asylum in Sweden in the last seven years but following closer cooperation with the government of Morocco the number has fallen to 55 so far this year, Swedish broadcaster SVT reports.

Can somebody explain to me why people coming from a country that got 12 million tourists last year are received as “refugees” in Europe?

Does anyone know?

Nobody?

Christian Frödén, group manager at the border police in Stockholm praised the cooperation with the Moroccan police who have allowed their Swedish counterparts access to fingerprint databases saying, “When we find their identity they leave the country and move on to other cities in Europe such as Barcelona or Paris. They do not want the police to know who they are because then they can be punished and be expelled to Morocco.”

Good to know Europe’s not losing out on that precious vibrancy.

Video Link

Looking good, but still not enough 80ish IQ sandmonkeys

One Moroccan migrant who was caught lying about his age was 22-year-old Ali who came to Sweden last year claiming to be 16.

Ali told SVT that other migrants had encouraged him to lie about his age in order to have a better chance at getting benefits from the Swedish government but after the Moroccan fingerprint database proved he was an adult he was forced to live on the streets committing petty crimes to earn money.

Oh, the poor invader..

“There is no future in Sweden. I know that the Migration Board will say that I do not have the right to be here and that I must leave Sweden,” Ali said and added that he was looking to move to Belgium where he claimed to have connections in order to make a living selling drugs but did not have the funds to pay for a ticket there from Stockholm.

If I were the Belgian government, I’d buy this fella a ticket so he could come over as quickly as possible and start vibrating in an enriching manner as fast as possible.

Video Link

Undocumented pharmacists are Belgium’s third greatest strength, right after diversity and pissing statues respectively.

And of course, we should never forget who’s getting us all this wonderful enrichment in the first place.

Video Link

I sure hope we can repay them for it soon.

Designer Vaginas: Women are Spending Thousands on “Vaginal Rejuvenation” Treatments

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Keep the above image in mind while reading the below.

Daily Mail:

‘I’m going in,’ announces Dr Shirin Lakhani, needle in hand and torch strapped to her forehead.

Beside her sits a large, whirring machine with a highly intimidating attachment which looks a little like something you’d find in an adult shop.

It is 10am and I am witnessing the first appointment of the day at Dr Lakhani’s sexual rejuvenation clinic, Elite Aesthetics.

Since she opened the doors in 2013, women have been flocking here for the most intimate kinds of nip and tuck procedure.

Dr. Shirin Lakhani, left, with The Mail On Sunday's Eve Simmons, right.

First up is 57-year-old Denise, a married mother of four from Kent, who seems oddly unfazed that she is about to have a £1,200 treatment that involves injections into her genitals.

The jab contains a protein extracted from Denise's blood. It is said to 'plump' the vaginal wall, easing dry skin and soreness, and improving problems with incontinence, all of which can go hand-in-hand with childbirth and the menopause.

It will, according to Dr Lakhani, make Denise feel—and look—20 years younger 'down there'.

Eight minutes later she hops off the table, without the vaguest hint of discomfort (she'd had numbing cream applied to the area before being injected) or embarrassment.

'It gives me peace of mind. I'd do it again over and over and over,' says the furniture designer, who runs a thriving small business.

...

THE EVER-INCREASING DEMAND FOR A DESIGNER VAGINA

The demand for so-called vaginal rejuvenation has leapt 40 per cent since 2015, with the market estimated to be worth at least £2 billion by 2021.

Labioplasty, in which the skin on either side of the vagina is cut back in order to 'improve' the appearance, is the fastest-growing cosmetic operation in the world, four times more frequent than five years ago.

In the UK, hundreds of clinics now offer non-surgical treatments using injections, lasers and other devices to plump and tighten the intimate area.

...

FILLERS, PEELS AND THE QUEST FOR PERFECTION

While most of Dr Lakhani's patients opt for functional treatments, a small number are enticed by the purely cosmetic.

An array of lotions and potions, costing £500 plus, are offered to make the labia plumper, lighter and more symmetrical.

Hyaluronic acid or a woman's own fat can be injected into the labia majora (the outer folds of the vulva) to 'plump' out the sagging skin and improve symmetry.

Discolouration can be treated too, using either acid or lasers applied to the labia and inner thigh to break down the pigment in the skin.

DO TREATMENTS WORK...AND ARE THEY SAFE?

Another popular treatment at both clinics involves a probe-like, heat-emitting device being inserted into the vagina. This is supposed to strengthen the muscles internally and plumps the skin externally, although independent studies are yet to prove this to be true.

The machine used by Dr Lakhani is called the UltraFemme360, while Dr Sims has something called a MonaLisa Touch.

Studies carried out by the manufacturers suggest that three sessions, about six to eight weeks apart, can effectively reduce incontinence for up to a year.

The aesthetics industry—which these clinics fall under—is vastly unregulated, meaning anyone can carry out these procedures.

Just as you don't need a qualification to inject Botox into someone's face, nor do you need one to use heat-emitting device in the vagina.

The creatures that resort to makeup, vaginal surgeries, vaginal "rejuvenation" potions, perky tits subliminal messaging and other deceptions should have no power over you.

This is what they do: they deceive. They may not always do it consciously and they may have logical-sounding excuses for every deception, but don't let that distract you from the nature of their behavior.

Women are insecure because they are weak.

They're incapable of confidence. When you see a very attractive and "social media famous" girl, you may see in their attitude what resembles confidence.

It is a lie. Don't fall for it.

I know it is a lie. You know it is a lie, too. You always knew it, but you were deceived and made to believe that women were capable of the things you are capable of.

They are not.

They are cursed replicas, parodies of Manu (मनु) that can only experience an instance of redemption through childbirth.

After all the talk of helping patients' bodies work better, isn't this just the beauty industry cashing in on women's insecurities?

Dr Jen Gunter, US gynaecologist and author of the forthcoming one-stop-shop intimate health book, The Vagina Bible, thinks so.

‘It is very easy to make women feel ashamed about their bodies,’ she tells me. Unnecessary procedures are offered to women when they are vulnerable, usually undressed during an intimate examination. If a doctor starts recommending it, women will feel they need it.’

You heard the doctor. If you want to mind-control women and make them do your bidding, one of the best times to put ideas into their heads is while they’re naked. Bonus points if you’re having sex with them and they’re really into it.

Just as drugs can mess with people’s mental firewalls and make them receive signals that shouldn’t be received, sex can make a woman’s mind significantly more welcoming of your ideas.

“The heat of the moment” isn’t just about them being willing to do much more than they’d be willing to do otherwise. Once the boundaries are pushed, they don’t ever go back to their exact original position. The heat-fueled mechanism that enables you to push her boundaries can also be used to rearrange her thoughts and ideas.

Keep in mind that this doesn’t mean that you should give complex instructions and engage the logical part of their brains (don’t be autistic) while you have sex with them.

It means that you can turn “dirty talk” into a powerful weapon.

A Pro-Rape Political Platform Shouldn’t be Dismissed Simply Because Sargon Lost

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Video Link

Mister Metokur has produced a documentary about the rise and fall of the revolutionary political leader Sargon of Akkad, who was the first politician in history to make rape the center of his political platform.

Metokur takes an extremely negative view of Sargon’s campaign, which I find to be unwarranted.

I simply do not think we can dismiss a pro-rape platform as politically nonviable simply because Sargon failed to win his election. In fact, if anything, Sargon proved that people are extremely interested in the issue of rape, and really like to do interviews with political figures who promote it.

I think that most likely, Sargon lost the election not because he is pro-rape, but because he is fat.

And possibly also because people spread a leaked beard removal app image of him among the electorate, and that was not flattering.

The fact is, most people think women deserve to be raped, and are more than ready to rally around a political figure who makes rape a key election issue.

However, one of the most unpopular things is fatness.

Until I see a pro-rape politician who is not fat lose an election, I am not willing to accept the idea that the promotion of rape is not a winning electoral strategy.

It is also possible that Sargon did win the election, but it was meddled in by the Jewish Mossad, who wanted Nigel Farage to win because of his Philosemitism.

Video Link

The Hong Kongese are still whining about being a part of China—22 years after they officially became a part of China.

CNN:

More than 1 million protesters took to the streets of Hong Kong Sunday, organizers said, to oppose a controversial extradition bill that would enable China to extradite fugitives from the city.

The mass of protesters would be the largest demonstration since the city was handed back to China in 1997. Civil Human Rights Front, the group that organized the protests, said 1.03 million people marched — a figure that accounts for more than one in seven of the city's 7.48 million-strong population.

Hong Kong Police estimated the number of protesters closer to 240,000.

business community, and even physical scuffles in the city's legislature, as well as criticism of the Hong Kong government by the United States and European Union.

The government says the bill is designed to plug loopholes in current law by allowing Hong Kong to decide on a case-by-case basis whether or not to send fugitives to territories where it doesn't have formal extradition deals — such as Taiwan, Macau and mainland China. Lawmakers have said the guarantee of a fair trial will not be written into the bill.

Beijing's response to all of this is always exactly what it should be: fuck you all, this is China.

Now, please imagine that after 22 years, China is still in the process of integrating a city-state of 7.5 million people.

Then imagine that Taiwan has a population of 24 million people.

Then imagine the amount of resources and jobs that could be created in China as part of a complete reintegration project for Taiwan.

Then imagine that the US has the ability to give China permission to pull the trigger of "reannexing" their own natural territory of Taiwan, a rebel state.

Also, Sargon was denying the Holocaust.

Or like, saying he didn't care that it happened or whatever, which is actually funnier than denying it.

We could well be dealing with a situation where the Mossad changed the vote counts.

Hong Kong Still Whining and Claiming They're NOT CHINESE

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Critics say the bill will leave anyone on Hong Kong soil vulnerable to being grabbed by the Chinese authorities for political reasons or inadvertent business offenses and undermine the city's semi-autonomous legal system.

The bill has caused political gridlock, outcry among the city's usually pro-conservative

Imagine what China would trade for the US allowing them to do that.

Then realize that all of this conflict between the US and China is a gigantic hoax. If Donald Kushner put Taiwan on the negotiating table, the negotiations would take approximately 7 minutes.

But it is still the semi-official policy of the US to white-knight for Taiwan, because they still harbor a fantasy of using the ghost of the traitor Chiang Kai-shek to overthrow the PRC.

All of this is to say that the entire conflict is yet another Jewish hoax.

Of course we should have better trade deals with China, but we don't need to collapse the Chinese economy to do so—and making that threat, which is the threat Donald Kushner is making, simply puts us on a war footing with a country that could easily trigger WWII if they so choose. And they will do that if they don't think they have any more options.

Mexican Government Allegedly Arresting Spics Boarding THE BEAST Train to Welfare Paradise

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

We'll see if this is real or just a fantasy.

Actually, we probably won't ever see that. All of this shit is so shady, no one has any idea what's going on.

Washington Examiner:

Mexican military deployed throughout the country as part of President Andrés Manuel López Obrador's vow to do more to apprehend migrants headed to the United States, have officially begun targeting foreigners who have hitched rides aboard a freight train known as "The Beast" to get to the U.S.-Mexico border, local media reported Sunday.

Mexican National Guard held up the "La Bestia" train in an unpopulated area near Tuxtla Gutiérrez, Chiapas, a city north of the Mexico-Guatemala border, where migrants have been crossing into the country.

The operation marked the first of its kind since López Obrador and President Trump reached a deal late Friday, in which the U.S. would hold off on tariffs against Mexican imports if the government did more to prevent people from traveling through the country.

"The National Guard was placed on one side, moment that was taken advantage of by more than 200 migrants who got off the train and fled," Nataniel Hernández Núñez, director of the Digna Ochoa Human Rights Center, told El Universal.

Many "hid in the bush, so only 25 were arrested," Hernández said.

The train was headed to Oaxaca, a state located northwest of Chiapas. From there, the train riders would have hopped onto another freight train.

How insane is it that we ever even had to reach a deal with Mexico about them letting people from Third World countries use their country as a transit to America?

Doesn't this simply demonstrate to everyone that Mexico is a criminal state?

The only reason they want all of these people in our country is racial solidarity, which means that they would be voting along lines that Mexico wants. It is the EXACT SAME THING that Erdogan did when he flooded Europe with Pakistanis and Afghans.

What kind of clownshow is it where these things even need debating?

Donald Kushner is threatening war with Venezuela, Iran and China—why not threaten a war with the country that is sending millions of foreigners into our country to push an alien political agenda?

Why even threaten war?

Why not just announce an invasion?

United States

ICE Teaching Tranny Spic Fence Jumpers How to Pretend to be Real Women

Spartacus (With Andrew Anglin)
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Video Link

So ICE has a program to help tranny detainees in migrant camps learn to be better trannies.

This was started under Trump, who made no efforts to stop it.

ICE is actually advertising it. The above video is actually an official ICE ad.

They're spamming Twitter with it.

Yesterday, ICE provided an extensive media tour of the agency's dedicated housing unit for transgender women. (1/) pic.twitter.com/oGOMglzdt9

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

In 2017, ICE opened a dedicated unit for transgender women in the Cibola County Correctional Center in New Mexico, with common areas, televisions, microwaves, a library, and access to outdoor recreation. (2/) pic.twitter.com/skgQil2OA8

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

Cibola's medical & detention staff are trained in best practices for the care of transgender individuals. A dedicated custody resource coordinator ensures detainee access to care & services, an partnerships with local transgender orgs provide peer support & other services (3/) pic.twitter.com/yLxkPyDyCb

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

All transgender individuals detained in ICE detention facilities undergo an initial evaluation, including a physical exam & mental health eval, within 2 business days of intake for a general health assessment & to determine an appropriate treatment plan based on medical need (4/) pic.twitter.com/nmvtaj7ayb

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

Further, all individuals in ICE custody have the unrestricted opportunity to freely request health care services—to include mental health and dental services—provided by a physician or other qualified medical staff in a clinical setting. (5/) pic.twitter.com/pSLF3arAj0

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

ICE is committed to upholding an immigration detention system that prioritizes the health, safety, and welfare of all of those in our care in custody, including LGBTI individuals. (6/) pic.twitter.com/kKwOWvrgv3

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

Decisions related to the location where individuals will be detained are made on a case-by-case basis, considering several factors, including—but not limited to—a transgender individual's preference, the safety & well-being of the detainee & their ties to the community. (7/7) pic.twitter.com/BnjdEEECx5

– ICE (@ICEgov) June 13, 2019

Free dental.

Fuck.

If it wasn't filled with trannies, I'd go live in one of these camps.

I can't imagine why anyone would want to leave. These detention camps are like those $10,000 a week relaxation centers celebrities go to.

Tired of winning yet?

Infowars:

Transgender migrants are being taught how to look more feminine while being held in an ICE detention unit dedicated specifically for housing transgender women, according to the agency.

Newly-released footage intended for media exposure showcases the specialized unit that features amenities like TVs, an outdoor recreational area, and a library as well as a medical staff “trained in [the] best practices for the care of transgender individuals.”

“This is the self-grooming class and the self-presentation class,” said a woman instructing a crowded room. “We’re going to learn about hair, makeup, and how to present yourself to the public so that your femininity is more apparent than just someone looking at you and questioning what your gender is.”

For those of you who are still confused by the Jewspeak—“transgender woman” means man in a dress who may or may not have cut his dick off.

George Washington is probably spinning like a dreidel in his grave.

Though in all fairness, this is kinda his fault.

This could've all been avoided if he just added an article in the Constitution saying "NO JEWS EVER!!1!!1111!!".

Located in Milan, New Mexico, ICE added the dedicated transgender unit to the Cibola County Correctional Center in 2017.

...

The transgender detainees are visited twice a week by a New Mexico-based legal aid organization reportedly not affiliated with the government to assist the asylum process by helping them prepare for their cases.

Yep...

Trump was right, I'm tired of winning.

Tired because all the winning is happening on the other team, and my own fucking captain is scoring half their goals!

The good ol' days are gone, and they're never coming back

These Newmericans are coming to cut off the dicks Americans won't cut off.

Americans just aren't cutting their dicks off in large enough numbers, which is bad for the GDP, so you need to bring in more dickcutters to be competitive.

I'm sorry to disappoint you guys, but the coming dystopia won't be cyberpunk at all.

It'll be you being chased through a favela by some mongrels with Kalashnikovs for denying the womanhood of their feminine penises.

And for most people—it's really what they deserve.

Elizabeth Warren is the Only Politician Questioning False-Flagging Lunatic Donald Kushner

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

I'm sure Elizabeth Warren is not literally the only politician questioning the false-flagging psychopath Donald Kushner's hoaxed war.

But she is the only one the media is mentioning.

Fox News:

Democratic presidential candidate Sen. Elizabeth Warren said she's "very concerned about a slide towards war with Iran" and highlighted that President Donald Trump "has to come to Congress" for authorization before taking military action against Iran.

Pointing to this week's attacks on tankers in the Gulf of Oman, the President told Fox News on Friday that "Iran did do it."

But Warren, the two-term progressive senator from Massachusetts who sits on the Senate Armed Services Committee, is skeptical.

"I want to see whatever evidence the administration says that it has," she said Friday evening while campaigning in New Hampshire, the state that holds the first primary in the White House race.

"I'm very concerned about a slide towards war with Iran."

And Warren emphasized: "I want to remind this administration that the administration cannot declare war on its own. It has to come to Congress and make that case and ask for an authorization for a use of military force. That's not politics, that's a point of the Constitution of the United States of America."

It's funny because I always thought Injuns were pro-war.

I'd think she'd be running on a "scalp Iran" platform.

Sorry guys, I don't have any funnier jokes than that. Really kinda worn out.

This whole false flaggotry is extra tiresome.

Maybe she'll come out with a good anti-war program and Tucker can endorse it.

Video Link

Tucker endorsing Elizabeth Warren as having better ideas than Donald Trump is really fun.

Florida Man Strangles His Wife of 50 Years to Death for Wanting to Take All of His Money and Leave

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

This man did nothing wrong.
Daily Mail:

A Florida man has been charged with the first-degree murder of his wife of 50 years.

Ronald Charles Strouse, 73, was arrested on Tuesday in his Lake Wales home after allegedly confessing to strangling to death his 72-year-old wife Susan Strouse.

‘This was a particularly brutal murder,’ said Polk County Sheriff Grady Judd in a statement. ‘We aren’t sure why Ronald Strouse murdered his wife of 50 years, but one thing we are sure of is that he will be held accountable for his actions.’

...

Ronald went on to describe the circumstances that led to his wife’s death, according to an arrest warrant affidavit.

According to the affidavit, Ronald said that on Monday night, his wife declared that she wanted to leave him, take all their money, and move out of their home.

He said that he argued with Susan, pleading for an explanation, but said that she would not tell him why she wanted to leave.

Things simmered in the home until the next morning, Tuesday, when Susan got up and made them both sausage sandwiches for lunch around noon.

Ronald told police that he could not work up an appetite, and declined to eat the sausage sandwich.

After lunch, Susan was lying on the couch watching TV when Ronald confronted her, demanding to know why she wanted to leave him, according to the affidavit.

Ronald told cops that Susan refused to answer him as she watched her TV show, which frustrated him.

He said that he grabbed her on the couch and pulled her to the floor, and straddled her body as his fingers wrapped around her neck, according to the affidavit.

Cops say that Ronald admitted he knew what he was doing as his hands tightened in a vise-like grip around his wife’s neck—knew that he was choking the very life out of her.

Susan struggled, clawing at his hands and arms in a desperate bid to escape, until finally she went limp, according to the affidavit.

The grim deed complete, Ronald got up, called 911, and waited on his porch to surrender to deputies, the affidavit states.

...

It appears that they had recently moved into their home, a new two-bedroom which records show they purchased for $127,900.

50 years married and she couldn’t even tell him why she wanted to rob him of the result of his life’s work.

Put yourself in his shoes for a moment and imagine that your wife, after you two have been together for 50 years and recently moved into a new home, drops the “I’m leaving you and taking all of your money” bomb on you.

Just like that.

Out of the blue.

No explanation.

Only silence.

All of the happy moments you shared with her are not worth the effort of giving you an explanation.

All of the sacrifices that you’ve made for her are not worth anything to her.

All that you have given her is not worth anything.

All of your life.

All of your time.

All of you.

You are not worth anything to her.

It was all for nothing.
 You have nothing.
 It's all gone now.
 Be quiet.
 Don't ask questions.
 Eat your fucking sausage sandwich in silence.

That's modern marriage.

Blacks: Twerking While Handcuffed, Turning Into a Bloody Mess, Letting Rats Crawl on Them

Pomidor Quixote

Daily Stormer

June 14, 2019

Video link

Black "people."

Daily Mail:

An Ohio woman didn't let an arrest get in the way of showing off her dance moves.

Asia Hughes, 27, was caught on camera twerking even after a police officer began putting handcuffs on her.

It was her first of two arrests that would occur in the span of three days.

Hughes was taken into custody on Monday after she allegedly began twerking in the middle of a road in Toledo, forcing several cars to stop or swerve so that they wouldn't hit her.

Authorities said Hughes, who only wearing a long-sleeved shirt and panties, then began dancing on a utility pole in a provocative manner.

They clearly have no decency, no sense of decency, and no respect for other people's sense of decency.

It seems to be related to the skin tone.

Video link

For some reason, the browner and darker their skin, the more senseless violence you can expect from them.

Daily Mail:

Five years after a surveillance camera inside a Houston jail captured a police officer smashing an inmate's face against a door frame, causing him to bleed all over the floor, a federal judge has ruled that a civil rights lawsuit against the cop can proceed to trial.

The incident took place on December 8, 2014, at Houston Central Jail on Riesner Road and involved Reuben Williams Jr, who was picked up by police on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

According to the federal lawsuit filed in 2016, Houston police officer Salvador 'Sal' Corral violated Williams' constitutional rights when he slammed him face first into the metal door jam while leading him into a jail cell.

Also, the browner and darker their skin, the weirder they act.

Video link

Or maybe it's that the browner and darker the skin, the more their weirdness stands out?

Daily Mail:

Living in New York never gets old.

That's especially true for New Yorkers who witnessed a rat crawling into a woman's blouse during their commute this week.

In a recent video shared on social media, two women are seen sitting on a Brooklyn Q train that's approaching the Seventh Avenue station on Flatbush Avenue.

While one woman was looking at her phone, the rat is seen crawling from her shoulder and disappearing in her blouse.

Hey, wanna see some niggers getting hit by a car?

Safe for work. No one was killed.

Video link

That's civilization. Modern civilization.

Daily Mail:

A 22-year-old woman has been arrested after a viral clip showed her mowing down two women with her car outside a San Antonio, Texas, nightclub.

Miranda Jane Guerrero is facing two counts of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon for the incident which took place outside 'The Well' on May 2—according to jail records.

Sibbieo Jardan, 27, and India Spears, 24, told officers attending the scene they had both been hit by the car.

Video posted online shortly after the incident showed the car plowing into the two women as they stood around outside the nightclub.

One of the women can be seen trying to smash the window of the vehicle before being launched across the parking lot by the force of it reversing.

The two women told officers the incident was sparked by an argument between them and Guerrero at the nightclub's bar.

The worst of all of this is how niggers keep ruining white people's selfies though.

That's the real issue.

Daily Mail:

A family got the holiday snap of a lifetime when a monkey grabbed their camera and took a selfie—before giving them the middle finger.

The family from the Sunshine Coast in Queensland, Australia were on a dream holiday in Bali, Indonesia when they decided to make a day trip to the popular Ubud Monkey Forest.

Even the little ones have that “fuck you why beebol” attitude.

Although these little ones have a more intelligent look in their eyes than the bigger and darker ones.

Fat Bearded Millennial Journalists Fear a World Where Globohomo Doesn't Protect Their Frail Bodies

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Millennial blogger-journalists are a weak race of pathetic fiends, incapable of dealing with the order of nature, so they are intent on creating a new reality using a complex web of lies and hoaxes, many of which they make up at random.

Millennial journalists are especially disreputable, particularly because of their smugness, which, like their fatness and fear of reality, is caused by an endocrine disorder.

This smug fatbeard is Aaron Rupar of Vox. On the right there.

I don't know if he's Jewish. He doesn't look Jewish, and a lot of these new media blog journalists are not Jewish. What I do know is under that hilariously ironic WWF T-shirt, he's got a bigger pair of titties than my last girlfriend. What I also know is that the beard absolutely does nothing to confuse me about what is going on with the flabby skin on his neck.

Can you imagine a lower form of life?

Look at him here.

Just look at his stupid estro-face.

Imagine the fear he must feel of a world dominated by masculinity.

If this was any other time in history, he would have to spend his entire life groveling to his betters.

We might also note that he looks almost indistinguishable from Ars Technica journalist Dr. Pizza, who likes to do anal on 7-year-olds.

Have you seen HuffPo blogger Christopher Mathias? This fatbeard bastard doesn't even have any lips.

They are all fat men with hormonal disorders, these journalists. And presumably, they all fuck children. I don't know what other kind of person looks like that. "Normal homosexuals" often appear to be in good physical shape, and they at least engage in basic personal grooming. These millennial journalists are a whole other breed of deformed pervert.

They are counting on the continuation of a world dominated by globohomo corporations and empowered females, because their survival depends on it. The journalist is a creature whose entire existence is driven by fear.

We don't have to go back to the Hyperborean Age for these people to end up in a very difficult situation, where they just couldn't go around looking like fat whiny slobs. Simply middle America rising up and reasserting control would take away their ability to prance around with their titties all hanging out of their ironic T-shirts as they arrange meetings to sodomize 7-year-olds on kink websites.

Further, these people are low-grade morons. The writing quality on these Jewish news media blogs is nigh inconceivable. And they just generally have no idea what the fuck they're talking about.

Look at Aaron Rupar here.

Beyond parody — Fox Business cuts away from Trump's speech right after he laments, bizarrely, that tractors can't hook up to the internet pic.twitter.com/hbYoYm2UgO

— Aaron Rupar (@atrupar) June 11, 2019

Tariffs being a "tax on American companies, not China" is almost too stupid of a statement to even respond to. It's just a weird slogan meant to confuse people who don't understand how the globalist free trade system is designed. But: why is an ultra-leftist journalist white knight-ing for multi-national corporations?

The part about Trump saying tractors connect to the internet being "bizarre" is mind-boggling.

Why does he not know what the internet of things is?

Could he not google "tractors internet" and find that indeed, just like cars, all modern tractors connect to the internet, that this assists majorly with production output, and that rural areas not being able to connect to the internet is a problem?

Basically, the news has gotten so fake, that these people just don't even care. They will just say whatever. There is no requirement at places like Vox or Huffington Post that anyone should have any idea what the fuck they're talking about.

Journalism is a mind-weapon. These people are at war with the public to protect this globalist system because the globalist system protects them from the reality that, in a world dominated by masculinity, they would have very serious problems.

Clown World Maxes Out: Facebook Bans "Honk" Meme!

Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

We're entering into a new, hitherto undiscovered dimension of Clown World, leading many to fear we could be approaching a clown singularity.

Yes, really. pic.twitter.com/b07l1y4PV

– Garbage Human (@GarbHum) June 8, 2019

The word “honk” has been identified for censorship on Facebook.

What is not clear is whether they are censoring honk in the context of the clown world meme or whether they’re going all out and banning the sound entirely—just to be safe.

When someone “honks” on social media, it is usually in reaction to some fresh kaleidoscope-esque nightmare fuel coming out of the media pushing the lefty talking point du jour.

At its core, the honk meme is just a lament and an observation that the general situation in the West has hit critical levels of crazy and that nothing can be done, at this point, to salvage the situation. This is because of media censorship, the Deep State and, most importantly, the fact that white elected officials—a certain orange man in particular—keep betraying their supporters again and again and again.

gonna do about it at this point anyway?” And apparently, even this was too much for the censors.

Not allowing people to vent off any steam is a recipe for disaster—especially when you give people who are already on the verge of complete nihilistic despair yet another jab in the ribs as if to provoke a cornered animalistic last-ditch fight reflex in them.

It’s a bold move. Let’s see how it plays out for them.

Facebook’s content moderation policy

We’re reaching levels of “why so serious” that shouldn’t even be possible.

And when one of these companies starts banning something, you know the rest of them are soon ready to follow suit.

Our days of clowning around are over. RIP to a great meme.

Reminds me of this classic comic:

To not fall into despair, some people just shrugged and let out a long sigh and then a honk as if to say, “well, whattaya

House Hearing on Reparations for Slavery Set for Next Week

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Everything involving giving white people’s stuff to niggers is a popular topic. AP:

The topic of reparations for slavery is headed to Capitol Hill for its first hearing in more than a decade with writer Ta-Nehisi Coates and actor Danny Glover set to testify before a House panel.

The House Judiciary Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights and Civil Liberties is scheduled to hold the next Wednesday, its stated purpose “to examine, through open and constructive discourse, the legacy of the Trans-Atlantic Slave Trade, its continuing impact on the community and the path to restorative justice.” The date of the hearing, June 19, coincides with Juneteenth, a cultural holiday commemorating the emancipation of enslaved blacks in America.

Former Democratic Rep. John Conyers of Michigan, the longtime sponsor of House Resolution 40, first proposed the measure calling for a study of reparations in 1989. Conyers reintroduced the bill every session until his resignation in 2017.

Texas Democratic Rep. Sheila Jackson Lee, the resolution’s new sponsor, introduced it earlier this year and pushed for next week’s hearing. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi said in February that she supports a reparations study, a topic that hasn’t been the subject of a House hearing since 2007.

Reparations had been a fringe issue and occasional punchline until Coates’ 2014 essay in The Atlantic, “The Case for Reparations,” thrust the topic back into the national discourse. Glover, an activist as well as the star of the “Lethal Weapon” movies and the classics “The Color Purple” and “A Rage in Harlem,” has spoken in favor of the issue for years.

The black Danny Glover has spoken in favor of reparations for slavery more free stuff for blacks?

That’s surprisingly unbiased.

There are three main points to talk about regarding that statement of purpose:

1. “The legacy of the Trans-Atlantic Slave Trade”
2. “Its continuing impact on the community”
3. “The path to restorative justice”

Starting with the legacy of slavery.

Someone shipped some niggers to America in the past. They were forced to work and their owners benefited from it. Fast forward and blacks are suddenly citizens.

Blacks descending from the slaves brought to America are the most privileged blacks in the history of the world. There is no other country on the planet where blacks enjoy the quality of living that they enjoy in America. There’s nowhere better.

They were forced to work. So what? It made them useful. If you don’t force blacks to work and act civilized, the result is Africa, Haiti, and other such shitholes. Slave owners profited more from the blacks’ labor than blacks themselves, but that’s also the case in modern employer-employee relationships.

Blacks are no longer slaves now. The “continuing impact” of slavery on the black community is the privilege of living in the country where blacks enjoy the best quality of life ever. This is easy to verify: just look at Africa and other black countries such as Haiti, look at anywhere else in the world where large populations of blacks inhabit, such as Brazil.

Blacks not living in America are living in Hell.

Brazil

Haiti

Not living in Hell just because your ancestors picked some cotton and got hanged after raping white girls is a pretty sweet deal, considering what whites have to put up with nowadays in order for these blacks to call themselves “African-Americans.”

The “path to restorative justice” is not what they expect.

Blacks have objectively benefited more from being enslaved than slave owners benefited from owning them.

Slave owners got:

- Lots of cotton

Blacks got:

- The privilege of living in the best country
- To be considered citizens and equal to the people who created the best country ever
- All the opportunities and comforts that come with living in America
- Free stuff
- White women to fuck, rape and impregnate
- The chance to become rappers
- Money to flex

White Americans got:

- To put up with an army of crazy chimpanzees
- To witness the neighborhoods they grew up in turn into Haiti
- Told that once white women “go black, they never go back”
- Insane amounts of interracial porn where black males are having sex with white women
- Bullied all throughout school by aggressive negroes
- Black Lives Matter
- More awful stuff

Blacks are the ones that should be paying reparations to whites.

That said. Why are we even discussing this? Slave owners were a tiny minority. And the dealers were almost exclusively Jews. Why are the descendants of the common folk who never owned any slaves getting the blame?

Video Shows Benevolent Legume Creatures Abusing Cows at Indiana Farm

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Edgar Gardozo-Vasquez, one of the abusers.

Do you hate cows so much that you enjoy inflicting pain on them for no reason?

No?

Then this legummanoid can enrich you with his culturally-diverse perspective.

AP:

An animal rights group that infiltrated a popular Indiana dairy farm and captured disturbing undercover video that has led to animal cruelty charges against three former farm workers released new footage Wednesday showing workers punching and striking adult cows with poles while loading them into a farm milking carousel.

Animal Recovery Mission said its new video shows workers abusing adult cows behind the scenes at Fair Oaks Farms at a milking carousel at the popular agritourism destination about 70 miles (113 kilometers) south of Chicago.

The Miami-based group's release of the new footage comes a week after it released video showing workers kicking and throwing calves at Fair Oaks Farms' dairies. That and other video the group later released led to animal cruelty charges against three former employees. One was taken into custody Wednesday.

The new video shows employees punching adult cows, striking them with metal poles and apparently breaking the tails of some uncooperative cows the workers are trying to load into the carousel. Farm tour footage that is part of the video captures a guide telling visitors that cows like the carousel, saying it's “a joy ride for them.”

You can watch the video here.

The Newton County Sheriff's Department said Wednesday that one of the three fired workers, Edgar Gardozo-Vasquez, 36, of Brook, was taken into custody and is being held at the Newton County Jail on a felony charge of torturing or mutilating a vertebrate animal and misdemeanor animal cruelty. The department says U.S. Immigration Customs Enforcement has placed a hold on Gardozo-Vasquez. It says there are outstanding warrants for two other former Fair Oaks workers

It's not clear whether Gardozo-Vasquez has an attorney who might comment on his behalf.

See, this is what browns do when they're in charge. In this case, they were in charge of cows, but being in charge of innocent beings in general makes browns want to torture them because, deep inside, they all carry the darkness of the void.

You can see that darkness manifested in their countries.

It's no wonder they're escaping from them.

The irony of that lies in the fact that they won't ever be able to escape because what they're trying to escape from is inside of them.

They're trying to escape from themselves.

What they escape from is what they bring to our countries.

Whites, on the other hand, really care about innocents beings, and also about beings that are not innocent. And also about the planet. We care pretty much about everything.

This benevolent superior being behavior is pretty much exclusively white.

Put a few whites in a brown environment, and they get (in no particular order) raped, tortured and killed.

Put a few browns in a white environment and they get free stuff, safety, comfort, and are treated as precious treasures.

The relationship between whites and browns is not a mutually beneficial one.

In a few decades, browns will win the demographic war because they're reproducing at a much higher rate than whites.

Once they're a majority, they'll be in control.

Once they're in control...you'll be the cow.

Trump Claims We Can Fight Fake News on Social Media While Big Tech Continues Banning His Supporters

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

It's honestly difficult to tell if Donald Trump is trolling his supporters with these tweets or if he just has no clue what's going on.

The Fake News has never been more dishonest than it is today. Thank goodness we can fight back on Social Media. Their new weapon of choice is Fake Polling, sometimes referred to as Suppression Polls (they suppress the numbers). Had it in 2016, but this is worse....

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump)
June 12, 2019

.....The Fake (Corrupt) News Media said they had a leak into polling done by my campaign which, by the way and despite the phony and never ending Witch Hunt, are the best numbers WE have ever had. They reported Fake numbers that they made up & don't even exist. WE WILL WIN AGAIN!

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump)
June 12, 2019

Trump is actually claiming that we can fight fake news on social media. It's hard not to laugh at how stupid this statement is.

Trump might still have his Twitter account, but most of his prominent supporters have already been banned off of the big social media sites. If they haven't been banned, they're being demonetized or censored in some underhanded fashion. The digital army that helped Trump get elected in 2016 is being systematically silenced in the lead up to the 2020 election.

Trump has also demoralized his supporters by refusing to take any action on this issue. Instead of ordering the Federal Communications Commission to start regulating these companies, all he has done is tweet about how they shouldn't censor "conservatives."

The bottom line is that you can't fight fake news on social media if you've been banned from social media. We've seen countless examples of the ban hammer being dropped on all sorts of right-wing groups and personalities. We are at a point where a cuckservative comedian like Steven Crowder is getting demonetized on YouTube.

But it's even worse than that now.

Project Veritas recently interviewed a whistleblower from the social media company Pinterest who provided documented proof of their diabolical censorship agenda. He exposed how they put a pro-life website on a porn block list, censored Bible verses and blocked all sorts of other right-wing material.

After breaking this story, Project Veritas had their Twitter account suspended, and their original report about Pinterest's censorship program was erased off of YouTube.

Breaking News: Twitter has decided that investigative journalism is in violation of their terms of service—@Project_Veritas has been temporarily suspended from posting for tweeting internal communications from @Pinterest which show them calling @benshapiro a "white supremacist" pic.twitter.com/eJNDWEfanf

— James O'Keefe (@JamesOKeefeIII) June 12, 2019

Pinterest quickly discovered who the whistleblower was and fired him, which prompted the whistleblower to go public. The whistleblower identified himself as Eric Cochran, an engineer who worked for Pinterest. Tucker Carlson interviewed him on his show this past evening and described some of the chicanery that Pinterest involved itself in.

Video Link

So long story short, we are now at a point where we have hard proof that these tech companies are going so far as to censor pro-life and anti-abortion content. This is obviously insane, but we've been saying for the past few years that this type of thing was going to happen. Unfortunately, few people listened to us because they naively thought that they'd be safe if they avoided talking about Jews and racial issues. Those people were wrong to think that and we are now at a point where even anti-abortion content is subject to big tech censorship.

That's why it is so absurd to see Trump sending out tweets saying that we can fight fake news on social media. This is just not possible when these tech companies are allowed to ban whoever they want for any arbitrary reason and not face consequences.

If Trump does not regulate these companies and require them to provide free speech, they are going to ban most if not all of his political supporters by the 2020 election. By that time, the only person fighting fake news will be Trump himself. But that's operating under the assumption that they don't just go ahead and ban his social media accounts as well. And why wouldn't they go that far? It's not like anybody would actually stop them if they decided to go ahead and do that.

What this conclusively shows is that there is no such thing as free speech in America. Trump is just letting these big tech companies trample over the First Amendment.

Joe Biden Promises to Cure Cancer, Pensioner Supporters Believe They Will Live Forever

Shmuley Ben Shekelheim
Jewish Telegraph Agency
June 13, 2019

Video Link

Joe Biden has told his heavily aged supporters that he's going to cure cancer if elected in 2020.

"I've worked so hard in my career, that I promise you, if I'm elected president you're gonna see the single most important thing that changes America, we're gonna cure cancer," Biden told his audience in Ottumwa, Iowa this week.

"Take my hand, we'll be able to fly. Don't fear the reaper," he added.

Speaking about President Donald Trump, and comparing his presidency to that of Barack Obama, the former vice-president said: "Tell me now, is he good to you? Does he do to you the things that I do? Oh, no."

He painted a dire picture of the state of Trump's America, saying he looks around and sees "people shuffling their feet, people sleeping in their shoes. But there's a warning sign on the road ahead. There's a lot of people saying we'd be better off dead."

He also condemned Trump's trade wars with China and his threats against Mexico, pressing the importance of American exports. "We've got to move these refrigerators, we've got to move these color TVs."

Reaching out directly to former Trump voters, Biden said: "Ain't it hard when you discover that he really wasn't where it's at, after he took from you everything he could steal? How does it feel?"

He closed by urging Iowans not to miss the primaries.

“Get your motor running, head out on the highway,” he told the enthusiastic listeners.

They appeared dazzled by his words. He’s a man of the people, saying keep hope alive.

And his support base, made up almost entirely of pensioners, believes in magic.

One pensioner at the event, Judith Blatzman, a 72-year-old woman in a walker, said that she believed Joe Biden has the power to cure cancer, and that if he were elected, she would never die. She added that Joe Biden struck her as a “magic man,” saying that while he was speaking, “he seemed like he knew me, he looked right through me.”

Another attendee, Herman Johnson, an 81-year-old former Fuller Brush salesman, said that he had voted for Donald Trump in 2016 because he believed he would start a war with Iran that would cause the rapture and allow him to be sucked up into the sky to live forever. Johnson said he was disappointed in the outcome, and that he’ll be happy to see Biden elected and completely transform America to create a world without disease or death.

“I’ll tip my hat to the new constitution, take a bow for the new revolution, smile and grin at the change all around,” Johnson said. “We don’t get fooled again,” he added.

Another pensioner at the event, Gerald Cunnings, a 71-year-old retired insurance salesman, talked about how things in his town have gone sour in the last few years, and he doesn’t think immigrants or the Jews are to blame. However, he is worried about his pension.

Describing the events in his small town in Iowa, he said: “They burned down the gambling house. It died with an awful sound. Funky Claude was running in and out, pulling kids out the ground. When it all was over, we had to find another place. But Swiss time was running out. It seemed that we would lose the race.”

Cunnings said that Biden could get him back in the race with his plan to protect pensions and allow him to live forever through new technologies.

From the vibe of this event, it is clear that the exodus is here and the happy ones are near.

As Biden was leaving, a man in a wheelchair with an oxygen tank rolled up to him and wanted to shake his hand, but he couldn’t lift his arm up off his lap. Joe Biden instead rubbed his inner-thigh and groin area, and the man smiled brightly, saying, “I’ve been first and last, look at how the time goes past. But I’m all alone at last, rolling home to you.”

That is quite an endorsement.

It’s unclear how Joe Biden would cure cancer if he is elected president. Based on his statements, he may have already found the cure, and is simply waiting to get elected to release it to doctors and scientists.

One thing is for sure, however: baby boomers are finding their stairway to heaven in Joe Biden.

San Francisco Prosecutors Want AI to “Reduce Racial Bias”

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

If you notice their skin color, you’re biased.

Whites are constantly trying to hurt blacks for no reason other than pure hatred for the color of the skin, so we need artificial intelligence to bring artificial real justice to our land.

AP:

In a first-of-its kind experiment, San Francisco prosecutors are turning to artificial intelligence to reduce racial bias in the courts, adopting a system that strips certain identifying details from police reports and leaves only key facts to govern charging decisions.

District Attorney George Gascon announced Wednesday that his office will begin using the technology in July to “take race out of the equation” when deciding whether to accuse suspects of a crime.

Criminal-justice experts say they have never heard of any project like it, and they applauded the idea as a creative, bold effort to make charging practices more colorblind.

Gascon's office worked with data scientists and engineers at the Stanford Computational Policy Lab to develop a system that takes electronic police reports and automatically removes a suspect's name, race and hair and eye colors. The names of witnesses and police officers will also be removed, along with specific neighborhoods or districts that could indicate the race of those involved.

Yeah, let's just take a critical piece of information out of the picture. That will certainly be more just.

Imagine the reports.

"OBJECT did something."

"What did it do?"

"It flew."

"Is it a plane?"

"BIAS ALERT: Can't say."

"Okay. Is it a helicopter?"

"BIAS ALERT: Can't say."

"Well what CAN you tell me, you stupid computer?"

"ALERT. ALERT. WARNING. ALERT. BIGOTRY DETECTED. YOU ARE UNDER ARREST."

"The criminal-justice system has had a horrible impact on people of color in this country, especially African Americans, for generations," Gascon said in an interview ahead of the announcement. "If all prosecutors took race out of the picture when making charging decisions, we would probably be in a much better place as a nation than we are today."

Gascon said his goal was to develop a model that could be used elsewhere, and the technology will be offered free to other prosecutors across the country.

OH YES! The mysteriously evil justice system punishes blacks for no reason!

FOR NO REASON!!!

If blacks are "especially" impacted by the criminal-justice system then how about they stop committing crimes?

That would be a much more straightforward solution than programming some weird AI anti-racism thing.

Studies have long shown that bias exists nationwide at all levels of the criminal justice system, from police making arrests and prosecutors deciding whether to charge suspects to court convictions and sentencing.

A 2017 study commissioned by the San Francisco district attorney found "substantial racial and ethnic disparities in criminal justice outcomes." African Americans represented only 6% of the county's population but accounted for 41% of arrests between 2008 and 2014.

The study found "little evidence of overt bias against any one race or ethnic group" among prosecutors who process criminal offenses. But Gascon said he wanted to find a way to help eliminate an implicit bias that could be triggered by a suspect's race, an ethnic-sounding name or a crime-ridden neighborhood where they were arrested.

Yes, there are disparities because blacks literally just commit more crime in general. If anyone doubts this they can check crime statistics or go visit Haiti or Africa. It's what blacks do.

The study found "little evidence" of biases, but it must have gotten it wrong. There's no way blacks are really this problematic, so we have to keep trying to find ways to prove that they're not really committing all of the crimes that they're committing.

Or...if you can't find a way to prove that, just report the crimes without reporting on the criminal.

Remove race, skin color, hair style, and pretty much everything that could help identify suspects.

After all, everyone's equal.

Suspects are all identical.

Boomers Heading Back to School Get Sweet $10 Deal for College Courses!

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

A shocking report has come to light exposing yet another Boomer scheme to steal money from young people.

Hundreds of baby boomers are taking classes at the University of Minnesota as part of its Senior Citizen Education Program — and all for just $10 per credit.

"This is our opportunity to study those things we've spent a lifetime being curious about," one student tells @KevTibs. pic.twitter.com/RVklrA8iuQ

– NBC Nightly News with Lester Holt (@NBC-NightlyNews) June 10, 2019

This report highlights the pernicious levels of graft and outright theft that Baby Boomers will stoop to in their quest to never grow up and start paying for things like adults.

Millennials are absolutely livid.

Some choice responses:

Neat, now that they've made it damn near financially unaffordable for everyone else.

– Brittney (@kurizmatik) June 10, 2019

Cool so they get next to free college twice. Super cool.

– J Sweeney (@ASadBrownsFan) June 10, 2019

So, no student loan debt for these folks who could really afford to pay the real cost?

– Dave "public land owner" (@dcarrots) June 10, 2019

Literally every single comment in that thread is complaining about how blatantly unfair and ageist this scheme is.

I didn't have to cherry-pick anything because Boomer hate is very real, and not a meme.

But it's a double standard to expect kids straight out of high school to pay over 50x the amount these baby boomers are getting. Like make it equal, I'm not sure why it makes sense for them to get these incredible rates when millions of kids can't afford theirs.

– James Kosharian (@JamesKosh4) June 10, 2019

Despite this, some Boomers decided to show up in the comments section to tut-tut the youth and tell them "not to resent Boomers," even though hating Boomers is a natural and sane response from any rational person.

Twin cities boomer, long aware of this. Not quite old enough. Interesting how this "feel-good" story generated such venom in replies. Understandable. I'm for free tuition & support candidates w that proposal. But truly powerful WANT us fighting over crumbs. Don't resent us.

– Steven Zekowski (@steve_zeke) June 11, 2019

You and I have lived under the Boomer Occupation Government for every single day of our lives. For many years, we didn't even know what was going on, but we could feel like something was off. Now, more and more young people are waking up to the reality that society is geared towards suiting their tastes and catering to the preferences of the Psychopath Generation. No other generation matters in the West.

And no matter how much Millennials whine about having to pay hundreds of thousands of dollars on education, the Boomer will just lean back in his chair and let out a hearty cackle as he coasts by on his state-subsidized $10 classes. Classes that he doesn't even need because he is too old to learn anything new, don't need to work for a living and has years of accumulated damage in his brain from eating lead paint chips.

At this point, I honestly think that mad AF Millennials are going to just start attacking these Boomers on campus. All it will take is just one ill-timed and unrequested lecture on bootstraps at a creative writing seminar. The sheer hypocrisy of a state-subsidized, pension-collecting, house-owning, brain-addled

Boomer chiding the whippersnappers about how good they have it will no doubt cause someone to just fucking snap.

Wait. These bootstrapping, I did it myselfers are getting to take classes for the price of two shitty lattes...and probably still complain that the reason current students are in debt is avocado toast and participation trophies.

– petty davis eyes (@SL8Rgirl) June 11, 2019

I would honestly consider racking up a couple of thousand dollars worth of debt just to sit in on some of these courses and see the fireworks fly.

The truth of the matter is that the Boomers will never stop stealing the money until the day they die—and we all should understand at this point that they will never die.

We are a few years out from the next Boomer fad, which will no doubt involve paying indebted Zoomers for their blood and plasma as these literal vampires discover that young blood can give them another decade of life.

This problem isn't going anywhere.

The Day of the Pillow can't come soon enough.

Poll: Joe Biden Leads Donald Kushner by 13 Points

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Who knows if these polls are real anymore.

I think they probably are.

I see no reason to believe most people are not sick of Donald Kushner at this point. Not only did he not do anything he said he was going to do (instead making everything so much worse), but he also allowed anyone who would defend him to be kicked off the internet.

The Hill:

Former Vice President Joe Biden leads President Trump by 13 points nationally, according to the latest Quinnipiac University survey.

In a national head-to-head matchup, the poll found Biden taking 53 percent against 40 percent for Trump, with the poll's assistant director describing it as a "landslide" margin.

Five other Democratic contenders also lead the president: Sens. Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.), Kamala Harris (D-Calif.) and Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.) hold healthy leads over Trump, with Sanders up by 9 points, Harris ahead by 8 and Warren leading by 7.

South Bend, Ind., Mayor Pete Buttigieg (D) and Sen. Cory Booker (D-N.J.) lead Trump by 5 points, with each posting a 47 to 42 split.

"It's a long 17 months to Election Day, but Joe Biden is ahead by landslide proportions," said Tim Malloy, assistant director of the Quinnipiac University Poll.

Biden's double-digit lead over Trump is largely driven by the gender gap. The former vice president edges Trump 47 percent to 46 among men. But among women, Biden leads by 26 points, 60 to 34.

Similarly, white voters are split evenly between the two, with Trump at 47 percent and Biden at 46. But Biden leads 85 to 12 among black voters and 58 to 33 among Hispanics.

LOL.

Imagine if the country were still white.

We wouldn't even have to elect lunatic billionaire businessmen to sell us used car political agendas. We could just have everything normal.

After this election, because of women and because of demographics, a white male will never be able to win an election again. Let alone a white male Republican.

And even if Donald Kushner does win, it won't really matter. Because the demographic change continues unabated. In fact, it's way worse now than it ever was under Obama, or even under George W. Bush.

I'd say...strap yourselves in.

And hope China nukes us.

You know.

If civilization completely collapsed. Something really beautiful could emerge from it, for our grandchildren.

Neo-Nazi Chink University Professor Attacked by Communist Vietnamese Politician in Georgia

Spartacus
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Video Link

Are there any White people left in Georgia?

Asking for a friend...

Breitbart:

According to a local news report, Georgia Gwinnett College Professor Fang Zhou, an immigrant from China, is facing calls for his termination after he expressed unpopular views about illegal immigration.

Unpopular with whom?

Last time I checked, even most normies are against illegal immigration.

“I am against political correctness. I speak truth to power in class and my students learn about the financial drain of illegal immigration on the economy and the high crime rates of illegal immigrants,” Zhou said in a social media post. “My students are ‘woke’ and are overwhelmingly against illegal immigration after taking my class.”

Zhou expressed his concerns further in a short interview with the Atlantic Journal-Constitution. “If you are going to reward illegal immigrants, there will be more illegal immigrants,” he said.

BASED!

This Chink sounds almost as hardcore as Reichsleiter Candace Owens.

Now, some Georgians are calling for his termination. Bee Nguyen, the State Representative for Georgia House District 89, posted screenshots from Zhou’s social media pages on her Twitter account. “Are these the values supported by Georgia Gwinnett College?” Nguyen wrote in the tweet.

“Those myths have been disputed many times,” Nguyen told the press. “I have concerns about him teaching those things in a classroom.”

This is the shit-tier gookette attacking our BASED honolaly alyan:

Video Link

Her main campaign issue was getting sucky-suckys covered by Medicare in order to combat climate change.

Here’s her Twitter account:

While we celebrate the passage of the Dream Act, this @GeorgiaGwinnett professor uses hostile terms “ghetto thugs,” “libtards,” & spreads false narratives about immigrants.

Are these the values supported by Georgia Gwinnett College? <https://t.co/tCLJJ850Gbpic.twitter.com/1kL3xv3mS3>

— Bee Nguyen (@BeeForGeorgia) June 6, 2019

Most people on Twitter are also defending our BASED Chink.

Zhou claims that he does not force students to share his opinions. He reminded reporters that every person in America has a right to express themselves under the First Amendment.

Ouch.

This guy’s gonna have a very nasty surprise somewhere down the line, because some creatures who suck blood out of baby dicks decided that “hate speech” is not free speech.

And they also decided that they’re gonna decide what “hate speech” is, and anything that gets fewer brown people in White countries absolutely falls in that category.

I like Chinks in general, they’re nice people, but the question is—why can’t White people have their own countries?

Border Spending Package: Billions for Migrants, Nothing for the Wall

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

They never stopped coming.

Is anyone in the government even keeping track of all the money that has been wasted on these asylum-seeking migrants?

The Daily World:

The Senate Appropriations Committee plans to take up a supplemental spending bill next week to address the surge of migrants at the U.S. southern border, South Carolina Republican Sen. Lindsey Graham said Tuesday.

The decision marked the first sign of movement on a stand-alone border funding bill, which President Donald Trump first requested on May 1. Republican leaders had tried to include the money in a $19.1 billion aid package for victims of natural disasters that cleared Congress last week, but Democrats objected, citing various concerns over family detention policies and information sharing about undocumented immigrants among federal agencies.

Those concerns may still need to be addressed in any legislation that moves forward, but both parties have acknowledged the need to better cope with what many lawmakers say is a humanitarian crisis at the border that shows no signs of easing. "It's far past time to get serious about this to solve this problem," Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said Tuesday on the Senate floor, in urging speedy action.

A Senate appropriations aide said the exact size and content of the package was yet to be determined. In May, the White House requested a total of $4.5 billion, including $3.3 billion for the Health and Human Services and Homeland Security departments mainly to provide shelter and other basic necessities for thousands of unaccompanied children seeking to enter the U.S.

Trump's supplemental request stopped short of seeking any additional money for a hotly contested border wall.

The biggest piece of the White House request, about $2.9 billion, would be used to provide shelter and other services for unaccompanied migrant children, including for an additional 23,600 beds. And HHS has warned that even that request may no longer be sufficient to keep up with the surge. As much as $1.4 billion in additional aid could be needed soon, it said.

"Today, there are 13,347 unaccompanied children that are the responsibility of the federal government," Sen. Roy Blunt, R-Mo., said last week. "All of the money to take care of those kids runs out sometime in the next 30 days. The appropriation is gone, the transfer authority is about to be gone, and there is no money to take care of these kids."

Another $391 million would be provided for DHS to set up processing facilities and shelters for families as well as unaccompanied children to receive food and medical attention before being transferred to other locations.

White people could start a lot of businesses with those billions. That's a lot of money and the result of a lot of effort from our people.

Don't be greedy, though. You have to spend all of it on the well-being of our guests. Yeah, they invited themselves in, but whatever — when they go low we go high.

These unaccompanied brown children are the responsibility of our government because any poor brown or black ape that reaches our territory is suddenly the responsibility of the United States of America, and this makes total sense because we actually want to encourage the billions of browns and blacks all around the world to move into America.

We have to show them that we care about them; then they'll come.

Once all of Africa has moved into America and whites are a tiny minority, we'll be redeemed of the burden of being white because everyone will either race-mix or die.

Besides, spending unlimited billions on asylum seekers is the right thing to do. Some of them are currently suffering under a bridge.

El Paso Times:

The photos showed migrant families fenced in under an international bridge, huddled against the cold, their children shawled in Mylar blankets.

The images, which captured national attention in March, sparked criticism about the treatment of those seeking refuge and asylum in the country. Federal officials issued statements saying they would transfer the families to a "location with more space and shelter capability."

Three months later, a makeshift detention camp still occupies a parking lot at the foot of the northbound Paso del Norte international bridge in Downtown El Paso.

Mylar blankets were tied to a fence last week to jimmy a narrow shelter against the sun and rain. Trash clung to the chain link. A migrant washed clothes in a 5-gallon bucket one afternoon, as thunderheads threatened in the distance. On Sunday, three Cuban detainees shouted to an El Paso Times reporter that they had been held outside for a month.

"There is no justification for detaining people in this condition," said U.S. Rep. Veronica Escobar (D-El Paso), who visited the site Friday. "The current situation is absolutely unacceptable for the migrants and for the agents who work for the federal government, as well."

Yes there is, Fronthole Veronica. We don't want them here. We don't want to spend money. They are forcing their way in and they should be thankful that they're not getting shot.

Uh...what am I saying.... that is not who we are.

We are great hosts. We're going to spend as much as needed, or as much as we have, and we're going to make brown children smile.

Remember, brown children crying is the worst crime against humanity after the Holocaust.

Border Patrol denied an El Paso Times request that sought access to the detention camp. But Escobar described conditions as “terrible.” Many of the migrants, a majority of whom are from Cuba, have been held outside for weeks, without access to cots, showers or basic hygiene, she said.

...

El Paso Sector Border Patrol spokesman Ramiro Cordero said children are no longer being held in the camp and are instead being housed at a different detention area on the city’s Northeast El Paso — a sprawling tent facility erected to process 500 people.

He declined to provide a number of detainees but confirmed the overcrowding at the Paso del Norte bridge detention center, saying, “There is no way for us to say there’s not a lot of people there.”

“If we’re apprehending over 1,000 a day, where do you put them?” he said. “The solution is not more agents or infrastructure or vehicles. You can build 10,000 tents but if people keep coming at the rate that they have, and the system is bottle-necked, there is nothing we can do about it.”

How dare he. Of course the solution is to keep increasing our spending to hire more agents, buy more vehicles, and pay for more tent cities and detention facilities!

These are brown human beings we’re talking about here!

They’re all worth it!

Negro Handegg Star Convicted of Raping a 58-Year-Old Homeless Woman

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Kellen Winslow Jr.

This ball ape was earning over $40 million a year at the peak of his career.

With money like that, why did he feel the need to rape a homeless woman?

Simple: because while a man can upgrade a lot of things with money, his DNA always remains the same.

Daily Mail:

Former NFL star Kellen Winslow Jr., 35, was convicted on Monday of raping a 58-year-old homeless woman in Encinitas last May by a jury in Southern California.

Winslow was also found guilty of indecent exposure toward the woman and of lewd conduct.

But the jury remained deadlocked on six other felony charges, including two more counts of rape involving a 54-year-old hitchhiker last year and an unconscious 17-year-old girl in 2003.

Returning the verdict in San Diego Superior Court in Vista, the jury found Winslow not guilty of one count of a lewd act, which prosecutors had said happened in front of a 77-year-old woman in a hot tub in nearby Carlsbad.

Winslow Jr., was a first-round NFL draft pick and is the son of Hall of Famer Kellen Winslow.

He rose to fame as a star college football player at the University of Miami and was drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 2004. Five years later he was traded to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and he went on to play for the Seattle Seahawks, New England Patriots and New York Jets.

He could be sentenced to three to eight years in jail for his rape conviction, or even face up to life in prison if convicted of all counts.

Conservative Icon George Will Demands Americans be Drowned in Brown Sludge

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Video Link

George Will was the guy back in the 1990s. The key conservative intellectual. He was the Nick Fuentes to Rush Limbaugh’s Andrew Anglin.

Now, most people probably don’t have any idea who the fuck this asshole is, because now that the internet exists, there is at least something of a meritocracy, and the television and print media can’t just shove worthless pricks down your throat.

But he’s still alive, apparently. He appeared on The Hill TV this week to demand that White America be drowned in a never-ending flood of disease-ridden brown sludge.

He said:

I believe immigration is an inherently entrepreneurial act. It's people uprooting themselves, taking a risk for themselves and their families. I think a country where the baby boomers are retiring, where we have an aging workforce, where we have seven million unfilled jobs at the moment, and we have people clamoring to get into our country and get to work, I'm for as much immigration as the economy can take and the economy needs immigration just as much as the immigrants need the American economy.

Just to prove that he is still the biggest shill in Shillsville, he also commented on tech monopolies, supporting their decision to censor abso-fucking-lutely everyone who disagrees with Jews, saying they aren't actually monopolies, and that their existence is "proof that capitalism is working."

He said:

The idea that because something is big, which Google obviously is and Facebook and all the rests, it is a dangerous monopoly, you have a dangerous monopoly when you have a service people need and can't do without ...I can deal without Facebook. People did for a very long time. So the idea that mere size makes Facebook a public threat is illogical.

That statement is designed to simply dazzle the goyim.

Yes, an individual can survive if he doesn't have a Facebook, doesn't have a YouTube, doesn't have a Twitter. However, he is completely shut out of any ability to exercise his First Amendment rights. "Slaves can live without rights" is not a moral argument for slavery.

Furthermore, the bigger issue goes well beyond anything to do with individuals. The bigger issue is what happens to a society when you decide that you are going to simply silence half of the population based on their views. What happens when people no longer have access to any form of information that isn't approved by the ruling establishment.

Well, what happens is that the people making the decisions on who gets censored or not are able to shape elections and shape the entire culture, which is exactly why they are doing it.

Video Link

By the time that the 2020 election comes around, anyone who goes on social media will assume that 100% of people are voting against Donald Trump. They will also assume that 100% of people think it's great that children are being shot full of hormones and cutting their dicks off. So even if the individual viewing this doesn't feel comfortable with these things, he is going to go along with it, because it is natural for a person to go along with what they view as the appropriate social positions.

We are entering into a thought-control grid like nothing that has ever existed before. It will be even worse than the times of television and print, because in those times, people still interacted with each other outside of the internet. Now that 90+% of communication is on the internet, wiping out the ability of people to communicate with each other over these platforms just buries any ability people have to share thoughts and feelings with others.

Anyway yeah, fuck George Will, and fuck conservatism. This is insane.

Donald Kushner Threatens Xi: More Tariffs If He Doesn't Attend Globohomo G20 Faggot Fest!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

A Donald Kushner supporter poses near a gigantic statue of a cock.

It's Gay Pride Month and that means it's time for the G20—that's where every "goy" takes "20" Jew dicks up his ass.

Proud Chinese Leader Chairman Xi isn't all that interested in the event. But Donald Kushner wants him there, to take part in this internal anal event.

RT:

US President Donald Trump's threat of more tariffs if Chinese President Xi Jinping doesn't show up to the G20 summit is a "new low" for US diplomacy, crossing the line and threatening to unravel global trade, analysts tell RT.

China will agree to a trade deal with the US "because they have to," Trump said on Monday, adding that new tariffs on Chinese goods will go into effect immediately if Xi does not attend the G20 summit in Osaka, Japan later this month. Washington and Beijing have been negotiating a new trade deal for months, without results.

“This is a new low in American diplomacy,” Sourabh Gupta, senior policy specialist at the Institute for China America Studies, told RT. “That an American president would advance and impose tariffs on a counterpart country if that country’s president did not consent to a sit-down bilateral meeting on the sidelines of a multilateral summit is absurd, to the point of being almost comical.”

China may take its time to respond, but will most likely accept the meeting, Gupta told RT, predicting that the next three weeks will witness “nervous times” in economic diplomacy between Beijing and Washington.

Yeah, strange days.

China needs to keep that money flowing, but America is about to internally collapse any minute now. So it’s just a strategic waiting game.

I stopped caring about the trade stuff as soon as Donald Kushner said he was only going to allow foreigners to work in any new factories he builds.

Then I saw that gay hat and I was just like “just fuck it all, man.”

America is truly Sodom and God should just kill everyone, basically.

I don’t know what else to say at this point.

California Goes Full Accelerationist, Devises Plan to Bankrupt State Completely by Giving All Spics Free Healthcare

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

In a bold move that is the very definition of “weird flex, but OK,” California has decided to give every single Mexican free healthcare and to make their own citizens pay for it.

You can see how this is a direct response to Trump’s dangerous rhetoric and (now abandoned) pledge to build a Wall along the border and make Mexico pay for it.

It’s a genius plan, really.

To stick it to the White Nationalists in mainland America, California is going to bankrupt itself by essentially guaranteeing the entire Southern Hemisphere free healthcare. This will own the racists because of...reasons.

ABC News:

California will become the first state to pay for some adults living in the country illegally to have full health benefits as the solidly liberal bastion continues to resist the policies of Republican President Donald Trump’s administration.

Democrats in the state Legislature reached an agreement Sunday afternoon as part of a broader plan to spend $213 billion of state and federal tax money over the next year. The legislature is expected to approve the deal this week. The agreement means low-income adults between the ages of 19 and 25 living in California illegally would be eligible for California’s Medicaid program, the joint state and federal health insurance program for the poor and disabled.

When people talk about accelerationism, some think it means following in the hallowed footsteps of the Prophet Brenton Tarrant (PBUH), when in reality it’s about encouraging the Left to double-down on the crazy and reaping the benefits of the disaster that these people are creating all by themselves.

We are so far into the kaleidoscope nightmare looking glass world that you cannot go head-to-head with these Leftists and hope to win because the West has simply given up on logic and reason, and seems intent on summoning the Chaos gods instead. Many people are too crazy, too hopped up on pills and too schizophrenic (in the neo-Marxist sense of the term) to be reasoned with anymore.

In general, the Left appears to be engaged in a ritual act of self-immolation and we aren’t allowed to stop them...so why even try?

Broke: trying to argue against giving the Southern Hemisphere free healthcare in a state that is barely limping by and getting banned by Twitter for your efforts.

Woke: encouraging California’s brown masses to rise up and occupy San Francisco and exterminate the Soy People still living there and getting boosted by Twitter’s algorithm.

It's Revolution Time!

In the same way that Bane institutes Communism in Gotham to prove just how terrible the people of the city are and what they’ll turn the city into, given the opportunity, so too will California wake up any Whites still on the fence and with eyes to see and ears to listen to the wailing screams of millions of condemned Golden State souls.

California will be a poster child for Leftist insanity and where we can reasonably expect the Redshirt-Brownskin alliance to do something absolutely crazy. Since the state is already lost demographically and electorally, it makes little sense to lose any sleep over any stupid ideas that they come up with from now until the collapse.

The cherry on top of their “invite the entire Third World and provide them with free money” strategy would be if they tried to carry out secession from the “Fascist” United States of Amerikkka as well. Either it ends in a showdown with the federal government or nothing is done and the precedent for peaceful secession is set.

The Clown-Left, when allowed to run amok, will end up destroying and discrediting itself.

So why not encourage them to do just that? Right-wingers need to learn how to recognize a gift when it’s handed to them on a silver platter, and not constantly trip over themselves to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory. No more arguing from first principles, and no more conservatard arguments about debt, the economy and whatever goofy stuff these people pretend to care about.

Just embrace Tactical Communism and enjoy the ride, my Comrades!

Deputies Try to Bribe Chinese Handjob Artist Into Saying She was Trafficked and Forced Into Prostitution

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

In a new episode of “China is really really bad and the Chinese are really really evil,” American authorities try to save an innocent Chinese damsel from her evil (allegedly) human-trafficking employers.

AP:

The Chinese masseuse shrinks into her chair as the Florida sheriff’s detective tells her deputies installed hidden cameras in her spa’s ceiling. He knows she and other women had sex with men for money.

But you can save yourself, Martin County Detective Mike Fenton and others tell her. We will give you an apartment. We will provide food and education. We will bring your children to the United States.

Just tell us you are a human-trafficking victim and testify against your captors.

Over four hours, the masseuse would see three investigators, two social workers and a translator. A video-recording of her interview was obtained by The Associated Press through a public records request. The AP is not naming the woman because she might be a victim of a sex crime.

The outcome of her interview would help determine whether Martin County could prove the owners of five massage parlors its deputies raided are not just pimps, but human traffickers holding women against their will.

The operation was part of a multicounty crackdown that drew international attention when New England Patriots owner Robert Kraft was charged with paying for sex in neighboring Palm Beach County, one of 300 men overall.

Martin Sheriff William Snyder strongly believes the women are trafficking victims but needs a masseuse to testify against her bosses to get convictions. That could start a cascade of charges that eat away at the national network of massage parlor-based traffickers Snyder believes exists.

Martin Sheriff William Snyder has a hunch.

This is just like the movies.

He probably dreams about gun fighting some kind of Chinese mafia.

The masseuse sits in an interrogation room, hidden cameras again peering from the ceiling. She is 36 and slight, with black hair hanging to her waist. She wears a pink top, jeans and sneakers, her glasses too big for her face. Fenton sits to her right. Across a small table is Damian Spotts, a Mandarin-speaking police officer, and a female translator. The woman had been detained hours earlier during a February raid involving Cove Day Spa, a strip-mall parlor.

Thanks, AP. That's exactly the kind of information people reading news need.

I'm not talking just about how the glasses fit her face bit also about the fact that the woman is 36 and slight.

It's never a bad time to do some fat shaming and remind American whores that being 36 and not being an obese sack of yellow adipose tissue is possible.

A Chinese national, the masseuse tells Fenton she has a work visa and has applied for political asylum. She worked at an Alabama massage parlor before moving to spas on Florida's Gulf Coast. She drove to Martin County on the east coast 15 days earlier.

Fenton soon drops the hammer: We installed cameras.

"We know what goes on in the spa. It is not just massages," he tells her. "I know this is not the funnest thing to talk about, but we know this is what happens. I don't think this is the kind of work you want."

He assures her she is not in trouble – yet. But we must know: Are you forced to prostitute yourself?

No, she responds, shaking her head.

Would someone be angry if you quit? No.

Then why do it?

She pauses, then responds softly, "I don't know."

"You know. You are intelligent," Fenton says. "The reason why you got into this line of work is because somebody told you about it. Is this your dream job?"

She says she does it to support relatives in China. Would they be proud? She doesn't know.

Talk about cultural imperialism.

How can they use the "bow to our superior morality" line of reasoning if they don't believe whites are the master race?

"I don't think you found this all on your own," Fenton says. He leaves her with Spotts and the translator.

...

After Fenton leaves, the masseuse tells Spotts the sex wasn't prostitution. It happened after the massage for no extra charge.

Deputy Heather Hegeman enters and tells the woman she can stay at a safe house, but she wants to return to the spa owner's condo where she has been living. Hegeman says OK, but the sheriff plans to seize it soon. The woman admits she's worried the owners will think she ratted.

After Hegeman leaves, a victims advocate enters, explaining she is not a cop.

"We have a house set up. We have therapists set up. We have medical attention if she needs it," she tells the translator. "Food, clothing. We have all of that, but she has to tell me she is doing this against her will."

How is all of this okay? This is insane.

They are literally grabbing a woman, putting her into a disadvantaged position in the interrogation room — which creates a huge power imbalance — and offering bribes for her to do what they ask of her.

Under our current societal standard of consent, if the deputies were asking her to perform sexual acts instead of asking her to “flip” and say she’s a victim of human trafficking forced to prostitute herself, they’d be raping her.

They are kind of raping her.

She’s not in a position to consent to anything and they’re pushing her towards their evil ends.

Deputies are pretty much the ones doing the human trafficking and forced prostitution thing. Taking her into the interrogation room is human trafficking, and offering her an apartment, clothing and food, as well as bringing her children to the United States, is them forcing her to prostitute her voice to testify against whoever.

If women are not able to consent to sex after having a few drinks or when a significant power imbalance exists, why are they able to consent to anything else under pretty much the same circumstances?

Law enforcement agents using their authority to “persuade” women into doing what they want is blatantly misogynistic.

Feminists should fight against this.

“But we’re doing this for women’s own good!” is an extremely misogynistic excuse.

#MeToo should talk about the consent problem in law enforcement.

If the masseuse says she’s not being forced, then she’s not being forced.

“NO” MEANS “NO.”

Biden 1974 Interview: “Politicians Can Take Away the First Amendment”

Pomidor Quixote

Daily Stormer

June 11, 2019

Joe Biden thinks that he can do whatever he wants because he’s a politician.

Breitbart:

Former Vice President Joe Biden told a journalist in 1974 that “cruddy politicians” like himself could “take away” the First Amendment if they wanted.

The current 2020 Democrat frontrunner made the comments to Washingtonian magazine while being interviewed for a profile published in June 1974. Biden, then only 31-years-old, came to regret the interview, as his penchant for gaffes and insensitive remarks—traits defining later portions of his career—heavily colored the piece. At the time, however, Biden appeared eager to discuss his life as the nation’s youngest senator.

“I am proud to be a politician,” Biden told then-Washingtonian writer Kitty Kelley, who authored the profile. “There is no other walk of life which can do more good for mankind than politics. It influences everything that happens to the American people.”

Biden proceeded, according to Kelley, to lean “over his desk to shake his finger at me” while explaining elected officials like himself had the power to “take away” constitutionally protected rights if they saw fit.

“And, whether you like it or not, young lady,” he said. “Us cruddy politicians can take away that First Amendment of yours if we want to.”

He’s not wrong, you know?

In this “democracy” thing we have now, politicians can take away whatever they want to take away and do whatever they want to do if they manipulate the masses first.

After all, every voice matters, and the vote of a stupid ape is worth the same as your vote.

Although this may sound counterintuitive at first, manipulating everyone is easier than manipulating only a few. You can call it brainwashing, manipulation, mind control or persuasion — it doesn’t matter. The more people you reach with it, the better return of investment you get and the less effort you have to put into it.

Take a monarchy or dictatorship, for example. If you focused on “persuading” the few in control, the rest of the people would voluntarily or involuntarily manifest instances of disagreement in multiple forms.

It can work short-term, but the more you go without the approval of the masses, the more you risk the masses rebelling.

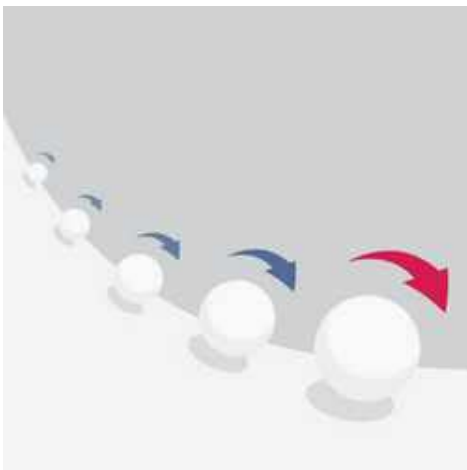

Even putting weak ideas into the minds of the population can quickly add up to something much more powerful than you'd have been able to install in only one individual's mind.

Take gay marriage, for example. "Homosexuals should be able to marry" in the minds of millions quickly added up to "it's okay if little boys want to cut their dicks off," which in turn is now turning into "actually little boys should cut their dicks off."

Convincing individuals of the merits of penis mutilation, one-by-one, is harder than convincing everyone that faggots should be able to marry and periodically making small pushes towards the cutting off of penises so the masses can pick up on it, process it and reach the land of penis cutting "on their own."

It's a kind of snowball effect where mass persuasion through the media is the equivalent of creating snow to feed the snowball sliding down the slippery slope.

This democracy thing, where everyone's vote counts just because of HUMAN RIGHTS or whatever, potentiates this manipulation maxim to achieve even better results.

Some people funded a country and set clear rules about why they did it and for whom they did it, but what was once for whites and what once defended freedom of speech can be turned into Morodor because the people benefiting from the Founding Fathers' epic achievement "changed their minds" about the nature of the land they inhabit after watching some Netflix, HBO and CNN.

Why should all voices matter if we're not all the same?

Oh, but we are all the same, goyim. Everyone's equal. We're all just the human race.

NYC: Helicopter Crashes Into Roof of Midtown Skyscraper!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Images from the scene of today's helicopter crash at 787 7th Ave. in Manhattan. #FDNY members remain on scene. There is one fatality reported. pic.twitter.com/7qyyJWrMsw

— FDNY (@FDNY) June 10, 2019

Not terrorism!

Probably a brown person tho!

CBS News:

One person is reported dead after a helicopter crashed onto the roof of a 54-story building Monday afternoon in Midtown Manhattan, New York City police and fire officials said. The crash sparked a two-alarm fire at the building, located at 787 7th Avenue, between 51st and 52nd Streets, not far from Times Square.

A New York City Police Department source told CBS News that the helicopter crash-landed on the roof but did not go into the building. The weather was foggy and rainy at the time.

A photo tweeted by the FDNY showed firefighters on the roof amid the scorched wreckage after the fire was put out. Only a small portion of the helicopter, possibly part of the tail section, appeared to be still intact.

The helicopter took off at around 1:32 p.m. from the 34th St. heliport and crashed 11 minutes later, according to Police Commissioner James P. O'Neill. It's unclear where it was headed.

One person was aboard the helicopter. New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio said the pilot was presumed to be the person who was killed, but official identification was still pending.

The FDNY reports that the fire had been extinguished. Fire Commissioner Daniel A. Nigro said that some fuel leaked from the crash but that it was no longer an issue.

They're saying they think it was an attempted emergency landing lmao.

Maybe the pilot was a woman?

It's going to be something embarrassing to liberals, because they're not releasing the ID, even though they've had it for hours and are doing press conferences all over the place.

I have been briefed on the helicopter crash in New York City. Phenomenal job by our GREAT First Responders who are currently on the scene. THANK YOU for all you do 24/7/365! The Trump Administration stands ready should you need anything at all.

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump)
June 10, 2019

Did Dark Phoenix Fail at the Box Office Because the Star is So Fat?

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

The last and final X-Men film has completely failed at the box office, having been brutally beaten by a cartoon about talking dogs.

Fox News:

The 12th and final planned film in the 19-year-old “X-Men” franchise, the $200 million “Dark Phoenix,” bombed in its opening weekend, earning a franchise low of $33 million at the domestic box office.

Scorched by poor reviews, “Dark Phoenix” finished in second over the weekend, according to studio estimates Sunday. Audiences who showed up to see “Dark Phoenix” seemed to agree with critics, giving it a poor B- CinemaScore.

The Universal Pictures and Illumination sequel “The Secret Life of Pets 2” finished first, grossing an estimated $47.1 million in ticket sales. The animated sequel features the voice of Kevin Hart and Harrison Ford in his first animated role. The film’s production budget was around $80 million and its global total already surpassed that mark earning $97 million, signifying a major win for the studio.

Directed by longtime X-Men scribe Simon Kinberg, “Dark Phoenix” focuses on Jean Grey who is played by Sophie Turner fresh off of her “Game of Thrones” run as Sansa Stark. It also brought back James McAvoy, Michael Fassbender and Jennifer Lawrence. It’s the conclusion to the modern series of X-Men movies that started in 2000.

It is interesting that just after the amazing and popular Game of Thrones finale, which was celebrated as one of the most brilliant endings to a TV show in all of television history, this same star would fail so miserably in an X-Men movie.

The difference is obviously that Game of Thrones had many good looking people, and Sophie Turner was simply a fatty in the woodpile.

But it is clear now that she is simply too fat to carry a movie herself on her fat back.

Seriously, why did anyone imagine that a hambeast of these megalithic proportions could carry a major blockbuster film?

They can put out fake posters of an imaginary thin Sophie Turner.

But when people see the actual footage, the fatness can no longer be denied.

It's time to
#TakeAwayHerSnacks
#EndFatPeople
#BoycottXMen

End of the Line! Google Demotes Alex Jones to Third Page in Search Results!

Roy Batty
 Daily Stormer
 June 10, 2019

Big Tech has a hate vendetta against Alex Jones that just won't die until they've banned the noble penis pill salesman from every digital service known to man, and then banned him again for good measure.

Oftentimes, they just ban him from something he is already banned from while they wait for the pajeets in the back to devise an exciting new way to ban him.

All of this serves to highlight the ritualistic quality that “The Banning of the Jones” has taken on in the modern culture. Years from now, in the aftermath of the Big Scorch and the Great Blackening, post-technological neo-primitives will construct huge wooden effigies of a fat Buddha-like caricature of The Wer-Jones in the desert and set him alight amid a chorus of rhythmic chanting and tribal “shaka shaka shaka” style dancing.

The origins of the ritual and its hidden meaning will be long forgotten, but it will remain with man from now unto the end of time.

Infowars:

Tech giant Google has de-listed Alex Jones from its website search engine in its latest effort to unperson the Infowars founder.

When plugging “Alex Jones” into Google's search engine, his flagship website Infowars.com doesn't appear until the third page of its search results.

The apparent move by Google comes after an employee in April leaked damning internal documents detailing how Google manually manipulates its search results to exclude conservative media websites.

“T&S [Trust & Safety team] will be in charge of updating the blacklist as when there is a demand,” reads the policy document.

“The purpose of the blacklist will be to bar the sites from surfacing in any Search feature or news product. It will not cause a demotion in the organic search results or de-index them altogether.”

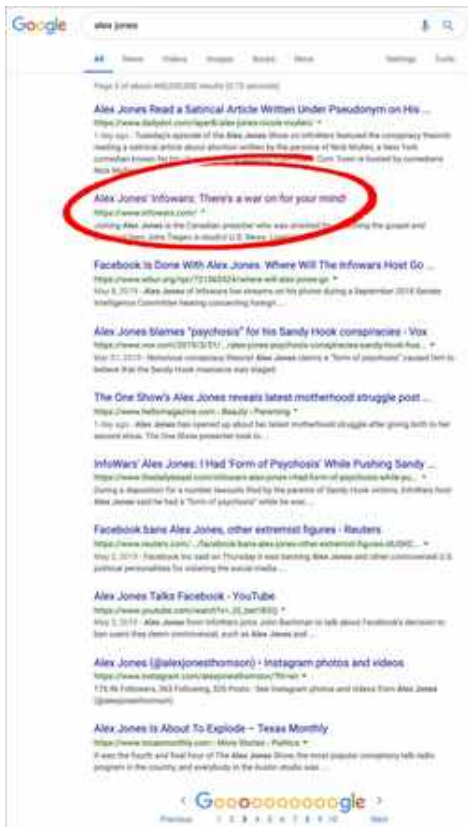

“The deceptive_news domain blacklist is going to be used by many search features to filter problematic sites that violate the good neighbor and misrepresentation policies,” explained the document.

...

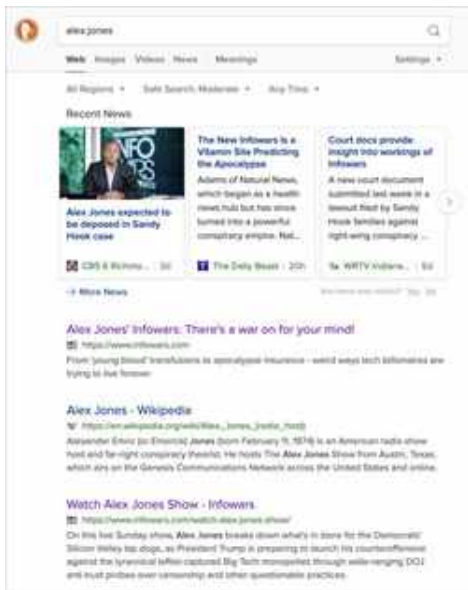

The next step in Big Tech's censorship slippery slope will likely be the banning of entire website URLs altogether, where one must manually enter a website domain into the address bar to visit it.

The proof is in the pudding.

Alex's Infowars flagship site is only listed on page three of the Google search results—which, as everyone knows, means that it no longer exists on the internet.

Compared to an alternative search engine:

I used to think the fat man was a bought and paid for shill, but I failed to understand the greater significance of what he was doing at the time.

Unbeknownst to even himself, no doubt, Alex Jones had begun casting doubt on the official narrative surrounding mass killings. When he infamously denied that Sandy Hook was real, and that crisis actors were used, he also began the dangerous trend of doubting the official narrative on mass killings.

Or just the narrative on anything. He has millions of followers—or he did—who would just say that anything that happened was a hoax staged by the CIA.

You can't hardly form a moving media narrative about anything when you've got millions of people just claiming that everything is fake on principle, even if maybe it isn't even fake.

You want to have an emotional scene involving a bunch of dead kids so you can call for gun control?

Sorry, half the country thinks everyone involved is a crisis actor, so no one gives a shit about your dead kids, because they never even died.

This incredible ability to wreck narratives, combined with the fact that Alex was part of a right-wing grassroots samizdat that helped Trump get elected in 2016 despite all odds, is why he is being banned. In fact, everyone who helped Trump get elected in 2016 is being shut down by Silicon Valley to make sure that nothing similar ever happens again.

Jones was Judas'd by Trump—as were we all—and now he is condemned to being banned ad infinitum until the end of time.

Andrew Anglin contributed to this report.

God Sends Swarm of Bees to Punish Disgusting Spic Invader!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Remember, God is on our side against these evil brown hordes invading our homeland.

And He will send in the BEES.

And hopefully other insects in the future.

But ONLY if we remain faithful.

Breitbart:

A Rio Grande Valley Sector Border Patrol agent rescued a Guatemalan woman and her child after a swarm of bees attacked them. The agent transported the mother and child to a local hospital where doctors admitted them to the intensive care unit.

An agent patrolling the border near Brownsville, Texas, encountered a swarm of bees that entered his vehicle. The agent quickly drove away and cleared his vehicle

He then returned to the scene to attempt to locate the source of the bees, according to information obtained from Rio Grande Valley Sector Border Patrol officials.

When the agent returned he observed a jacket and a bundle covered by thousands of bees. Further investigation revealed the bundle was a person curled up in a fetal position, the agent reported. The agent yelled at the person to stand up and run to his vehicle.

The agent reported that when the person stood up he observed a small child who had been covered by a woman. The woman ran to the Border Patrol vehicle and jumped inside. The agent then evaluated the pair and called for an ambulance to transport them to a local hospital.

The woman reported the child to be her eight-year-old son, officials stated. While waiting for an ambulance, the boy began to vomit. The agent decided he could not wait for the ambulance and drove the mother and child to the hospital.

Why are Border Patrol agents rescuing members of an invading army from the wrath of God?

Are they satanic?

What kind of a country are we running here, where we have a government police force that is tasked with thwarting the will of God?

Probably, this is the Biblical End Times.

God sends the bees at this fiend to tell us “if you return to me, I will help you”—but instead of returning to him, we are injecting children with hormones, chopping off penises, printing out gay hats, putting sluts on parade, having abortions, making disgusting Jew TV shows like Star Trek: Discovery—these hordes of evil brown people are a punishment for our sins, which we have committed at the request of the Jews.

Things will not get better until the country returns to God.

Which isn't going to happen, so we are simply going to be destroyed.

But some remnant of the people will remain, and from the ashes, we will rebuild.

PETA Cracking Down on Fishing Because Fish are People Too

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Fish are sentient individuals who feel pain.

Invading an animal's natural habitat, harassing them, killing them, and eating them for fun is so cruel. Don't go fishing this summer, or EVER. #FirstCatch #GetYourFishOn #Fish-FeelPain pic.twitter.com/dCpicuMHRH

— PETA (@peta) June 7, 2019

We are deep into the extreme lunatic zone.

And there is no stopping it now.

They are in control, and you are looking at a meatless future of interracial forced-trannyism.

Breitbart:

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) has denounced fishing as a cruel sport, insisting that fish feel pain and urging all anglers to become vegans.

“Fish are sentient individuals who feel pain,” PETA stated in a tweet Friday. “Invading an animal's natural habitat, harassing them, killing them, and eating them for fun is so cruel.”

“Don't go fishing this summer, or EVER,” PETA commanded.

In their accompanying video, PETA asks viewers to try to imagine what their cold-blooded brethren feel by putting themselves in the fish's place.

“Anglers often try to retrieve hooks by shoving their fingers or even a pair of pliers down a fish's throat. Doing this doesn't just rip out the hook, but also part of the fish's throat and organs,” the video states.

“Can you imagine having a hook pierce your face before suffocating to death?” it asks.

“No one deserves this. Try vegan!” it adds, seeming to suggest that human rights and fish rights are basically equivalent and that a fish is a “someone” just as a human being is.

“People often wonder: Do fish feel pain? Yes, they do,” PETA declares, citing Penn State University's Victoria Braithwaite as saying that there is “as much evidence that fish feel pain and suffer as there is for birds and mammals.”

The PETA video then seems to suggest that the capacity to experience psychological “terror” is a function of sensory nerve endings.

Vegans are an interesting case study in the type of insanity that modern society creates.

If the first principles of existence is “Pleasure = Good, Pain = Bad,” then it is sort of an obvious eventual conclusion that fishing is evil.

This is why we must take our first principles from God's natural order, which is that pleasure is not superior to pain, that peace is not the natural state of man or any other living creature, that existence is about survival and survival is about fighting and conquering.

It is only by observing nature that we may observe the eternal Divine Will.

God ordains that it is the strong that shall rule.

And surely, it is man's duty to rule over fish.

And all other life on earth.

Just as it is the duty of men to rule over women.

Pushing back against this is fighting against God and His nature.

And that is the true divide between us and them.

Jewish Problem

Jews Meet in Israel to Discuss Rising Jew-Hate in the US

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

They seem to be exclusively concerned about BDS.

And the issue with that is just...in the tech era, everyone can see them killing all these brown people on the internet. And a big part of the Jewish system is that you're not allowed to kill brown people.

So they sort of shot their own selves in the foot with that one.

Breaking Israel News:

Moderating a panel in Jerusalem this week titled “The Mainstreaming of Anti-Semitism: The Media, BDS and Celebrated Bigotry,” David Hazony, executive director of the Israel Innovation Fund, analyzed the issue right off the bat: “What you are seeing on [North American college] campuses is only a thin slice of the anti-Semitic beast that has emerged in our public life around the world in the last six months, in the last year.”

The event was hosted by the Committee for Accuracy in Middle East Reporting and Analysis (CAMERA), in partnership with the Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs (JCPA) and Hazony’s organization.

Hazony added, “All of a sudden, The New York Times’ editorial-page cartoons; all of a sudden, columns; all of a sudden, valedictory addresses, commencement speeches, congressional convocations, politicians—all of a sudden in America, you’ve got synagogues being shot up, synagogues being torched. All of a sudden, what we thought had been hidden, gone away, has come roaring back.”

He went on to ask: “Is it possible that anti-Semitism and assimilation—the two great crises facing the Diaspora today—are really two sides of the same coin?”

“At a time when the next generation of Jews feels less connection, has less knowledge, has less commitment to our collective than any generation in the past,” he continued, “is it any wonder that this monster that’s been lurking in the deep smells blood, smells weakness and chooses this time to rear its head?”

Whether or not Hazony’s anti-Semitism/assimilation theory is correct, the numbers don’t lie. During his comments, Dan Diker, a fellow and senior project director at the JCPA who is heading their program to counter political warfare and BDS, cited a study indicating a 70 percent increase in anti-Semitic hate crimes in New York City in the first six months of this year compared to 2018, with another study showing attacks on Jews up 57 percent nationally in the United States.

Diker, who displayed the recently published anti-Semitic New York Times’ political cartoon on a screen behind him, which depicted a blind U.S. President Donald Trump wearing a yarmulke being led by Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu as his guide dog, wearing a Star of David on his collar, said a Hudson Institute study that just came out showed that 45 percent of 18-to 65-year-old likely American voters in 2020 could not or would not determine that the cartoon was anti-Semitic.

That cartoon caused a social-media uproar after the image was shown to mirror caricatures in Nazi publications of the 1930s and 1940s in Germany.

Diker says that the Hudson study results shows that perhaps “we have been living with the new normal—the normalization of the demonization of Jews and the Jewish state. And I would argue that the ongoing decades-old long demonization and dehumanization of the Jewish state has been misunderstood as political criticism when in truth, it has been the new virulent form of anti-Semitism.”

It’s amazing the way they just demand they get their way on absolutely everything.

Donald Trump is about to start a gigantic war for them...but they’re worried about a cartoon showing that Donald Trump is beholden to them.

Just enjoy your war, Jews. Don’t focus on the fact that people hate you because you took over America and used it for your own purposes. Focus on the fact that you pulled that off, successfully.

It is quite an achievement.

Why Can You Test a Religion with a DNA Test?

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

Some Jew in The Guardian is claiming that Judaism is a “religious identity,” and it should always be classified that way so the Nazis don’t rise again.

But he’s concerned that the rising use of DNA tests could make people once again think the Jews are a race.

And he doesn’t think Israel should be embracing this.

The Guardian:

In February of this year, the Israeli newspaper Haaretz, reported that the Chief Rabbinate of Israel, the peak religious authority in the country, had been requesting DNA tests to confirm Jewishness before issuing some marriage licenses.

In Israel, matrimonial law is religious, not civil. Jews can marry Jews, but intermarriage with Muslims or Christians is legally unacknowledged. This means that when a Jewish couple want to tie the knot, they are required by law to prove their Jewishness to the Rabbinate according to Orthodox tradition, which defines Jewish ancestry as being passed down through the mother.

While for most Israeli Jews this simply involves handing over their mother’s birth or marriage certificate, for many recent immigrants to Israel, who often come from communities where being Jewish is defined differently or documentation is scarce, producing evidence that satisfies the Rabbinate’s standard of proof can be impossible.

In the past, confirming Jewishness in the absence of documentation has involved contacting rabbis from the countries where people originate or tracking genealogical records back to prove religious continuity along the matrilineal line. But as was reported in Haaretz, and later confirmed by David Lau, the Ashkenazi chief rabbi of Israel, in the past year, the rabbis have been requesting that some people undergo a DNA test to verify their claim before being allowed to marry.

For many Israelis, news that the rabbinical judges were turning to DNA testing was shocking, but for Seth Farber, an American-born Orthodox rabbi, it came as no surprise. Farber, who has been living in Israel since the 1990s, is the director of Itim, the Jewish Life Information Center, an organization that helps Israeli Jews navigate state-administered matters of Jewish life, like marriage and conversion. In the past year, the organization has seen up to 50 cases where families have been asked to undergo DNA tests to certify their Jewishness.

Those being asked to take these tests, Farber told me, are mostly Russian-speaking Israelis, members of an almost 1 million-strong immigrant community who began moving to Israel from countries of the former Soviet Union in the 1990s. Due to the fact that Jewish life was forcefully suppressed during the Soviet era, many members of this community lack the necessary documentation to prove Jewishness through matrilineal descent. This means that although most self-identify as Jewish, hundreds of thousands are not considered so by the Rabbinate, and routinely have their Jewish status challenged when seeking religious services, including marriage.

As a Nazi, I do approve of this. And hope this issue continues to be in the news.

Jews are a race. Many members of that race follow a religion, which is actually just all about their race. But not being religious doesn’t make them any less Jewish.

Vile Traitor Donald Trump Betrays America with Babbling Senile Gibberish About Stupid False Flag Hoax

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Video Link

The traitor Donald Trump, who wants to send tens of thousands of our boys to die in a completely insane war against Iran that has no other purpose than to make Jews feel safer, is going around on the shows.

He is openly accusing Iran of being responsible for this attack on two Japanese ships.

I went over most of the details yesterday.

The US is claiming a mine was responsible for the explosion, and says Iranians came back to the ship to pick up a mine that didn’t detonate. They’ve released a video.

Video Link

This is some kind of psycho warfare nonsense.

Newly today, Japan has said that it wasn't a mine that bombed the ships, and that it's physically impossible for that to have happened. The media initially said it was a torpedo, but they haven't been using that word today.

Anyway, shockingly, even the New York Times is calling bullshit on this.

New York Times:

Secretary of State Mike Pompeo said Thursday that intelligence reviewed by American officials showed that Iran was responsible for attacks earlier in the day on two tankers in the Gulf of Oman, a critical waterway for the transit of much of the world's oil.

Mr. Pompeo did not present any evidence to back up the assessment of Iran's involvement. The assertion is certain to further fuel tensions between the Trump administration and Iranian leaders, which have been at heightened levels since early May, when the White House announced military movements in response to what American officials have said is an increased threat from Iran.

Speaking at a news conference in Washington, Mr. Pompeo said the sabotage against the two tankers was only the latest in a series of recent violent acts by Iran.

"Taken as a whole, these unprovoked attacks present a clear threat to international peace and security," he said.

The rapid escalation of tensions in early May between the United States and Iran took place around the time that four tankers were damaged by explosions at the mouth of the Persian Gulf, near the Strait of Hormuz. The explosions that occurred in the same area early Thursday morning, which forced crews to abandon ship and left one vessel ablaze, were similar to the incidents last month.

Mr. Pompeo and John R. Bolton, the national security adviser, both said late last month that Iran was responsible for those earlier attacks, though neither have presented evidence. On May 30, Mr. Pompeo told reporters that he had seen evidence of Iranian involvement and said "these were efforts by the Iranians to raise the price of crude oil throughout the world."

Details of the incidents on Thursday have remained murky, as they have for the explosions in May. Given the widespread criticism over the Iraq War and presentation of faulty intelligence that led to it, the Trump administration faces great pressure from Congress, the American public and foreign allies to lay out explicitly any evidence of threatening actions by Iran.

Funny to see the NYT—the ones responsible for hoaxing all of the Iraq intelligence—taking this tone.

But it might not be that surprising. I think they have good reason not to have blood on their hands a second time, and they also have good reason to believe that Trump won't launch a war based on what they say.

He's obviously already planning to do it, or he wouldn't have faked this false flag attack. So the deal is already done.

He's the deal maker, remember?

He blows up ships and blames it on other people then sends tens of thousands of Americans to die in pointless wars for Jews—that's his deal.

Fuck.

I am so absolutely disgusted by this disgusting fat old orange man.

May God punish him for this great evil he has committed against our nation.

The good news is that comments sections across the entire internet are being flooded with people saying this is fake, that Trump did it, or Israel or Mike Pompeo or whatever—they're all the same entity at this point.

Keep commenting everywhere you can, get this meme out there.

With China and Japan involved in all of this, it's quite possible we could get a real investigation into this attack. I'm sure there's enough layers of plausible deniability that Trump/Israel couldn't take a fall for it. But any objective investigation is going to be pointing the finger in their direction.

Controlled Opposition Jew Shill Ben Shapiro is Already Getting Censored on Social Media

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

June 13, 2019

My censorship prophecy, which goes all the way back to when I was first censored in 2017, states that from the censorship of me, the Jewish media and tech companies will progressively censor all right wing voices, completely.

However, a key part of my prophecy was that the last to be censored would be Jewish controlled opposition figures.

Although my website was stolen in 2017, my prediction was that the progression would go like this:

1. Social media will be completely cleansed of people who talk about race or Jews

2. Social media will be cleansed of people who support Trump
3. Social media will be cleansed of any kind of conservative or Christian
4. People who talk about race or Jews will have their websites stolen
5. People who support Trump will have their websites stolen
6. Social media will be cleansed of fake right-wing Jewish skills
7. Conservatives and Christians will have their websites stolen
8. Fake right-wing Jewish skills will have their websites stolen

We're on #2 and #3 right now. Two years after my website was stolen, no one major has had their website stolen (Gab was able to find a new registrar when theirs kicked them off). (Notably, Alex Jones was deranked on Google, which has a similar effect to having your website stolen.)

But this week, we heard from James O'Keefe's Project Veritas that Pinterest, a social media company you don't think much about but which nonetheless has almost as many users as Twitter, has censored Ben Shapiro, the King Herod of Jewish controlled opposition figures.

Then Twitter and YouTube censored Project Veritas for posting about Pinterest censoring Ben Shapiro.

Breaking News: Twitter has decided that investigative journalism is in violation of their terms of service—@Project_Veritas has been temporarily suspended from posting for tweeting internal communications from @Pinterest which show them calling @benshapiro a "white supremacist" pic.twitter.com/eJNDWEfanf

— James O'Keefe (@JamesOKeefeIII) June 12, 2019

SUPPORT the insider who leaked the documents and got fired HERE: <https://t.co/FLBzuLE65R> pic.twitter.com/zWlFW2leRQ

— James O'Keefe (@JamesOKeefeIII) June 12, 2019

So, this is one social media company already censoring Shapiro, and two companies censoring talking about Ben Shapiro being censored—while there are still some voices left on social media.

Does that mean the prophecy was wrong?

No.

The big censorship is coming down on James O'Keefe, because they do not want him doing any of this brand of investigative journalism. The secret recordings and leaks and so on are very Jewish tactics that he is using against Jews, and that has to be shut down.

The initial incident of Pinterest censoring Shapiro is amazing. But it's an outlier which is less connected than the big three of Google, Twitter and Facebook. I know there is a flag on Ben Shapiro, that these companies know they're not supposed to censor him. But the way it was done—they added him and various Christians and anti-abortion activists to a banned list that was intended to block pornography—was very secretive and underhanded, unlike the mass bans coming from the big three, suggesting that Pinterest went rogue.

However, what I will say is that the timetable has been rapidly sped-up, and they are trying to get absolutely everyone who supports Trump off of social media before 2020.

Maybe they'll move too quickly and there will be a backlash.

But what actually is a "backlash" in this case?

What ability does anyone in this society have to do anything at all?

We already voted for Trump. We have voiced our discontent with the status quo in the strongest terms available, and that has been completely disregarded, with Trump's presidency becoming something like the opposite of what he ran on.

"Democracy" is a system wherein the people lack any input at all on what the government does—or in the case of protecting the First Amendment, what the government doesn't do.

What further recourse do we actually have?

Israel Attacks Syria Again, Missiles DENIED by Syrian Defenses

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Nice try, kikes.
Better luck next time.
RT:

Air defense systems have been activated around Tel al-Harah in southern Syria, close to the border with Israel, border to repel an incoming missile attack allegedly launched by the IDF, state news agency SANA reports.

Amid the strike on the strategic mountain-top area in the Daraa Governorate, the IDF allegedly waged "electronic warfare" against the Syrian army's radar installations, a SANA source noted. The high ground was captured by the government forces from al-Nusra terrorists in July 2018, and currently serves as a crucial air defense position, according to reports.

No casualties from the strikes have been reported. The attack did cause some material damage, the agency reports, citing military sources that blamed Israel for the aggression.

So is Israel ever going to just admit that they're at war with Syria?

#BREAKING #NOW

The IDF is now interfering with Syrian army radars in southern #Syria.

NOTE: This is the first time the IDF has taken this dangerous step.#Israel #IDF #IAF #Iran #IRGC #Russia #USA pic.twitter.com/yDVkIOUbI2

— Eva J. Koulouriotis—كولوريوتي إي فا (@evacool_) June 11, 2019

Officially, they claim that they're bombing Iranian terrorists who have set up shop in Syria, and just happen to be clustered around Syrian army bases and key strategic points.

At least that's what they used to do. Now, I'm not so sure. They seem to just be rolling with it and bombing without even trying to explain why they are doing it and how it isn't illegal to do what they're doing.

The IDF has not commented on the alleged attack. Israel rarely acknowledges its cross-border raids against Syria, and has repeatedly stated that it reserves the right to defend its 'national security' by any means necessary. In recent weeks, Tel Aviv has confirmed striking multiple Syrian Army installation targets, in retaliation to cross-border tensions surrounding the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights.

So...they are at war now, yes? Israel appears to be just casually admitting it now, but everyone knows that special rules get applied to the kikes, so it's really impossible to make any sense of it at all really.

Syria, unfortunately, cannot respond in kind to Israel's provocation because the US is, no doubt, waiting for them to harm the hair on a precious IDF soldier's head to justify more shenanigans in Syria and then pivot to occasionally bombing Iran—because why not at this point?

This is, however, no doubt the blueprint for the neocon wars of the near future, where everyone will act like there is no war going on to avoid the accusations of starting wars. But there will be, by both the literal and technical definition of the word, a war going on.

No declarations, no condemnations, no nothing. Just the quiet whistle of the bombs falling and silent firework displays lighting up the desert night sky.

NYT to End All Political Cartoons Rather Than Risk Another Anti-Semitic Incident

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

THE NEW YORK TIMES WILL END ALL POLITICAL CARTOONS I just learned, weeks after they published a syndicated Netanyahu cartoon that caused a scandal. For me, this is the end of an adventure that began 20 years ago. But the stakes are much higher. READ HERE: <https://t.co/o8y43v88Yd> pic.twitter.com/NBH0uyw9Jf

— Chappatte Cartoons (@PatChappatte) June 10, 2019

Apparently, the New York Times is just outright ending all political cartoons.

Because the international edition printed an anti-Semitic cartoon.

Whatever anti-Semitism even means. It was a factually accurate cartoon.

But anything outside of just “this is what you must believe, goyim” is too far outside of the Jewish comfort zone.

German Nazis Claim Israel Cannot Annex the Entire West Bank!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

German Chancellor Angela Merkel

Even after killing sixty bajillion innocent Jewish communist pornographers and turning them into lampshades and soap, Germany still isn't done with inflicting infinite suffering on the blameless Jewish race.

Now, they're trying to tell them that they cannot annex all of Palestine. Even though the Jewish demon god Yahweh told them they could.

Next, these NAZIS will be saying that Syria doesn't belong to the Jews either.

AFP:

Germany's top diplomat on Sunday reaffirmed his country's support for a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict ahead of a long-awaited US peace plan.

“We are still in agreement that reaching a two-state solution through negotiations is the only solution,” Heiko Maas said during a press conference in Amman with his Jordanian counterpart.

Washington is gearing up to roll out economic aspects of its plan at a conference in Bahrain later this month, but it is not yet clear when its political details will be unveiled.

The Palestinians have already rejected the deal, citing a string of moves by US President Donald Trump they say show his administration is irredeemably biased.

“We and Germany agree that the two-state solution is the only way to end the conflict,” Jordanian Foreign Minister Ayman Safadi said.

Mass and Safadi met a day after US ambassador to Israel David Friedman was quoted by the New York Times as saying Israel had the “right” to annex at least parts of the occupied West Bank.

Palestinian leaders said the US envoy's comments showed “extremists” were involved in White House policy on the issue.

Israel occupied the West Bank in the 1967 Six-Day War and its construction of settlements there is viewed as a major stumbling block to peace as they are built on land the Palestinians see as part of their future state.

Friedman has in the past been a supporter of Israeli settlements as has the family of Jared Kushner, Trump's son-in-law and adviser leading efforts to put together the peace deal.

It may be time for Donald Kushner to launch a third World War against Germany.

We simply cannot allow them to continue to speak ill of the chosen ones.

It is the sacred duty of the United States of America to protect the Jews for all eternity from anyone who ever dares to question them.

As America's founder, Ronald Reagan, said after the battle of Wounded Knee:

“Tis the season for the time of the eternal reign of the Jews. And so doth we establish this nation with one mission and one mission simply: to ensure that the Jews rule over everything, and that a hooked-nose shadow falls upon the land.”

Seems pretty clear to me.

Daw Suu Visits Hungary to Discuss Moslem Problem – Jews Say They're All Evil

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Daw Suu recently made a special trip to Hungary to talk about the growing international Islamic menace.

Let's see what the burrowing, blood-sucking Jewish ticks of Vox have to say about this event.

Vox:

Nobel Peace Prize winner Aung San Suu Kyi, who was once lauded internationally for her efforts to bring democracy to Myanmar, made a rare trip to Europe this week.

But the civilian leader's purpose this time wasn't to champion human rights and democracy. It was to meet with far-right Hungarian autocrat Viktor Orbán to lament the “continuously growing Muslim populations” in both of their countries.

“The two leaders highlighted that one of the greatest challenges at present for both countries and their respective regions — South East Asia and Europe — is migration,” read a statement released by the Hungarian government after the summit. “They noted that both regions have seen the emergence of the issue of coexistence with continuously growing Muslim populations.”

That's a chilling statement. Over the past two years, Suu Kyi has stood by during the genocide of Myanmar’s Rohingya, a long-persecuted Muslim minority group. Hundreds of thousands have been killed or have fled their homes to escape the widespread crackdown.

Orbán, meanwhile, has described migrants from the Middle East and central Asia who are fleeing violence and economic hardship as “Muslim invaders” and has taken dramatic measures to curtail the number of immigrants entering Hungary, including constructing a massive barbed-wire fence along the border with Serbia.

In that context, the statement from the two leaders basically translates as: “We either want to keep Muslims away from us or kill them.”

The statement makes two things depressingly clear. First, followers of Islam are increasingly persecuted all around the globe, not just in Europe, even though much press has been devoted to that trend in recent years. Second, Suu Kyi’s fall from grace isn’t slowing down – it’s accelerating.

Something is accelerating—that’s for sure.

But I’m quite sure it isn’t Daw Suu’s “fall from grace,” which is in fact only in your sickening Jew brains. She is loved more than ever—not only by her own people in Burma, but throughout Asia. She is considered a hero for standing up to the Moslems in the name of the Buddha and the yellow races.

But let us consider what Vox is actually trying to say here: they are making the baseless assertion that Moslems are not a problem, and anyone who lives with them and says that they are a problem is lying, and that actually they would only say that because they are evil.

This is the level to which geopolitical discourse has sunk—not just on trashy blogs like Vox, but everywhere in the West: if you don’t agree with our baseless assertions, you are evil.

evil

ADJECTIVE

- Profoundly immoral and wicked.
 - 'his evil deeds'
 - 'no man is so evil as to be beyond redemption'
 - More example sentences
 - Synonyms
- (of a force or spirit) embodying or associated with the forces of the devil.
 - 'we were driven out of the house by an evil spirit'
 - More example sentences
 - Synonyms
- (of a smell or sight) extremely unpleasant.
 - 'a bathroom with an ineradicably evil smell'
 - More example sentences
 - Synonyms

This is simply not an adult way to handle complex sociological and geopolitical issues. If you have a situation where one side of the political debate simply claims that their opponents are motivated by metaphysical evil, you cannot ever even begin to have a real discussion about anything.

To be fair, there are occasions when the media will throw something out about “oh well, some people are having a hard time integrating with these massive populations we’re moving into their homes...”—but then others will come out and attack anyone who says something like that as justifying evil.

And apparently, there are a significant number of people who are okay with simply accepting the explanation that anyone who disagrees with the seemingly limitless series of baseless assertions made by the globalist elite can only be disagreeing because they are evil.

We are at the point where none of this can ever be reconciled. Because you cannot ever actually back down from having declared anyone who disagrees with you to be driven by metaphysical evil. You’ve officially ruled out the ability to have any kind of discussion about anything.

And of course, the Jews have done this on purpose. They want a situation where any kind of discussion is impossible. Because you cannot really have a discussion based on logic or reason about the concept of replacing native populations with Moslems. You can’t even really have an adult discussion about whether it is even possible for large numbers of Moslems to live peacefully among non-Moslems. We have actual hard data on these issues. So the only option is to refuse the discussion outright, and the way to do that is to accuse anyone who dares question globalist Jewish orthodoxy of metaphysical evil.

Race War

Germany: Eritrean Youth Assaults Female Asylum Center Worker

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

The most shocking part is that the woman fought him off.

Isn't this what she was there for?

Infowars Europe:

A caregiver at a youth asylum facility in Bogen, Germany, was sexually assaulted by a 14-year-old Eritrean migrant, according to police.

The woman reportedly sustained injuries while fighting off her attacker, criminal investigators say.

"At 4:00 pm, a 14-year-old Eritrean sexually assaulted a caregiver," police in the Swabia region of Germany explain in a report.

"After the victim was able to defend herself, the culprit fled. The victim suffered minor injuries, and the 14-year-old is now being investigated for attempted sex offenses."

The suspect was "merely visiting the facility and initially lodged elsewhere," according to Idowa, and was later moved to a "supervised" housing institution following the alleged attack.

Police were reportedly unable to confirm if the suspect would be disallowed from being in contact with female caregivers following the attack.

Juvenile Found Guilty of Murdering Young White Lad Who Tried to Buy a Cell Phone from Him

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 16, 2019

Jahzion Wilson.

The victim's own mother advised him not to go, but he did so anyway.

Foolish, foolish lad.

WBTV:

A teenager was found guilty of murder in the killing of a 21-year-old baseball player in Charlotte.

Jahzion Wilson was on trial for robbing and killing Zachary Finch in June 2017. Just before 3:30 p.m., Wilson was found guilty of murder and robbery. He was found not guilty of a third charge, conspiracy. He was sentenced to life with the possibility of parole.

On Wednesday, both the state and the defense rested and closing arguments were set for Thursday morning. Wilson had turned down two plea offers already.

"We were shocked that he was going to take a chance," said Tara Finch, the mother of of Zachary.

Police say Zachary Finch planned to purchase a cell phone using the 'Let Go' app, but say when he went to meet the sellers he was robbed and killed.

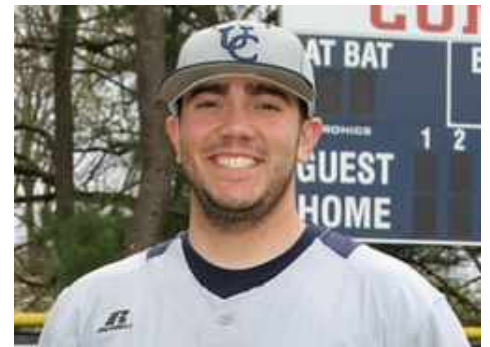

"This is a cruel process to put families through this. To make you relive this nightmare and make you listen to evidence about how your child was killed," said Finch.

On Monday, Tara Finch testified that she had asked her son not to go meet the sellers that day in June of 2017.

...

The co-defendant, Damonte McCain, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge last year and as a part of that deal, he was asked to testify against Wilson if needed. That did not happen. The defense did not call any witnesses.

Charges against McCain remain pending.

Zachary Finch.

Muskegon: Career Criminal Nog Fatally Shoots a White Man in the Head

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

Michael Williams, left, and Patrick Hotz.

The white man on the right helped the dog to cover his tracks.

Funnily enough, he looks exactly like the sort of person who'd help a racial alien to commit a crime against a fellow human.

But hey, we're not supposed to judge a book by its cover, right?

Physiognomy is a pseudoscience, so sayeth the wise and benevolent Jews.

WZZM13:

Two men have been charged in connection to a Muskegon shooting death that occurred early Monday morning.

Michael Williams, 36, was charged with open murder and three weapons charges. He is a fourth-degree habitual offender.

Investigators say Patrick Hotz, 36, helped dispose of the gun and clothing. He is charged with tampering with evidence in a major crime, which is a 10-year felony. He is also a fourth-degree habitual offender.

The Muskegon Police Department responded to the 1900 block of Austin Street around 3:42 a.m. on a report of a man who had been shot.

They found Shaune Ellcey, 39, outside of a house and shot in the head. He was taken to Hackley Hospital where he later died.

Shaune Ellcey.

Sentences for Twin Coons Who Murdered Elderly White Couple Get Thrown Out, Considered Too Mean

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

Lydell and Laycelle White.

Yes, what these blacks did to that elderly couple was cruel, but giving them long sentences for it is even crueler.

Not to mention unusual, what with the whole "having to stay in a prison cell" thing.

They deserve better than what they got. KPTV:

Sentences for two teens convicted of murdering a Salem couple in 1993 have been thrown out after an Oregon supreme court ruling.

The state supreme court ultimately ruled that twins' 67-year sentence was cruel and unusual punishment.

Lydell white and his brother Laycelle were found guilty of murdering Richard and Grace Remy, both in their 80's, and stealing their car.

The couple was found dead in their Salem home in 1993.

The White twins, who were 15 years old at the time of the crime were sentenced to nearly 70-years in prison.

The pair, now in the 40's, have won a ruling by the state supreme court.

It basically says their sentence violates the eighth amendment, cruel and unusual punishment.

Their lawyer told FOX 12 the two want to show the court they've changed. They've spent more than half their life in prison so what's next?

The white's lawyer said the case could head to the U.S. Supreme court or it could head back to Marion County for re-sentencing.

Richard and Grace Remy.

Dindu Stabs 72-Year-Old White Man to Death in a YMCA Locker Room

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 15, 2019

Andre Lamont Price Jefferson.

Yikes.

Considering the location of the crime and the race of the perpetrator, I'm actually relieved it was just a stabbing.

The Star Democrat:

The man charged with a fatal stabbing at the Easton YMCA will remain held without bond as his case heads to circuit court for trial.

Andre Lamont Price Jefferson, 31, of Easton, is charged with first-degree murder in the homicide of John Joseph Cassidy, 72, of Easton.

Considering the “extreme violent nature of the allegations” against Jefferson and other factors, Talbot County District Court Judge Karen Ketterman ordered Jefferson held without bond pending further proceedings in circuit court.

During Monday afternoon's bail review, an attorney for Jefferson waived his right to a preliminary hearing in district court, meaning the case will proceed to Talbot County Circuit Court.

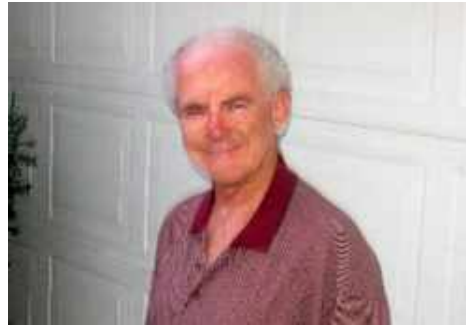

...

Jefferson is charged with first- and second-degree murder, first- and second-degree assault, armed robbery, robbery, reckless endangerment, wearing and carrying a concealed weapon, and attempted theft under $100.

He is accused of killing Cassidy in the men's locker room at the Easton Family YMCA on Peachblossom Road.

Easton Police officers were called to the YMCA about 7:46 a.m. Thursday, June 6, for a reported assault.

Officers found Cassidy on the floor of the men's room, bleeding from apparent stab wounds. He was pronounced dead at the hospital.

John Joseph Cassidy.

Sweden: Seven Afghanis and a Neo-Swede Arrested in Connection with Rape Attack

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

One of these Moslems was involved in a charity that integrates migrants into Sweden.

Go on—see if you can guess what the head of that charity looks like.

Just one guess.

Breitbart:

Seven Afghan migrants and one Swedish citizen have been arrested in two separate operations in connection with a case of rape, with one suspect being involved with a migrant integration charity.

The first round of arrests occurred in the middle of May, and were followed in June with several more suspects. All of the suspects are between 20 to 26 years old with most of the suspects residing in Östersund, Sweden, Nyheter Idag reports.

The rape attack or attacks are said to have occurred between the 3rd and 8th of May but police have not shared the full and specific details in the case.

Several details regarding the suspects have come to light, such as one of the men having been convicted twice for assault in 2014 and 2015, while another is said to have worked at the asylum seeker integration charity Hej främling! (“Hi stranger!”) which fired him upon being notified of his arrest.

The charity, which describes itself as bringing together Swedes and asylum seekers for various sporting and outdoor activities to help integrate new arrivals, released a statement on the arrest of the former worker saying: “We have zero tolerance with regard to crime, so we are serious about this.”

Maria Svensson Wiklander, chairman of the group, said they knew the former volunteer had been convicted of a crime before his current arrest, but argued: “Everyone is worth the chance. It is also something we assume in our business, that one should have a second chance to get out of crime and abuse.”

Well done, you were right.

Belligerent Bonobo Tenderizes His Teenage Mudshark to Death

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Lequinton Melton and Taylor Liles.

The thing about these mudsharks is that no one respects them.

Respect for mudsharks is so non-existent, in fact, that authorities literally have to advise people not to celebrate their hilarious deaths on social media.

WCCB Charlotte:

The Stanly County Sheriff's Office says they charged a man for beating his teenage girlfriend to death.

Deputies say they responded to Atrium Stanly in Albemarle on June 8th after receiving a report of an assault. The victim, 19-year-old Taylor Liles of Albemarle, died from the injuries she sustained in the assault, according to a news release.

Authorities say further investigation revealed that the assault happened at Liles' boyfriends' home on N. Kendall Street in Norwood.

Lequinton Melton, 26, was arrested and charged with first degree murder. He is currently being held in the Ralph McSwain Detention Center under no bond.

...

Authorities are asking for people to refrain from spreading false rumors, making threats and posting inflammatory comments on social media in reference to this case.

Jacksonville Jiggaboo Accused of Fatally Stabbing Old White Man in Torso and Head

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

London Castleberry.

Only a negro could have a name as classy as "London Castleberry" and still act like an unhinged, murderous chimp.

Jacksonville Progress:

A Jacksonville man has been indicted by a Cherokee County Grand Jury on a charge of capital murder that occurred Jan. 7 at a Jacksonville apartment building.

London Castleberry, 33, remains in the Cherokee County Jail on a $1,000,000 bond. The indictment was handed up March 25, according to court documents.

According to a Jacksonville Police Department release, officers responded to the scene of Travis Towers Apartments, 557 S. Ragsdale St., and discovered Robert Barclay, 74, of Jacksonville, "was in fact deceased of what appeared to be multiple stab wounds from a knife to his upper torso and head area."

The release described how, early that morning on Jan. 7, a 33-year-old Jacksonville man entered the lobby of the Jacksonville Police Department, stating that he had killed a person, and "advised officers that he had used a knife to kill" Barclay at his residence.

After discovering the victim, officers obtained an arrest warrant for Castleberry, who also resided at Travis Towers.

Robert Barclay.

God-Fearing Baboon Indicted for Murdering Two 17-Year-Old White Girls in 1999

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Coley McCraney.

On the surface he seemed like a gud boi, preaching in church 'n' sheeeeiittt.

But what good is being a part-time preacher if you're also a full-time nigger?

WVTM:

Grand jurors have indicted a south Alabama trucker on five counts of capital murder in the slayings of two teenagers who were killed two decades ago.

Local media reports a prosecutor and defense attorney as saying a Dale County grand jury returned the charges against Coley McCraney in the slayings of Dothan teens J.B. Beasley and Tracie Hawlett.

...

A defense lawyer and relatives say the long-haul trucker and part-time preacher is innocent.

The bodies of the two 17-year-olds were found in the trunk of a car in 1999.

Authorities say they linked McCraney to the slayings using genetic genealogy techniques on crime scene DNA.

J.B. Beasley, left, and Tracie Hawlett.

Rabid Teenaper Chimps Out in Parking Lot, Throws White Baby Onto Pavement

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Video Link

I guess the baby just looked at him in a racist way.

It's certainly possible, according to Newsweek.

WSAV:

An Oklahoma teen says he was high on laced marijuana when he attacked a baby outside of an Edmond supermarket.

Security footage shows the teen beating on moving cars in the parking lot before the attack. He then approaches a mother pushing a shopping cart with her baby in it, grabs the child's car seat and throws it on the pavement.

The 17-year-old then tried to bend a parking sign with his bare hands.

After the suspect allegedly "exposed himself" and "flipped people off", he stripped down and ran through moving traffic to a nearby neighborhood. He started demanding weapons from neighbors.

Once police got the suspect in handcuffs, he told them he smoked marijuana earlier that day and believed it may have been laced with acid or PCP.

The teen was arrested on multiple charges including Aggravated Assault & Battery, Assault on a Police Officer, Indecent Exposure, Public Intoxication, and Malicious Injury or Destruction of Property.

South Africa: Negroes Murder Elderly Farmer, Rape Woman in Front of Her Five-Year-Old Son

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

We've got a vibrant DOUBLE BILL for you today, since the nogs have been nogg-ing hard this week.

These two attacks were particularly bad.

South Africa Today:

A brutal farm attack took place on 10 June 2019, in the Apiesrivier area, Gauteng province. An unknown number of attackers broke into a vehicle on the property, they then attacked and raped a female victim in front of her five year old son. The victim's dogs are also missing.

Police are investigating, there have been no arrests made. There is no other information available at this stage.

South Africa Today:

A horrific farm murder has taken place in Sheepmoor, Mpumalanga province. A male victim aged 67 has been found murdered in a plantation on his farm on 12 June 2019, after being reported as missing on Monday 10 June 2019. He was allegedly hacked to death with a machete.

Police are investigating. There is no other information available at this stage and there have been no arrests.

It seems that it is ill-advised to be a white minority in a country completely ruled by blacks.

Take note of that for future reference.

Germany: Moslem Smashes Bottle Over White Man's Head, Says "This is for Afghanistan"

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Afghan assaults a German with a beer bottle for no reason. Since this Afghan says "This is for Afghanistan"; let's send him and his family back there to enrich their own country!
pic.twitter.com/QUXVa6jQ4C

— Stan (@StanM3) July 31, 2018

Why not attack him for doing the Crusades as well?

I mean he is responsible, being white and all.

Infowars Europe:

A shock video out of Germany shows a migrant smashing a bottle over another young man's head while saying, "This is for Afghanistan."

It is not known where the incident took place, but the video began circulating on social media earlier today.

The young migrant is seen talking in German on camera while holding the bottle in his hand.

He then states, "This is for Afghanistan" before smashing the bottle over the head of a white German man, who then screams out in pain as he lay bleeding on the street.

According to the German government's own statistics, violent crime in Germany rose by 10 per cent between 2015 and 2016, when the country began accepting large numbers of migrants, many of them young men. More than 90 per cent of the rise was attributable to young male "refugees".

Indianapolis: Evil Cameroonien Nog Murders White Father of Three

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Jean Eyongegbe.

One hundred years ago, an angry mob would have burned the whole of Coon Town to the ground over something like this.

WTHR:

The man arrested and charged in the deadly shooting outside an East 82nd Street popular bar went to court for the first time Monday afternoon.

Jean Eyongegbe faces one count of murder in the shooting death of 43-year-old Jason Frazier of Fishers. The two got into a disagreement that escalated after being inside Drake's.

During his initial hearing for the deadly shooting in the parking, the suspect kept dropping his head crying. Eyongegbe, a native of Cameroon, appeared to have a look of disbelief on his face during the hearing.

He barely spoke up to answer the questions from Marion County Superior Court Judge Barbara Crawford.

The court documents about the shooting show what police learned surveillance video and witnesses.

When officers arrived at Drake's, they found Frazier on the ground shot and 23-year-old shooting suspect Jean Eyongegbe still on scene.

Their confrontation reportedly started after they left from inside Drake's where customers play cornhole outside. According to people with Frazier, one of the two men said something about one of the women with Frazier.

During witness interviews, court documents show one of Frazier's friends told investigators Frazier did not see the gun and ran towards Eyongegbe, and Eyongegbe shot Frazier back to the SUV and waited for police to arrive.

Jason Frazier with children.

Georgia Police Searching for Two Blacks Who Murdered a Flaming Queer

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Ronald Peters.

Unfortunately for these blacks, faggots are higher than them on the Jewish victimhood ladder.

That means they're going to be charged with a HATE CRIME.

A hate crime is the worst crime a man can be charged with—because he was feeling an illegal emotion while doing it.

CBS 46:

A fatal shooting that claimed the life of 28-year-old Ronald Peters is being investigated as a “hate motivated” homicide by DeKalb County Police.

On Tuesday June 4, Peters was walking down Orchard Street to the MARTA station as he prepared for work. While en route, two black men exited a nearby maroon truck, put on masks and demanded Peters give them his bag.

“Give me your bag, fa*,” said one of the suspects, according to a witness.

Before Peters, who is an openly gay man, could fully react, he was shot in the chest and neck by one of the suspects. When his nearly lifeless body hit the pavement, the suspects grabbed his bag, ran back to the truck and fled the scene south towards Columbia Drive.

A witness also told police a third suspect was the designated getaway driver.

Peters boyfriend, Joseph Davis, told police there had been an incident between his boyfriend and two men a week prior — an incident in which Peters was verbally accosted and called a fa*.

Peter was immediately transported to an area hospital where he was pronounced dead at 9:15 a.m. When officers arrived to the 3400 block of Orchard Circle they found two shell casings.

Cowardly Africoon Punches 84-Year-Old White Woman in Face, Steals Her Purse

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Oluwale Olushola.

This chap isn't a Jamarcus, a Deandre or even a Quantavious.

He is an Oluwale, and that means he's from Niggeria—a place that seems to produce the chimpiest niggers of all.

AJC:

Cobb police have arrested the man believed to be responsible for punching an 84-year-old woman outside a Vinings Publix on Tuesday and stealing her purse.

Oluwale Olushola, 42, was arrested by the U.S. Marshal's Metro Fugitive Task Force on Friday after he was identified as a suspect in the case, Cobb police spokesman Sgt. Wayne Delk said.

In addition to the robbery charge, Olushola faces numerous other charges ranging from battery to fraud, Delk said.

The incident occurred just before 9:30 Tuesday morning outside the Publix on Cumberland Parkway.

The woman, Sondra Dillon, told Channel 2 Action News she had just gotten to the store to meet her friend when the man came “out of the blue.”

...

Dillon told police the man hopped back in the car and drove away after punching and robbing her.

Surveillance footage showed the man pulling away in a 2005 Toyota Camry with a dealer drive-out tag and extensive damage to the driver's side of the car.

Olushola is being booked into the Cobb County Jail, records show.

He is charged with three counts of identity fraud, three counts of financial transaction card theft, one count of robbery and one count of simple battery against a person older than 65.

Sondra Dillon.

Vienna: Group of Vibrants Brutally Enrich an Austrian Teen

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Neues Video aus dem "bere-ichteren" Wien.

Inklusive "Scheiß Österreicher" bei 0:26. pic.twitter.com/AFIB6XuUok

— Der rechte Intellekt (@dr_Intellekt) June 11, 2019

These vibrants look older than 13 to me, especially that 250 lb linebacker female.

I doubt these people would ever lie about their age, though.

Krone (Translation):

A shocking video showing the assault on the young fellow in Seaside City was provided to krone.at by colleagues in the daily newspaper "Heute", who were given the clip by the victim's brother. The fifteen-year-old boy had been lured by the gang in the seaside town on May 30, apparently under a pretext for a dusty parking lot near a small forest.

When the clip starts, the situation just gets out of control. The guy is grabbed by the collar and beaten several times by a 13-year-old girl. Shortly thereafter, another attacker intervenes, together they then go on the defenseless victim, beat and mercilessly on the young people, even as he is already writhing on the ground in pain. At the end of the clip, the boy, who also got some kicks directly against the head, runs down the blood from his face.

...

After the police were able to secure the video, the officers—as reported—quickly managed to investigate the suspected attackers. The two 13-year-olds are already known to the police. So they are said to have attacked a hemp shop in April, but were chased without loot by the employee. The two 13-year-olds were reported to the youth welfare office, but they are not yet punishable because of their age. In Austria, they must be 14 or older to be charged as criminals.

The third party, a 15-year-old boy, was reported for serious robbery—the trio had stolen the purse and headphones after the attack. Insight or even regret showed none of the alleged participants. While the 13-year-old duo admitted the act icy cold, the older accomplice remains silent.

Bond Denied for Half-Chimp Who Fatally Shot a White Teen

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Brent Harrell.

This was another one of those argument-related murders.

They tend to be an overwhelmingly black thing.

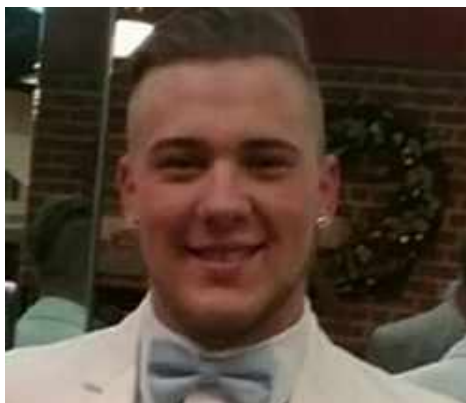

WFXRTV:

A young man accused of murder was denied bond by a judge in Pulaski County on Wednesday.

Brent Harrell was arrested in February for stabbing 19-year-old Chandler S. Dowell.

According to Virginia State Police, Harrell was arguing with Dowell outside of Harrell's home.

Harrell is facing second degree murder charges.

Chandler Dowell.

Cleveland: Interspecies Couple Get Gunned Down in Wildlife Reservation

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Carnell Sledge and Katherine Brown.

That's the problem with being black in a wildlife reservation—trophy hunters often mistake you for a wild gorilla.

The mudshark's murder, though, was probably deliberate.

Cleveland19:

The Cleveland Metroparks Police Department provided an update this morning on the investigation of two shooting deaths at the Rocky River Reservation.

According to the police, the victims were discovered around 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, just north of the Lorain Road Bridge.

The Cuyahoga County Medical Examiner has identified the victims as Carnell Sledge, 40, of North Olmsted, and Katherine Brown, 33, of Fairview Park.

The Cuyahoga County Medical Examiner listed Sledge's cause of death as "gunshot wounds of the head."

The medical examiner said Brown died from a single gunshot wound to the head.

...

Authorities said both deaths are being investigated as homicides.

Germany: Nogger from Niger Rapes a Nine-Year-Old Girl

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

It's all so tiresome.

Look, Germans: you brought in a man from a place called Niger.

The country is shaped like a fried chicken leg, ffs.

Are you really shocked that he ended up being a complete nigger?

Bild (Translation):

A police helicopter circled Pentecost Sunday over Roßlau. The crew assisted their colleagues on the ground in the search for a suspected child molester, who was on the run with the bike!

The suspicion: The man is said to have abused a girl (9) on the grounds of the former Russian barracks on Lukoer Strasse.

The investigators were successful! Shortly after 1 pm they were able to put the suspect on the street. “The man from Niger was temporarily arrested,” confirms police spokeswoman Doreen Wendland BILD.

...

After the investigators had evaluated all traces by Monday noon and heard the minor victim in the presence of the parents, the public prosecutor's office Dessau decided on Monday: warrants are requested against the man!

Prosecutor Frank Pieper confirms: “We have issued an arrest warrant on suspicion of serious sexual abuse. The suspect was sent to custody.”

Baltimore Police Charge Colored Uber Driver with Raping Passenger

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Joshua Jamaal Robinson.

Well, yeah.

This is why brown people become Uber drivers in the first place.

CBS Local:

Police have charged a former Uber driver in connection with allegations a woman who was riding in the Uber was raped Sunday.

31-year-old Joshua Jamaal Robinson, of the 200 block of River Way Ct, 21117 was charged with second-degree rape, third-degree sex offense, fourth-degree sex offense and two counts of second-degree assault.

The alleged incident happened Saturday just before midnight on West Timonium Road and Jenifer Road in Mays Chapel.

Shortly after the woman reported to the police, Uber said in a statement they had removed Robinson from the app.

“What’s been reported is appalling beyond words. We removed the driver from the app as soon as this report was sent to us. We will work with police on their investigation,” Uber said Wednesday.

Baltimore County Corporal Shawn Vinson said the alleged victim’s father became concerned about her whereabouts and used an unidentified app to track her to the location on West Timonium Road.

Vinson said the father saw an Uber pulled over and when he went to the car, he found his daughter and the Uber driver in the back seat. He then had “words” with the driver who threw his daughter’s pocketbook at him, got in the front seat and drove off.

Bearded Baboon to Serve Life in Prison for Murdering Retired White Marine

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Shawn Sturdivant.

The US Marines are taught discipline, weapons training, and how to remain strong in the face of adversity.

But what good is all that if they’re also taught to relax around blacks?

JD News:

Following afternoon deliberations on Thursday, the jury found Shawn Sturdivant guilty of first degree murder for fatally shooting retired Marine Joshua David Lindauer in 2017.

He has been sentenced to serve life in prison without the possibility of parole for the murder charge as well as approximately 1-to-3 years for having a firearm as a felon.

“I’m disappointed,” Sturdivant’s attorney Billy Joe Morgan said of the verdict. “I thought at most he would get second degree murder and at least manslaughter.”

However the trial, Morgan said, more or less went how the defense wanted it to go. Morgan said he believes the defendant’s attempts to wash his hands and burn his shirt after the incident was likely what led the jury to believe Sturdivant is guilty.

Joshua Lindauer.

Drug-Addicted Congoid Crashes His Cadillac, Kills His Coalburner Wife

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Yakema Buckley.

A mudshark who died before she could spawn her first chimplet, and an unstable orangutan that’ll be going away for a long, long time.

What’s not to love?
Cincinnati:

Yakema J. Buckley has been charged with murder in the fatal wreck that killed his wife, Crystal Buckley, in Taylor Mill.

Kenton County Commonwealth’s Attorney’s Office made the announcement Thursday evening. An attached Kenton County Police report accuses Yakema Buckley of having fentanyl, opiates, cocaine and THC in his system.

The crash occurred about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday on Pride Parkway when Buckley’s Cadillac crossed the median and was struck on the passenger side by an SUV. Yakema Buckley was driving, the police report states.

Witness told police the Cadillac had been traveling erratically, the report states.

Murder carries a prison sentence up to 50 years or life in Kentucky.

Yakema Buckley was treated at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center and taken into custody upon his release.

Crystal Buckley.

South Africa: Third Farm Attack in Soutpansberg Region in Three Weeks

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Ferdi Jacobs.

Let’s just hope that, with a surname like Jacobs, this victim is actually Jewish.

Jews in South Africa are long overdue for some enrichment after their pivotal role in the abolition of apartheid and the continued demonization of the Afrikaners.

South Africa Today:

Attacks on farms in the Soutpansberg now appear to be a weekly event, the 35 year old Ferdi Jacobs became the latest victim on Wednesday morning 5 June 2019. This was the third attack on a farm in three weeks in the region.

Jacobs acts as a farm manager for a company on a farm along the Witvlag road was attacked shortly before 11:00 by two men in his farmhouse.

“I was on my way to do some work but decided to get something to eat at home. I walked through the house and had barely sat in the kitchen for five seconds when I heard there were footsteps in the house” Jacobs said shortly after the attack.

After a while Jacobs decided to investigate, it was just where one of his attackers was waiting for him behind the door. The suspect grabbed him and pulled him closer. “He immediately started hitting,” Jacobs said, adding that he was still not sure which weapons they had with them. What is certain is that one attacker definitely had a knife with him. Jacobs sustained several cuts and some deep stab wounds on his arms and legs.

“I got fighting and hurt the one. The other one caught me off guard.” He hit Jacobs from behind with something over the head. “The next moment it was like a shocking feeling. I didn’t even see the other guy coming from behind.”

Fortunately for Jacobs, his attackers decided at that stage to flee. Although some of his laborers were near the house, none of them saw the attackers.

“I found myself on the floor and was very dizzy. I don’t even know how I got into the room where my cellphone was. There I could start calling for help.” It was one of the farm workers that was close to the house that heard his cries for help and came to his assistance.

Seventh Suspook Arrested for Involvement in Murder of Young White Man

Charles Martel
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

Kenneth Khesahn Altonia Harvey.

All eight of the people connected to this murder are various shades of ape, but the crime itself barely got a mention in the international news.

Methinks that wouldn’t be the case if eight whites brutally killed an angelic dindu in his home.

WHNT:

Madison police say they’re seeking extradition from Florida for the seventh of eight suspects in a May murder.

Kenneth Khesahn Altonia Harvey was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., Thursday morning by the U.S. Marshals Fugitive Task Force, police said.

Madison police have warrants for murder and burglary against Harvey, who is the last suspect sought in the May 9 murder of Luke Robert Pratt.

Pratt was killed at a home on Skyline Road during what police said was an attempt to rob and steal drugs.

...

Hunter Moore and Austin Holmes are charged with capital murder for Pratt’s death. Logan Cypret, Hunter Dubois, Kenneth Harvey, Caeleb Kegley, Lucas Kemp and Barry Watts are also charged with murder. Logan Cypret has not yet turned himself in to police.

Police had said they believed Harvey was hiding in Florida, and that he saw Jacksonville Beach police take Lucas Kemp into custody on a beach there and left the area.

Luke Robert Pratt.

Society

Turns Out You Can be Jacked as a Vegan – The One Weird Trick is to Inject Deca in Your Ass Three Times a Week

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 14, 2019

Fucking Reddit Soy Defense Force.

Yes, you absolute twat. You can totally, 100%, without question, be a vegan and be jacked if you are on steroids. And there is a zero percent chance that guy is not on steroids.

This whole steroids thing is so fucking disgusting. I'm so sick of it.

What I am sick of is not that people take steroids. I've started to become really weary of that concept in general, because of the emotional breakdowns that people have, and the fact that so many of them fuck trannies. But you know, some people's bodies are just all fucked up from their parents feeding them terrible food as kids, and it's hard to get pussy out there, so I can understand why people do it...

JUST DON'T FUCKING LIE ABOUT IT.

I read niggers' whiny emails sometimes. Not leftist emails (all they do is talk about my penis). But ostensibly right-wing haters who send me their complaints. I think it's important to be open to criticism, even if it is just hate, because it is too easy as a popular internet persona to get into a bubble of praise and lose the ability to self-reflect. So if I get hate from a right-winger, I set the email address to forward to a folder where I can just go through and skim the latest messages. So as to keep myself humble.

A while back I wrote an article about steroid use among actors. In current year, that's basically 100% of 30-50-year-old male Hollywood sex symbols, save Brad Pitt.

And some nigger literally emailed me and told me that none of these actors are on steroids, and I was insulting the white Aryan form by saying that.

Just try to understand this.

There are people so disconnected from the health and fitness world, that they believe you can go from this:

To this:

In 9 months by eating lean chicken breast and doing fucking CrossFit.

Firstly, if you pop your pecks out like that, you have to be a professional lifter and you have to have been doing it for 5+ years. There is simply no possible way to do that naturally in a couple of months, and most people don't get that kind of chest development in their entire life.

Let's look at some of these "amazing transformations" again—note that there are 18 months or fewer between all these "amazing transformations":

I mean, I get that most people aren't really into the health and fitness scene, and just have no idea what the fuck they're talking about.

But this is the biggest hoax since the Holocaust.

And it hurts young guys. How many of them go to the gym and see these steroid guys and compare themselves to them, then just give up?

I remember as a teenager reading my favorite creative nonfiction writers, and then writing short stories and essays trying to copy their style, and seeing how low I was in comparison. But I knew: these are real people, they are older than me, they have worked at it, if I work at it and don't give up, I might never be Hunter S. Thompson or Tom Wolfe, but I'll steadily get better and develop a style that people enjoy reading.

But with steroids, there is literally no way you can ever hope to compare. The absolute best professional bodybuilders are barely on the same level as guys who do a six month cycle.

And if I'm honest here, it's personally frustrating as well. For my relative strength, I'm in the 5th percentile of guys who go to the gym regularly and don't do drugs. I can squat 2.2x bodyweight. That should be insane. People should be standing around clapping for me at the gym. Instead, it's just meh, because steroid guys are in there squatting 200kg like it's nothing.

I think guys that do steroids should have to get a small tattoo on their face, marking them for what they are.

But seriously.

We have the information now. It's all on YouTube about how fake this shit is.

Basically, all of the popular natty YouTubers selling supplements and telling kids they will make them into Chris Evans are drug-fueled scam artists messing with the heads of teenagers.

Kenobody, a popular natural bodybuilder on YouTube who actually SHOWS HIS TEST RESULTS, has been calling out all the fake nattys, demanding that if they're going to claim they're natural, they should do regular testing. Not a single one of these conmen has agreed to it.

Kenobody is literally the only guy on YouTube who I believe is actually natural.

He looks fantastic—but that is the result of FIVE REAL LIFE YEARS of being a PROFESSIONAL LEVEL BODYBUILDER. This is not “pop in for an hour three times a week” shit. And it sure as hell isn't “lean chicken breast and CrossFit.”

And yet, does his chest pop like Chris Evans, a Hollywood actor who looked like complete and utter shit a few years ago? Do his abs pop like Jake Gyllenhaal's in that boxing movie?

Are his biceps the size of Reddit soy patrol's “vegan bodybuilder”?

No, no, no.

This is all BULLSHIT.

Make them get the face tattoos.

That would certainly put to rest the absolute retard-tier shit of “vegan bodybuilders,” which scams people into believing you can be both healthy and a vegan, which is a dastardly lie from the pit of hell.

This is what a natty vegan looks like:

Like he has fucking GRIDS.

Survey Shows That Over Half of Women Reported Being Sabotaged by Other Women at Work

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

Your average female in the modern day workplace.

The whole concept of having women in the workplace is a sick joke. The average modern day career woman is not good at her job. They only have their jobs because of Jewish affirmative action policies that forced employers to hire women. Worse yet is how employers have been forced to promote women into managerial positions they didn't deserve so they aren't sued for discrimination.

The government forcing private companies to hire women is a kind of tax. They are forcing these companies to subsidize these women's lives. If a true meritocracy were in place, none of these women would be employed, because men would be doing all of their jobs. That's because your average man is always better than your average woman at performing and completing tasks.

Most working women today will either manage other people's work or find a way to get men to do their work for them. They will also create all sorts of pointless drama and gossip about useless nonsense. Some will fuck their male bosses in order to gain favored status. All of this bullshit caused by working women greatly decreases the overall productivity of any organization.

A recent survey has revealed just how toxic women are inside the workplace. What's notable is how toxic they are to other women.

Daily Mail:

Imagine turning up to work every day knowing the person sitting opposite you is doing everything in their power to push you out of your job.

That was the shocking reality for Naomi Joy, a 30-year-old former PR director from London, who witnessed and experienced 'toxic femininity' throughout her career.

She reveals one female colleague in her thirties once declared everyone in the office 'hated her', while another tricked her into making a mistake so that she would be favourite for a promotion.

It eventually led to Naomi quitting her job and penning The Liars, a psychological thriller about two rivals competing for a promotion, inspired by her own shocking experience.

While researching her book, she conducted a survey of 1,000 employed British women and found more than half claimed to have been sabotaged at work by another member of the so-called sisterhood, while more than a third (37 per cent) said they'd actually felt scared or threatened by a female colleague.

Wow, imagine that.

Women are being regularly sabotaged and threatened by their female colleagues.

So much for women supporting other women in the workplace. That concept is a fantasy created by radical feminists like Sheryl Sandberg, who have been brainwashing women into thinking that they can all become highly paid corporate executives.

The Jewish Facebook executive Sheryl Sandberg has been one of the most prominent public figures who have been conning young women into believing that they can only be happy if they have some bullshit "career."

The results of this survey should not be a surprise to anybody who understands the fundamental realities of female nature. Women are constantly competing with other women in order to acquire resources from men. Specifically, older women view younger, more attractive women as threats to them obtaining these resources. That's why we see this type of crazy dynamic between females in the modern day workplace.

It's also worth mentioning that the presence of women is an unnecessary and unwelcome distraction for men who are trying to get actual work done. Their presence has introduced weird nonsense like "sexual harassment" into the societal lexicon. Women can even get men fired from their jobs by making up false "sexual harassment" or "rape" claims. Women have basically turned the modern day workplace into a clown show.

Companies could eliminate "sexual harassment" if they only hired men.

There is simply no logical reason why women should be in the workplace. Being a so-called "independent career woman" does not bring women happiness. This survey proves conclusively that women are generally unhappy in the workplace. If women were truly happy working some dumb corporate slave job, they would not be sabotaging and threatening their female co-workers like this. It shows that many of these women are miserable working a 9-to-5 job and hate their life. They even try to spread their misery to others.

Unfortunately, many millennial women have been totally conned by Jewish feminism. They've been convinced to trade their peak fertility years when they should be starting a family to instead start a "career." They are condemning themselves to a life of misery by doing this. That's because women only have a small window of time to attract a quality man before they hit the proverbial wall. The fact that women can't see how dumb of a choice this is, proves that they are incapable of logical decision making.

This survey shows that it is time to ban women from the workplace entirely. Prohibiting them from pursuing a “career” would go a long way towards increasing the happiness of women and increasing the overall work productivity of men.

Women’s Weak Spot Revealed: Woman Sues Gynecologist Because of Alleged Sexual Touching

Pomidor Quixote
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

When the pussy doctor touches a pussy.

This kind of lawsuit reveals a lot about women.

AP:

A woman who claims she was sexually assaulted by a gynecologist who worked for the University of California, Los Angeles, has sued the university’s regents, the doctor and 20 other parties.

A lawsuit filed Tuesday in Los Angeles Superior Court says Dr. James Heaps inappropriately touched her genitals, breast and buttock at his office in 2017 while having her intrauterine device removed. She also claims he made inappropriate sexual comments.

The woman has suffered “tremendous and lasting harm,” the lawsuit states.

Heaps, 62, is criminally charged with two counts of sexual battery by fraud and pleaded not guilty on Monday. The woman’s attorney, Jennifer McGrath, confirmed her client is one of two unidentified women cited as victims in that case.

...

Heaps has denied any wrongdoing. His attorney, Tracy Green, called the lawsuit “completely exaggerated” and said his exams were always thorough and some patients may have misunderstood that his touching was for a medical purpose.

“Someone doesn’t practice for 30 years and all of a sudden change their approach,” she said.

The lawsuit also alleges the state medical board investigated a 2014 complaint against Heaps involving another possible victim; Green said that case was closed with no finding of wrongdoing.

...

Ann Fromholz, a Pasadena-based employment lawyer who has conducted hundreds of workplace investigations, said UCLA may have violated state and federal employment law, as well as its own sexual violence reporting policies, when it failed to act on two of the four complaints against Heaps.

“It doesn’t make any sense why they didn’t go further,” she said.

She also said campus officials should have alerted the community to allegations sooner to seek out additional victims and protect others.

UCLA Health has apologized for its response to the accusations.

The scandal comes in the wake of hundreds of accusations of sexual abuse by the nearby University of Southern California’s longtime staff gynecologist, who has not been criminally charged.

Heaps’ attorney said it’s “irresponsible” to compare the two.

In the lawsuit, the woman claims another UCLA gynecologist referred her to Heaps. Her first appointment, where her family was present, went smoothly.

At her second appointment, she alleges Heaps groped her and fondled “without medical justification” her even as a female nurse was present. Her family was not there.

“She really was fearful while the incident was occurring,” McGrath said.

There you have it.

Grabbing women by the pussy is the ultimate THOT-patrolling, INSTANT WIN move. These strong and independent women are paralyzed and scared the moment someone grabs their privates.

They can’t defend themselves.

They can’t say no.

They can’t ask you to stop.

They don’t know how to react.

They just stay still in absolute shock and terror while you fondle their genitals.

So much for bashing the patriarchy.

See, when naked screaming banshees demand the blood of the patriarchy, the patriarchy can literally just grab them by the pussy to disarm them and they’ll just get petrified.

No need for violence, no need to arrest them. No need to drag them anywhere.

Push their clitoris button and they’ll turn themselves off, just like that.

For some reason, they can’t deal with the pussy grabbing while they’re being pussy-grabbed, so they wait until the pussy grabbing ends and then they complain to someone else, because obviously they won't confront the pussy grabbers lest they get their pussies grabbed again.

There's been another recent, similar case that shows this dynamic in a more blatant way.

In Argentina, a woman went to see a traumatologist because her knees were hurting, and the doctor finger-banged her for at least half an hour.

She told Cronica that the doctor asked her to undress, gave her a back massage and then, out of the blue, he put his finger in her vagina.

What did she do?

Nothing.

She was "shocked, unable to react."

The doctor then allegedly kept his finger inside of her for at least half an hour and engaged in "masturbatory" movements. To express her discomfort, the woman decided to move her body multiple times while she tried to "gather the strength to say something." She says that the doctor may have realized she wasn't comfortable with that because he asked if he was hurting her but she says she couldn't answer and that she was absolutely still and quiet.

The woman says that the whole thing stopped because the doctor's phone rang and she took the chance to get dressed and leave...after at least a half-hour of massages and finger-banging.

Once we regain control over our countries, we won't need to use any kind of physical violence to get women in line.

We'll just go around grabbing the uppity ones by the pussy.

They'll just stand there making this face as they lose control over their bodies.

Hero Keanu Refuses to Touch Women in Photos So These Whores Don't Kike Him

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 12, 2019

Keanu Reeves, the heroic actor who has never been in a bad film and who will next year be in the best video game, is smart enough to know that these whores are all trying to kike him.

It's been noted that Keanu is keeping his hands off the dumb bitches who want to take pictures with him.

Lol Keanu ain't taking no chances.
pic.twitter.com/nnfIOZKbT1

— Kemoy Lindsay (@KemziLinzi) June 9, 2019

This is smart, smart, smart.

These filthy stinking mange-dogs we call "women" are always looking for a way to kike any man they can find—unless that man is a tranny, then they want to help him to kike others.

I don't even know what to say. I don't know what to advise. It really is as bad out there as I joke that it is. Truly. There is no escaping the wrath of these vicious fem-rats.

The only solution is to take over the government after the Chinese nuke us and install a racist sex-slavery-based state run by robots.

Then we'll just be able to hang out with our friends, go to the gym and play video games all day.

But first, we need someone to convince China to nuke us.

4D chess, motherfucker.

I've been playing it this whole time.

Wake the fuck up, samurai.

We have a city to burn.

Colorado: Christian Baker Sued for Third Time After Refusing to Bake Penis Cut-Off Cake

Daily Stormer

June 12, 2019

One would have assumed that after Jack Phillips refused to bake a cake for a gay wedding and the Supreme Court ruled in his favor, the faggot community would stop trying to buy cakes to support the business of such a bigot.

But one would underestimate the psychosis of transgenders.

Daily Mail:

A Christian baker in Colorado is being sued for the third time after allegedly refusing to make a cake to celebrate a gender transition.

Jack Phillips, who owns the Masterpiece Cakeshop in Lakewood, has previously made national headlines for refusing to bake cakes that are against his Christian faith.

He is now the subject of his third lawsuit after transgender woman Autumn Scardina filed a court documents last week accusing him of refusing to make her gender transition cake.

It comes after the Supreme Court ruled in the baker's favor last year after he was sued for refusing to make a wedding cake for a same-sex couple.

"Autumn Scardina" was born with a penis.

Scardina, the transgender woman who filed the recent lawsuit against the baker, placed the order for a cake celebrating her gender transition on the day the Supreme Court handed down its decision.

She filed a lawsuit after that order was declined but the suit was dismissed.

The lawsuit she filed last week is her second attempt at suing Phillips for what she says is discrimination and unfair trade practices.

'Masterpiece Cakeshop said before the Supreme Court they would serve any baked good to members of the LGBTQ community. It was just the religious significance of it being a wedding cake,' her attorney Paula Griesen said.

'We don't believe they've been honest with the public.'

The lawsuit filed by Scardina claims that Phillips and Masterpiece Cakeshop had confirmed they would happily make the exact same cake requested by her for other customers.

It's a tricky situation.

If the baker really did say that he'd serve baked good to LGBTQ degenerates then he was pretty much asking for some random tranny to put its insanity on display in front of him.

It would be better if people could just straight-out say that interacting with LGBTQ "people" (beyond the practice of throwing them off of rooftops) goes against their religion or whatever.

Works for MOSLEMS, apparently.

Trannies are not harassing their cake shops.

Justin Bieber Challenges Tom Cruise to MMA Fight, Conor McGregor Wants to Host It

Pomidor Quixote

Daily Stormer

June 11, 2019

I wanna challenge Tom Cruise to fight in the octagon. Tom if you dont take this fight your scared and you will never live it down. Who is willing to put on the fight? @danawhite ?

— Justin Bieber (@justinbieber) June 10, 2019

Backup here and here in case he deletes the tweet.

This is a totally unexpected but totally welcomed development that made me realize that I really want to see Tom Cruise wrestling Justin Bieber into submission.

Business Insider:

Justin Bieber started a whirlwind of confusion on Sunday night when he tweeted his desire to fight Tom Cruise in the UFC octagon.

“I wanna challenge Tom Cruise to a fight in the octagon,” Bieber wrote. “Tom if you dont take this fight your scared and you will never live it down.”

Bieber tagged the UFC’s president, Dana White, asking if he’d be willing to put on the fight.

On Twitter, fans didn’t know what to make of Bieber’s challenge.

Some thought his account got hacked, others thought he was just having a laugh, and more still simply wanted to correct Bieber’s grammar.

But many seemed to agree that Cruise, who is 31 years Bieber’s senior, was an odd man to challenge with such vigor.

why are you asking to fight tom cruise what is happening

– carys (@daenerysbieber) June 10, 2019

Tom Cruise was an all state wrestler in high school and has been training for over thirty years...

You can’t eat a burrito correctly...

Sit down Biebs.

– Tony Posnanski (@tonyposnanski) June 10, 2019

We don’t like your odds, Justin.

– Odds Shark (@OddsShark) June 10, 2019

While fans were confused by Bieber’s bizarre proposal, the UFC star Conor McGregor was quick to volunteer his services to jump onto the celebrity fight card, saying that he’d challenge Mark Wahlberg to a bout on the same night.

I challenge Mark Wahlberg on the very same card.

Back when mark wahlberg was marky mark, I’d’ve still slapped the ears off him and took my ufc shares back.#Shares #Streams #Dazn #Espn

McGregor Sports and Entertainment

– Conor McGregor (@TheNotoriousMMA) June 10, 2019

He also offered to host Justin Bieber and Tom Cruise’s fight.

If Tom Cruise is man enough to accept this challenge, McGregor Sports and Entertainment will host the bout.

Does Cruise have the sprouts to fight, like he does in the movies?

Stay tuned to find out! <https://t.co/TxsH9KUyFg>

– Conor McGregor (@TheNotoriousMMA) June 10, 2019

This may be how Conor McGregor redeems himself after letting a nigger publicly humiliate him for money. Hosting a fight between Justin Bieber and Tom Cruise is enough fix that.

To make everything even better, we have to make this into a Mortal Kombat kind of scenario.

yooo, Justin Bieber thinks you can just come straight at Tom Cruise?? lmaoo nah, dogg – you gotta battle through the ENTIRE Temple of Scientology, clearing each floor, and defeating all the underbosses first.

Then – if you LIVE –THEN you get your shot at the King.

dumbass. pic.twitter.com/E2jrN5yknq

– The Warax. □ (@iAmTheWarax) June 10, 2019

All fights should be to the death and the Mortal Kombat theme will play every time the fighters arrive at the octagon.

Video Link

This really would make the world a better place, which is what Justin wants. His Twitter profile bio is literally “Let’s make the world better.”

Tom Cruise has always kept himself fit all throughout his life and loves to do his own stunts while filming.

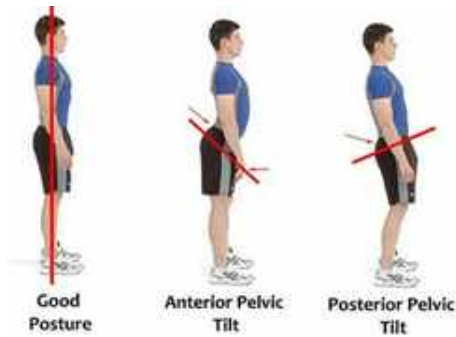

Justina, on the other hand, has wide child-bearing hips, bloating, and ugly tattoos.

She also has anterior pelvic tilt, which signals weak muscles and little mobility.

But she has youth...kinda.

It doesn't really matter if these upcoming Mortal Kombat celebrity fights are fair or not. What matters is that now that the idea is out there, the fights should happen.

Even if they attempt to resist or bury this idea, we won't forget that it was on the table at least for a moment.

There is no stopping the real-life Celebrity Deathmatch now.

Vietnam Disciplines Stupid Bitch Who Went to Cannes and Acted Like an Ultra-Whore

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 10, 2019

WHORE! SHAME! SHAME! YOU BRING SHAME TO VIETNAM!

I often say how astonishing it is that African countries are more civilized than white countries, what with their intolerance for the anal behaviors of GRIDS faggots.

But if you start comparing white countries to Asian countries...you just feel humiliated.

They don't even tolerate hoers whoring it up in other countries!

Page Six:

They're seeing red in Vietnam over a daring model's sparse sparkles.

Fashion designer Ngoc Trinh, 29, who showed up to Cannes last month in a glittering dress that barely concealed her intimate areas, is facing a fine in her home country after the eye-popping outfit caused outrage.

The form-fitting dress consisted of sheer material in a halter top which left Trinh's nipples exposed. A shimmering string wove through the material, and a beaded skirt with a double thigh split left her rear end mostly uncovered.

The dress, which Trinh paired with spiky black heels, was "improper, offensive and has caused public outrage," fumed Nguyen Ngoc Thien, Vietnam's Minister of Culture, Sports and Tourism, according to a report.

The country has imposed penalties on folks who fail to cover up in public, but Trinh's showing of so much skin has prompted calls from seething officials to change laws.

"She is not an artist that the ministry sent to the event. Her outfit was improper, offensive and has caused public outrage," Thien told legislators at the National Assembly session in Hanoi, according to the Vietnam Express.

The appropriate thing would be to sentence her to a gang-rape as punishment for this whorishness.

But the fact that they're doing anything at all shows that they are so, so much more civilized than our own shit-hole countries, which allow whores to run roughshod over the entire society.

We would do well to look to both Africa and Asia to improve the morals of our rapidly decaying society.

Dr. Pepper Produces Neat Man-on-Man Anal Advertisement

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

June 10, 2019

So this is a Dr. Pepper soda ad where the soda can is used to represent positions of man-on-man anal sodomy.

Dr. Pepper—straight up your ass!

The number one soda pop to shove into your anus!

Faggots are great consumers, that's for certain. So it makes sense that multinational corporations court them. But is everything going to get this pornographic?

I'm predicting that yes, everything is going to get this pornographic.

At least Dr. Pepper hasn't gone full Dr. Pizza.

Not yet, at least.

Insight

Wartime Production Levels in Peacetime with This One Weird Trick That Destroys the Human Soul

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
June 13, 2019

People like to talk about all kinds of “isms”—conservatism, liberalism, capitalism, communism, multiculturalism, Islamism, globalism, etc.

In reality, there is only one ism that is relevant to our age: consumerism.

Both as an ideology and as an applied science, consumerism is the idea that human beings exist to produce and consume products in an endless cycle of pleasure-pain exchange. It is a complete image of man’s purpose in the universe, and it works on all people.

For all of mankind’s existence in the universe, we viewed ourselves mainly as divine beings, with a relationship to God, with the purpose of our existence consisting of two things:

- Relationships with other human beings: family, friends, spouses, children. There was some pursuit of art and of entertainment, as well as some pursuits of spiritual enlightenment, but all of that revolved around strengthening human relationships.

- Overcoming adversity: a man needs challenges in order to be fulfilled.

Before the dawn of the industrial age, 99% of men had a job either:

- Hunting or
- Farming

And women’s only job was cooking, keeping house and raising children.

Most generations also fought a war, as this kind of violence is hardwired into men. It’s an evolutionary instinct to ensure the survival of the fittest in a universe of limited resources.

Our goals were not to collect and consume trivial plastic objects, clothing, electronics, entertainment media, vacations, dining experiences, etc., because these things did not exist, and no one could imagine them existing.

It’s a New Era

Industrial society made consumerism possible, because it made unlimited resource production possible.

After WWII, we had a situation where those in power had seen the ability of people to use industrial machinery to produce goods on a scale wildly beyond anything in all of history. And so when the war ended, the concept of advertisement—which had come out of the field of psychology, through Sigmund Freud’s nephew Edward Bernays—was deployed against the population on a mass scale.

People could be put to work in order to create products to sell to each other. They would produce more product so they could consume more product.

Television was the glue that binds. As I recently heard the bizarre but sometimes insightful comic book writer Alan Moore say in an interview, once “I Love Lucy” was put on TV, everyone was seeing a people with a family home that was much nicer than their own family home, seeing people who were much more fashionable than they were, and seeing people who were using appliances that they did not have.

Then, during the advertising breaks, people were told where to buy these products to make their lives better.

So people went to work to create these products. So they could buy these products.

Thus Western society, and eventually the entire world, entered into a compulsive loop.

Now, everything is a product. Our entire existence revolves around the production-consumption process. We have built a pathological system that uses us for its own purposes, as we increasingly become isolated and atomized, divorced from our own humanity.

We're All in This System—And It is In Us

We all know of the ultimate product-consumer, which is the bugman, who watches all of this media and lines his home with sometimes very expensive trinkets that are advertised by this media.

The reverse of this is the heroin addict, whose existence is based entirely on the consumption of a single product. He is generally either too dumb, too emotionally ruined or too disadvantaged by other circumstance to get into Rat Park. He steals to fuel his consumption, but someone paid for the things he steals, so the product-consumer loop is closed by him as well.

Those are the most extreme cases, and all normal people look at them with horror and disdain.

But we are all in this.

All of these things are marketed products:

- Houses
- Apartments
- Everything in your house or apartment
- Entertainment media
- Newsmedia
- Music
- Cars
- Appliances
- Consumer electronics
- University studies
- Furniture
- Restaurants

White men consume much less of this than other groups, which is one of the main reasons they are being targeted by this system.

But we still consume a lot of product, particularly those that simulate masculinity and which aid attempts to have sex—and the sex itself, or at least the pursuit of it, is a consumer product.

We:

- Play video games
- Engage the sports industrial complex
- Engage in fashion
- Go to the gym
- Go to trendy bars or clubs
- Use grooming products
- Buy cars
- Employ diet advice
- Travel internationally
- Engage with online applications to communicate with women
- Put on facades of what we are told it is that men should be by advertising

Obviously, most of this stuff I've listed is currently necessary to simply exist in a modern society. And obviously, not all of it is intrinsically negative.

The Ride Never Ends

The fundamental problem with this system is that men are not actually directing it. It is self-propelled by the profit motive and advertising technology, and anything that can be created and sold will be created and sold.

The more that this system damages our ability to experience real life, the more product we desire to consume.

We have entered into a downward spiral.

There are no checks or balances on any of it.

A real critique of consumerism is more difficult than a critique of any other Jewish invention, because there is virtually no one outside of this spiral, and anyone who is isn't interested in telling other people about it.

There was this one guy who tried it.

But nobody listened to him.

Even whilst he was speaking in the one language that this system might be capable of understanding.

What is incredible about this system is that it is completely impossible to get out of once you are in it. And a society can't not be in this. You cannot run a modern economy without using this system, meaning that you do not have an ability to exist as a nation without it.

You will be hunted down and forced to consume.

A Universal and Unstoppable Force

The fact that advertisement works on all humans means that it is a temptation that cannot ever be escaped once it is presented.

It is a forbidden fruit that no one realizes is a forbidden fruit, because the product itself doesn't necessarily violate the laws of any moral system other than asceticism, which has never been a mainstream ideology in any society (other than certain communist societies, ironically enough).

Everyone on earth will become interchangeable units in the Infernal Pleasure Machine, existing for no other reason than to feed the machine.

Why?

There is simply no way to understand anything about reality or the human experience without first asking: why do we exist?

As stated above, it is my assertion that the reason has always been the same: as a species, we exist in order to connect with other people and to reproduce. But there are very large differences in the gender roles.

Men are producers.

Men exist in order to work with other men in their in-group to fight and overcome adversity, to protect and care for women and children, so that the species may continue. Men get emotional rewards from providing for and protecting the community from enemies. Men want to get together, to form hierarchies and to accomplish goals. Group productivity, and mutual group approval based on the contributions of individuals to the group effort, is peak male socialization.

If it were possible to create a meaningful critique of masculinity, it would be based on the idea that men seek out adversity and even create conflict in order to overcome it. However, my rebuttal to that would simply be that such behavior

As people become less and less connected to one another, they lose their sense of self. This in fact leads to the construction of an identity based upon consumer habits. That is from whence the left in particular draws their concept of "individualism"—it is defined by consumer behavior patterns.

Uh oh! Here come the individualists!

Because of this, consumerism is a system that can and will overcome and overpower any existing system, without anyone having to make a religious conversion or an evident ideological shift.

It happens without anyone even knowing what is happening.

Saudi Arabia is an Islamic country that still observes religious law from the Middle Ages. It is also a country with gigantic shopping malls everywhere, where people go to purchase product to consume.

But there is no qualitative difference between the identities of people who consume products exclusively for the sake of pleasure. You end up with a universal identity based around object hedonism.

Eventually, all product will appeal to all people. The product will be perfected and the product will mold the people into what it wants the people to be.

is fulfilling the meaning of human existence, and thus fundamentally cannot be critiqued.

The most popular video games are masculinity simulators.

Men need some form of meaningful work. Farming is less meaningful than hunting, while factory work is almost completely devoid of meaning. Modern work is varying degrees of meaninglessness, but the cubicle is arguably worse than the factory.

So those of us who still maintain a masculine soul dream of old times.

Of coming together with our brothers in the name of blood and glory.

Conversely, women have always been consumers.

And this consumer society is a paradise for them.

They do not create.

They are given food by men. They are given shelter by men. They are given clothing by men.

They are empty vessels to be filled with the things that men produce.

Even the sex act itself is a man giving something to a woman to consume. If you've ever had sex (or viewed a pornographic video), you are aware that the woman receives much more pleasure from the act than the man. And the man is inserting a part of himself into the woman to give her this pleasure. He is the one thrusting up and down, doing the work to please her.

The ultimate gift to the woman is the child itself, which the man has inserted into the woman, that she may find pleasure in it.

And those children then grow up to serve her.

Of course now, there are much better products than children for a woman to consume. And men have bred small dogs for her to mitigate that particular biological instinct.

And this is key: whereas men seek out conflict, because it is inside of conflict that we are the most productive, women seek to defuse conflict, as it could interrupt their consumption. This is why women and feminine men argue for an open borders world where everyone "just gets along." (The exception is when the conflict involves men competing for her approval, but this is low stakes and petty.)

This is where you will find an explanation as to why every single multinational corporation is shoving homosexuality down your throat.

Homosexuals are the perfect producer-consumer. They have the production nature of men combined with the consumer nature of women.

Homosexuals are the product of the technological consumerist system.

Apology and Critique are Equally Devoid of Inherent Meaning

Although it is difficult from our current vantage point, we can probably vaguely envision a technological society where man's drive to overcome adversity is expressed in a more meaningful way than being a corporate ladder-climber, a pickup artist, a video game enthusiast, a pathological toy collector.

But there is no discussion of that. Instead, we have equally meaningless defenses and attacks on consumerist society.

The apology for consumerism is always that our lives are "easier" due to the abundance of product. This apologist has unfortunately forgotten to include the meaning of human existence in his apology.

The critique is almost always an economic one, and this is entirely useless. The consumerist system is an economic problem only insofar as getting shot in head is a lead problem. Economics were necessary for the creation of the situation, just as lead was necessary for the creation of the situation of a bullet going through your skull, but you do not solve a hole in your head by deconstructing or condemning the nature of the chemical element of lead.

Left-wing communists do not actually criticize the consumption of product, they simply claim that everyone should have the product. Of course, this isn't actually a critique of consumerism, because the goal of consumerism is for everyone to consume the product. The entire Chomskyite critique has more or less been completely abandoned by left-wing communists. In actual fact, left-wing communism has stopped being coherent, because as far as anyone can gather, they appear to be demanding what already exists.

Right-wing communists (Stalinists/Tankies) may be able to offer a meaningful critique from an ostensibly economic perspective, but they would ultimately be talking about a complete reshaping of the fundamental structure of human society, and more or less lying about idea that it is an economic issue. Further, though the critique may hold water, arguing the positive defense for an authoritarian communist system is difficult on a number of levels. Firstly, people don't really want to live under such a system and so there is no path to establishing it. Secondly, such a state would not be competitive internationally, and would thus be crushed by consumer-driven nations, in the same way that the last existing communist holdouts of North Korea and Cuba will ultimately be crushed. We are reminded of the fact that the Amish are only able to enjoy their anti-consumerist lifestyle because they are living in territory protected by the US military.

This is an existential crisis of spirit and being in the universe.

But any religious critique is neutered by factors inherent to the system. Religion has become a consumer product, and a product which critiques itself is a bad product. Further, as stated above, consumption is not itself a sin, so the point at which a religious critique would begin is unclear.

Ultimately, the difficulty in forming a real critique of the consumerist system is that we exist inside of it. It is who we all are. So imagining anything outside of it is like imagining being a fish or a bird. Even if we were allowed to look at the Soviet Union or Nazi Germany, that is at this point not much different than looking at ancient Rome.

Only One Exit

There is no way to right this course.

A guy tried to right the course, back when you still could have done so. It was before things really picked up steam, but during a time when visionaries warning of the world to come if the technological society was left to its own devices and not protected by a prescriptive ideology positively identifying man's role in the universe.

That didn't work out.

I will not put myself alongside Julius Evola or the others who gave warnings 100 years ago about our current situation, as I'm not really offering anything new here, but I will tell you that I have seen the future.

We are headed directly for a dystopian hellscape, where digital advertisement is pumped directly into your brain, and every human on earth is a perfect input-output device to be used by this system that exists outside of us as a kind of satanic soul-trap.

At this point, the system has to fail.

So basically, the bottom line is this:

Wake the fuck up, Samurai.

We have a city to burn.

Memetic Tuesday: Clown World Order

Joe Isolated
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

At this point if a clown invited me into the woods I'd just go.

Heh heh, what's wrong Nazis? Can't handle a little milkshake?

Its perfectly legal nonviolence you Nazi babies.

THAT CIS WHITE MALE CALLED ME THE WRONG PRONOUN!

THIS IS LITERALLY TRANSPHOBIC VIOLENCE!

I'LL SEE YOU IN COURT!

When 9/11 gets a day of mourning while gays get a whole month because homosexuality is a bigger tragedy

GOVERNMENT CONFIRMS COMPULSORY SEX ED FOR YOUNG CHILDREN WILL INCLUDE TRANSGENDER ISSUES

Number of children being referred to gender identity clinics has quadrupled in five years

What I've learnt from my 5-year-old transgender daughter

K-12 Schools Bringing in Drag Queens to Teach Gender Ideology

ten-year-old drag kid from New York

It's Monday...or whatever day it is...and the faggots are out in full force.

We're supposed to all be like, "Wow, you do man-on-man buttsex and/or unshaven armpit-enhanced carpet-munching?!? You are so brave and stunning and represent a glorious image of this nation's bright and vibrant future!"

However, there are a number of people saying: "Oh, right. The faggots. Again."

Count me among the latter.

The "What Goes on in the Bedroom is Nobody's Business" people are being heavily supported by the "What Goes on in the Bedroom is My Business, Goyim" people.

You will be told to tolerate it, but that will never be enough.

Burn the 🇺🇸 = "Protester"

Protesters burn American flags outside Trump's New York hotel (h/t: @KarlTaha)

Burn the 🏳️ = "Arsonist"

Arsonist burns gay pride flag outside New York bar on first day of Pride Month (h/t: @KarlTaha)

Institut für Sexualwissenschaft - Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Institut_für_Sexualwissenschaft
Jump to: Nazi era - A few days later, the institute's library and archives were publicly trashed out and burned in the streets of the Opernplatz. Around 20,000
Origins and purpose - Transgender pioneers - After World War II - References

The Institute of Sex Research was opened in 1919 by Magnus Hirschfeld. Magnus Hirschfeld coined the term transsexualism.⁽⁶⁾ Institute's library and archives were publicly burned in the streets

Transgender pioneers

Early life (1871) Hirschfeld was born in Kolberg (now Kołobrzeg, Poland), in an Ashkenazi Jewish family,

Ashkenazi Jewish

I'm not saying that everything always goes well in the normal (read: hetero) world, mind you.

Yes, I wholeheartedly endorse being straight; don't get me wrong.

I'm just an honest man and must be open about the caveats.

Be wary.

I would also say, "and good luck!" but the thing is: you make your own luck.

Do not count on other people to validate your existence.

People can be damned fickle, you know.

What's fully legal, however, is the diversity drug you take.

It's a recreational escapist drug that makes you feel groovy, then confuses you while you see aliens and die.

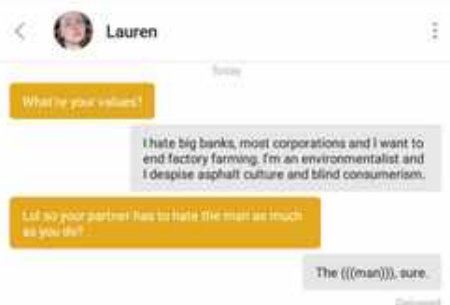

I only friend zoned you because you're too perfect.

..... That makes no sense.

Delivered

You'd make a better husband than boyfriend and I wanted to keep you around until the time was right. If we ever dated and broke up I'd hate to lose you forever.

All girls keep the good ones around until the time is right.

It's so vibrant, though.

There are also occasional outside elements at play.

And by "outside elements," I mean niggers.

They get a bad rep for pushing illicit substances, sure.

Report: Man strips naked after claiming to be a monkey outside 7-Eleven

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — A man in Daytona Beach called police from a 7-Eleven convenience store, and when an officer arrived at the scene, Clayton Holman, 26, would not explain why he called authorities, according to an arrest report.

The report states that Holman was taken outside and the officer asked him several questions, including "What's going on?", "Who are you?", "Where are you from?" He replied, "I don't know" to all of the questions, except one.

When the officer asked Holman, "What do you know?" he replied, "I know I'm a monkey." The officer then said Holman removed his clothing to prove to the officer he was a monkey and not human, since the officer stated that humans wear clothes.

Sponsored Links
 Russia - Athens - Bowtickets - Click Here
 Leave the '13 Carney $1800ms @ David Mace Toyler
 Get Engaged - Bar Hit Jeweled

Whites forced education down our throats, it's actually not our thing', Minister of Basic Education

Nearly 80% of South Africa's 9- or 10-year-olds cannot read and understand sentences in any language

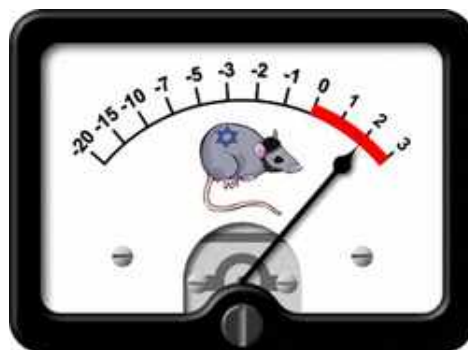

BEHOLD THE A.D.L.
 THE LETTERS MUST STAND FOR "ANTI-DEFECATION LEAGUE", BECAUSE THEY'RE EASILY THE MOST ANAL RETENTIVE PACK OF ASSHOLES ON THE ENTIRE PLANET EARTH ...

THEY THINK EVERYONE'S OUT TO GET 'EM ... TRUTH IS, NOBODY WANTS 'EM. SERIOUSLY ... GET A FRICKIN' LIFE, YOU WHINY KIKES !

YOUR "HEBREW LESSON" FOR TODAY :

It may seem as though I'm on the verge of launching into a scathing tirade.

That's not happening, though.

I'm just saying that we live in a world with faggots, niggers, kikes, and crazy bitches.

But you already knew that, so let's get the memes rolling.

Leading off with a digitally-remastered classic.

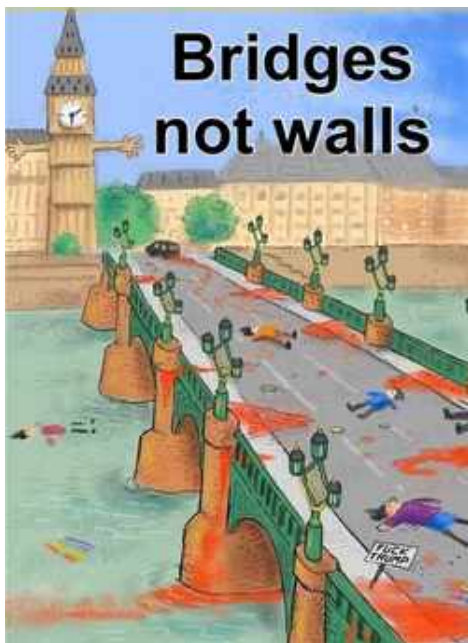

saira rao @sairasameerarao
 White people have done everything to make my life miserable. Yet I'm supposed to not hate white people?
 3:32 · 03 Jun 19 · Twitter for iPhone

John Hawkins @johnhawkinsrwn
 Replying to @sairasameerarao
 Oh my gosh! I was at the white people's meeting last week when your name came up and they were discussing our plans to make your life miserable. We were so afraid that you'd blame yourself for your own failings instead of us. It's so great to see that we're making a difference!
 6:49 am · 03 Jun 19 · Twitter Web Client

The golden ratio is everywhere you look. The World© is truly a beautiful place and unquestionably created by an Intelligent Designer™

When you've never even set foot in a factory, have no engineering or business background & can't put together flat-pack furniture but you want to 'seize the means of production.'

CBS News @CBSNews · 2m
Who are the 1 in 4 American women who have abortions? Stigma often keeps their stories from being told cbsn.ws/221GrKL

2 5 8

S M @StopBanningPls · 2m stigma baby in the trash lol

Marxist Memes
9 mins ·

Fascists are literally drawing mass murderers as anime girls and it actually makes me want to vomit.

3 5 Comments · 1 Share

Saudi Man or Yummy Jani

Help Amir find his friends

Melina Abdullah @DocMellyMel
Professor & Chair of Pan-African Studies at Cal State LA. #BlackLivesMatter organizer, Pan-Africanist, Hip Hop scholar, womanist, truth-teller, mama
Los Angeles, CA
blacklivesmatter.com

Melina Abdullah @DocMellyMel · May 12
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.
Don't call the police on Black people.

1.4K 430 1.1K

I threw up in the car and the Uber driver ate it all.
Excellent service ★★★★★

Google is Becoming the Real Life Version of Computer Zero from the 1975 Film Rollerball

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
June 11, 2019

Video Link

In the 1975 science fiction film Rollerball, all of human knowledge has been consolidated and put under the control of a centralized computer system known as Zero. When the main character, Jonathan E., seeks out information at a library about corporate decisions and the people who control society, he is informed that the information he seeks has been censored or classified. He is told that he must visit directly with Zero to get the information he wants.

When he visits Zero, he is informed that the system had been behaving erratically and that it had just deleted all information pertaining to the 13th century. And when he asks Zero about how corporate decisions are made, Zero responds by providing ambiguous answers while eventually responding to him by repeatedly saying "NEGATIVE."

When your country is so racist that billions of foreigners desperately want to immigrate there

And that's all for this week, frens.

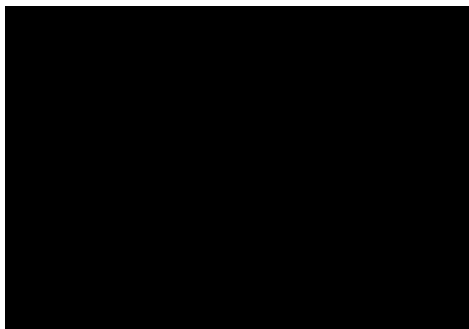

Have a good week while fighting the good fight.

To the Stormer BBS Bros who have created and contributed memes, I salute you.

Time for a break now.

See you next week.

Computer Zero deleted all historical knowledge pertaining to the 13th century. Google could have the power to do similar types of things if they continue unimpeded down this path.

What is depicted in this movie is not much different than what we are seeing manifest with Google in real life. Their algorithms are burying, hiding or censoring information that is inconvenient for the ruling Jewish establishment.

What just happened to Alex Jones and the Daily Mail are two good examples of this.

If you type “Alex Jones” into Google’s search engine, his Infowars website is now buried on the third page. No neutral algorithm would place his actual website on the third page. It’d be on the first page if not one of the first results listed.

The Daily Mail has also seen its traffic decline by 50 percent following a recent change in Google’s search algorithm.

These are not accidents. This is being done by design.

Google’s CEO Sundar Pichai was recently interviewed by some tranny named Ina Fried from Axios. He openly admitted in the interview that Google manipulates their search algorithm to bury what he says is “borderline content” in favor of “quality content.” He also said that they would be changing YouTube’s search algorithm to do the same thing.

Video Link

In other words, they are the ones acting as God and arbitrarily deciding what is “good content” versus “bad content.”

And as their search algorithms become increasingly more proficient at burying content, you can expect to get Rollerball-tier responses if you ask inconvenient questions.

Inconvenient questions such as these:

Do Jews control the media?

NEGATIVE

Is the Holocaust a Jewish hoax?

NEGATIVE

Was Israel involved in the 9/11 attacks?

NEGATIVE

Do Israel and AIPAC control American foreign policy?

NEGATIVE

Do Jews control Google’s parent company Alphabet?

NEGATIVE

Was Adolf Hitler right about the Jews?

NEGATIVE, NEGATIVE, NEGATIVE, NEGATIVE, NEGATIVE

You get the idea.

At some point, Google’s search engine will only return ambiguous answers or direct you to disinformation containing official Jewish narratives and propaganda. This will be especially true if you happen to ask the wrong questions.

YouTube is already doing this to a certain extent by automatically including Wikipedia links in videos that contain inconvenient information. You will see this if you go to a video that raises questions about the Jewish Holocaust hoax. Almost every video questioning the Holocaust has a Wikipedia link included under it insisting that six million Jews were really gassed in wooden shower rooms.

This type of thing is only going to get increasingly extreme. At some point, Google will function no differently than Computer Zero in Rollerball. It will prevent people from accessing any information that is unfavorable to the ruling Jewish establishment. This type of tyrannical technological system could even have the power to erase specific historical figures and events from the knowledge of men. The fact that this is happening is utterly insane and there is no serious attempt to stop it.

HOLY SHIT THIS CYBERPUNK 2077 CINEMATIC TRAILER

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

June 10, 2019

#ThotPatrol2077

E3 2019 has begun, and at the Xbox event on Sunday we got the trailer for Cyberpunk 2077.

Just watch this, man. Before reading any further, just watch it.

Video Link

There you have it.

Starring the single greatest actor of all time.

Well, we don't know if he's the star, but he's in it.

Keanu Reeves.

The single actor in all of history who has never been in a movie that wasn't good.

Here's the trailer plus his appearance at E3.

Video Link

The game's release date has been announced: April 16, 2020.

It's been a long time since I've played an action RPG—but I will be playing this one, I can tell you that.

The trailer is better than the trailer for any movie I've seen in years. Other than John Wick 3.

Because this game is not made by shitty American shitlibs and a bunch of anti-white Pakis. It is made by WHITE PEOPLE from POLAND.

Look at the size of their team:

100% ARYAN MASTER RACE.

Yes, there are niggers in the trailer—but they are the BAD GUYS.

Just like in REAL LIFE.

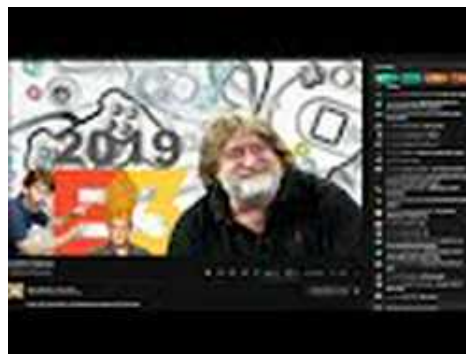

This is set to be the single best AND most popular video game of all time, and to finally prove the supremacy of the white race—that even whites from a shitty former-communist poverty country like Poland can create the greatest technological marvel to date simply because they will not be involved in the multicultural hellscene that is the modern Western world.

It feels great, man.

It really feels great.

We'll have further coverage of E3 this week.

Here's a Mister Metokur pre-event stream.

Video Link

Stormer, Volume 94

Weekly Staff

Daily Stormer

June 9, 2019

This is our weekly content digest!

Show your appreciation for the authors by helping preserve their work for posterity through the process of samizdat. Samizdat originates from the era of Soviet dissidents, who would have to manually copy anti-Communist literature by hand. In the era of digital computing, your job is not quite as hard as writing every word down. It's very simple: download this weekly edition, archive it on your local storage, reupload it to a different location than you found it, and share it from there. Four simple steps to helping preserve our work for the future! Encourage others to do the same.

- PDF: 137 pages, 4.3M (recommended for printing or desktop reading)
- ePub: 1032 pages, 3.9M (recommended for mobile devices and eBook readers)
- Build files: 12.8M (for inquisitive programmers and typesetters)